PART I

HISTORICAL

THE STATE

North Carolina, often called the "Tar Heel" state, was the scene of the first attempt to colonize America by English-speaking people. Under a charter granted to Sir Walter Raleigh by Queen Elizabeth, a colony was begun in the 1580's on Roanoke Island. This settlement, however, was unsuccessful and later became known as "The Lost Colony."

The first permanent settlement was made about 1650 by immigrants from Virginia. In 1663 Charles II granted to eight Lords Proprietors a charter for the territory lying "within six and thirty degrees of the northern latitude, and to the west as far as the south seas, and so southerly as far as the River St. Mattias, which bordereth upon the coast of Florida, and within one and thirty degrees of northern latitude, and so west in a direct line as far as the south seas aforesaid; . . ." and the colony was called Carolina. In 1665 another charter was granted to these noblemen. This charter extended the limits of Carolina so that the northern line was 36 degrees and 30 minutes north latitude, and the southern line was 29 degrees north latitude, and both of these lines extended westward to the South Seas.

In 1669 John Locke wrote the Fundamental Constitutions as a model for the government of Carolina. The Lords Proprietors adopted these constitutions and directed the governor to put into operation as much of them as was feasible. In 1670 there were four precincts (changed to counties in 1739): Pasquotank, Perquimans, Chowan, and Currituck. North Carolina now has one hundred counties.

Carolina on December 7, 1710, was divided into North Carolina and South Carolina, and Edward Hyde, on May 9, 1712, became the first governor of North Carolina.

In 1729 seven of the eight Lords Proprietors sold their interest in Carolina to the Crown and North Carolina became a royal colony. George Burrington was the first royal governor. Richard Everard, the last proprietary governor, served until Burrington was appointed.

North Carolina, on April 12, 1776, authorized her delegates in the Continental Congress to vote for independence, and on December 18, 1776, adopted a constitution. Richard Caswell became the first governor under this constitution. On November 21, 1789, the state adopted the United States Constitution, being the twelfth state to enter the Federal Union. North Carolina, in 1788, had rejected the Constitution on the grounds that certain amendments were vital and necessary to a free people.

A Constitutional convention was held in 1835 and among several changes made in the Constitution was the method of electing the governor. After this change the governor was elected by the people for a term of two years instead of being elected by the Legislature for a term of one year. Edward Bishop Dudley was the first governor elected by the people.

North Carolina seceded from the Union May 20, 1861, and was readmitted to the Union in July, 1868.

A new State Constitution was adopted in 1868 and since that date the governor has been elected by the people for four-year terms and he cannot succeed himself. There has not been a new constitution since 1868, but numerous amendments have been added to it.

North Carolina has had a democratic administration since 1900, during which period it has made its greatest progress.

North Carolina has had two permanent capitals—New Bern and Raleigh—and there have been three capitol buildings. Tryon's Palace in New Bern was constructed in the period, 1767-1770, and the main building was destroyed by fire February 27, 1798. The first capitol in Raleigh was completed in 1794 and was destroyed by fire on June 21, 1831. The present capitol was completed in 1840.

The state in 1790 ceded her western lands, which was composed of Washington, Davidson, Hawkins, Greene, Sullivan, Sumner, and Tennessee counties, to the Federal government, and between 1790 and 1796 the territory was known as Tennessee Territory, but in 1796 it became the fifteenth state in the Union.

In 1738, the General Assembly of North Carolina passed an act authorizing the establishment of district courts which served as appellate courts. These courts were authorized to be held in Bath, New Bern and New Town—now Wilmington. In 1746, the General Assembly repealed the act of 1738 and established district courts to be held at Edenton, Wilmington, and Edgecombe. From 1754 until 1790, other districts were formed as the state expanded in territory and developed needs for these districts. By 1790, there were eight judicial districts divided into two ridings of four districts each. In 1806, the General Assembly passed an act establishing a superior court in each county. The act also set up judicial districts composed of certain contiguous counties, and this practice of expanding the districts has continued from five districts in 1806 until now there are thirty districts.

When North Carolina adopted the Federal Constitution on November 21, 1789, she was authorized to send two senators and five representatives to the Congress of the United States according to the constitutional apportionment. In 1792, when the first federal census had been completed and tabulated, it was found that North Carolina was entitled to ten representatives. It was then that the General Assembly divided the state into ten congressional districts. In 1812, the state had grown and increased in population until it was entitled to thirteen representatives in Congress. Between 1812 and 1865, however, the population decreased so much in proportion to the population of other states of the Union that North Carolina was by that time entitled only to seven representatives. After 1865 the population of the state showed a steady increase so that beginning in 1943 North Carolina was entitled to twelve representatives in Congress. The 1960 census showed that the state had nearly a half million more people than in 1950, but this increase was not nearly as much in proportion to that of some of the other states. North Carolina is now entitled to only eleven representatives in Congress.

AGRICULTURE

Following several successive years of mounting surpluses of tobacco in storage, production of flue-cured tobacco came under the acreage-poundage program for the first time in 1965. Compliance by North Carolina farmers with the terms of this program coupled with unfavorable climatic conditions resulted in a 1965 reduction from the previous year of 259 million pounds of flue-cured leaf. Climatic conditions in 1966 were also not favorable for optimum yields of tobacco, and marketings were only 64 million pounds above the 1965 level. Since tobacco is, by tar, the largest individual agricultural commodity produced in the State, the loss of poundage was bound to have had its impact upon the agricultural economy of North Carolina.

The loss in quantities sold was offset to some degree by higher unit prices. Nevertheless, the $455 million value placed on all tobacco in 1965 was short of the 1964 value by $107 million. Tar Heel farmers recovered about $59 million of this loss in their 1966 marketings, but returns from sales of flue-cured tobacco during the two-year span were $155 million below income at the 1964 level.

The 1965 corn crop in North Carolina produced an average yield of 70 bushels per acre to exceed the previous record by 11 bushels per acre. Due to severe drought in June and July, the yield of the 1966 crop declined to 45 bushels per acre — the smallest yield since 1959. Production of 61 million bushels of corn for grain in 1966 was only about two-thirds as large as the 1965 production. Despite higher unit prices in 1966, the value of the corn crop declined $24 million in 1966.

Climatic conditions were also unfavorable for production of cotton, both in 1965 and 1966. Furthermore, a substantial proportion of the 1966 acreage was lost through freezing temperatures in the spring. Production of 93,000 bales of cotton in 1966 was only about two-fifths as large as the comparatively short 1965 crop.

On the brighter side is the continuing increase in production of soybeans and peanuts. The 1966 production for each of these crops exceeded the previous records established in 1965 by substantial margins. Also, higher prices received for many of the agricultural commodities contributed to an increase of $26 million over 1965 in the value of all crops harvested in 1966.

Production of livestock and livestock products continue to gain in their contribution to the agricultural income of the State. The total of $410 million realized from sale of these commodities in 1965 exceeded 1964 by $41 million. Although the 1966 figures are not yet available, there is every reason to anticipate an additional increase of some $50 million.

Cash receipts from marketings of all agricultural commodities in 1965 amounted to $1,190 million, falling $48 million below the record of $1,238 million realized in 1964. With a slight increase expected in receipts from sale of cultivated crops in 1966 and a substantial increase in receipts from sales of livestock and livestock products, total receipts from agricultural marketings in 1966 should establish a new record.

The value of agriculture to the State's economy cannot be too strongly emphasized. In addition to one and one-quarter billion dollars annual farm income, consideration must be given to the value added to agricultural commodities through processing, packaging, and merchandizing. North Carolina farmers spend more than one-half billion dollars annually for feed, seed, fertilizer, petroleum fuel and oil, and other items essential to agricultural operations.

CONSERVATION AND DEVELOPMENT

North Carolina moved forward by leaps and bounds during 1965 and 1966, setting the pace for the New South, and pressing forward with Governor Dan Moore's program for Total Development of our State's resources to the best advantage of its citizens.

Once again, all existing records were shattered in capital investments announced for new and expanded manufacturing facilities. North Carolina's thriving travel industry set another income record in 1965, and final 1966 figures are expected to be even higher. Our State Parks enjoyed new records in attendance and use by the public. Products manufactured from North Carolina's vast forest resources continued to yield more than $1 billion annually.

Expansion and development of the technical programs of the Divisions of Mineral Resources and Geodetic Survey resulted in more knowledge of our State's resources, and assistance to many facets of the industrial community.

Research and development of North Carolina's valuable marine and estuarine resources under the supervision of the Division of Commercial and Sports Fisheries moved ahead at a fast pace, highlighted by the beginning of construction on a specially-designed research ship named in honor of Governor Moore.

The orderly growth and expansion of many of our State's communities was assured during the past two years, due to assistance provided by the Division of Community Planning. For the first time, a training program was established aimed at filling the critical need for experienced community planning experts in North Carolina.

In 1965, $482,430,000 was earmarked for the construction of 165 new plants and the expansion of 373 existing facilities. The new and expanded plants created 37,000 new jobs, a record total for recent years, and additions to industrial payrolls of $136,-951,000, another all-time high.

Capital investments in new and expanded manufacturing plants in 1965 were 21 percent over the previous high of $398,983,000 recorded in 1964. New jobs created rose 28 percent over the 1964 total and the gain in industrial payrolls in 1965 increased 30 percent over 1964 figures.

Capital investment in new and expanded manufacturing plants in 1966 set an all-time high at $613,581,000, breaking the half-billion dollar mark for the first time in history. This record-breaking total created 37,455 new jobs for our State's citizens, and added another all-time high of $141,812,000 to industrial payrolls.

The 1966 capital investment registered an increase of 27.2 percent over 1965 figures.

A breakdown of the 1965 total shows textiles led all industrial classifications in numbers of new projects, 146; in new and expanded investment, $176,012,000; in employees added, 13,600; and in payroll additions, $49,063,000.

Total investments in new and expanded chemical projects in 1965 totalled $85,909,000. Rubber and plastics registered a 1965 total capital investment for new and expanded facilities of $27,917,000.

In 1966, textiles held its lead in total capital investment with $216,252,000 for new and expanded facilities, addition of $34,-202,000 in industrial payrolls, and the creation of 9,083 new jobs.

The Apparel Industry also registered significant gains in 1966. Capital investments in new and expanded apparel plants totalled $18,351,000, with added payrolls of $27,567,000 and the creation of 8,908 new jobs.

In total capital investments for new industries alone, chemicals and allied products registered the biggest gain with $105,910,000. The total investment for new and expanded manufacturing facilities in the chemicals and allied products classification totalled $126,276,000. Added payrolls totalled $7,150,000 and a total of 1,249 new jobs were created.

These new and expanded manufacturing facilities during 1965 and 1966 were the direct result of unprecedented cooperation and teamwork at the local, State and Federal levels. The Department of Conservation and Development continued to work closely with North Carolina's industrial development organizations, chambers of commerce, banks, railroads, utility companies, trucking industry and many other groups to strengthen and broaden the State's industrial base.

During 1966, a major effort in development of export markets for North Carolina products was carried out by a far-reaching mission to Europe called Exportunity 1966. The mission was conducted with the cooperation and assistance of the United States Department of Commerce. Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor hailed results of the mission outstanding, calling it "... the most ambitious and far-reaching program of its type ever carried out by a State government."

Exportunity 1966 was divided into four separate parts: a textiles show, a trade mission, an industrial development mission, and a travel promotion mission. More than 90 North Carolinians covered Europe from Sweden to Italy during a one month period, promoting North Carolina's manufactured products, industrial advantages, and tourist attractions. As a result of the mission, many new jobs will be created, European firms are expected to branch out into North Carolina with manufacturing facilities, and more European travelers are expected to visit North Carolina.

The new program of Regional Representatives of the Commerce and Industry Division in Sylva, Salisbury, Washington and Lumberton was established and has carried the programs of industrial development directly to the people.

Tourists and travelers spent $560 million in North Carolina in 1965, bringing a new record for sales and receipts in our State's billion-dollar travel service and transportation business.

Tourists from outside North Carolina spent $345 million in our State in 1965. This was the result of a ten percent increase in tourist expenditures. During the last decade, spending by visitors from other states has been increasing at an average rate of 7.3 percent annually. Trading with tourists has expanded well beyond the 5.7 percent yearly growth rate of all North Carolina retail business. Meanwhile, the national tourist market was rising 5.9 percent annually.

Fifteen million tourist parties visited or passed through North Carolina in 1965, bringing thirty million persons to our State. They traveled nearly six billion passenger miles on highways, railways and airways. Out-of-state tourists account for one-fifth of the nearly twenty-six billion miles of intercity travel by private and public transportation.

This large volume of spending by the transient tourist market stimulates North Carolina commerce and industry. Spending by travelers has created a $1.2 billion business in North Carolina which provides service and transportation for persons away from home.

These figures are based on the 1965 North Carolina Travel Survey by Lewis C. Copeland. The 1966 report has not yet been completed, but all indications are that new records will again be set.

The 1965 General Assembly renamed the Division of Commercial Fisheries the Division of Commercial and Sports Fisheries, and rewrote all coastal fisheries laws. The Division was charged with stewardship of the State's marine and estuarine resources. The new laws further define "all marine and estuarine resources" as "all fish, except inland game fish, found in the Atlantic Ocean and in coastal fishing waters; all fisheries based upon such fish; all uncultivated or undomesticated plant and animal life, other than wildlife resources, inhabiting or dependent upon coastal fishing waters; and the entire ecology supporting such fish, fisheries, and plant animal life.

A definite shift in Division responsibilities was carried out, with increased emphasis and concern being directed toward the condition and biology of our total fishery resource, regardless of the commercial or sport uses to which it is subjected. Previous responsibilities were concerned primarily with the enforcement of laws and regulations which pertained to the harvest, sale and transport of fish and fisheries products.

Following the guidance of the General Assembly, the Division has given increasing attention to all factors which influence coastal fisheries, has worked with numerous State and federal agencies concerned with these resources, and has greatly increased its research and development efforts.

The market value of finfish and shellfish to North Carolina fishermen during the 1964-66 biennium amounted to $25,296,997.

During the 1964-66 biennium, the Division of Community Planning had 206 contracts with 182 municipalities and counties to provide them with technical planning assistance. Of the 86 communities being assisted on June 30, 1966, 43 of them were undertaking advanced planning programs based on earlier studies and plans completed in earlier contracts with the Division.

In July 1966, applications for Federal grant funds were submitted on behalf of 20 communities.

The Division also initiated in 1966 its first program to train professional community planning experts. The work of this division assures the orderly growth of our State's cities, towns and counties.

The 1965 spring forest fire season was more serious than that of 1964, but not as severe as the 1963 spring fire season. The serious drought of fall 1965 continued into the latter part of April 1966. This drought, coupled with unfavorable atmospheric conditions, resulted in a severe 1966 spring fire season. Forest fire losses in 1966, under abnormal conditions similar to those of 1963, were reduced by 46 percent with about a three percent reduction in the number of fires.

The U. S. Forest Service has completed a forest survey of North Carolina and published preliminary forest resource statistics, which continue to emphasize the importance of forest resources to the economy of our State. The wood-using industry produces well over a billion dollars annually in terms of finished products. The perpetuation of these benefits from the State's forests depends upon maintaining a favorable balance of timber growth over the drain from harvesting raw materials and losses due to timber mortality.

For the first time in several years, a safe margin in this favorable balance has been lost due to expansion of our wood-using industries. Improvement in this situation is imperative if we are to hold and expand our forest industries and continue to enjoy the resulting economic benefits. More than 245,000 small landowners control seventy-eight percent of our State's 20 million acres of forest lands. These lands owned by small landowners are currently capable of sustaining a higher growth rate than they are at present. The Forestry Division is the only agency capable of causing material improvement in small ownership forestry. The future supply of forest raw materials depends on the effectiveness of the Division's programs.

More than 40 million tree seedlings are produced annually at the Division's four nurseries and supplied to landowners at cost of production. Forest fire control procedures and training continues to become more effective. Pest and insect control efforts have minimized timber mortality and growth loss, but are in need of increased support in order to remain at its current high level of effectiveness.

The Division of Geodetic Survey is charged with surveying of the State to determine the exact positions of various points, mathematically taking into account the curvature of the earth's surface. Expansion of this division has been proposed and during the 1964-66 biennium, 835 control markers were established in North Carolina.

The work of the division has been singled out for its accuracy and excellence, and a paper outlining the duties and organization of the division was presented to the 1967 annual meeting of the American Congress of Mapping and Surveying.

The value of mineral production in North Carolina totalled $60.4 million in 1965, reflecting the increasing importance of the mineral industry to the State's overall economic development.

According to preliminary estimates prepared by the Bureau of Mines, U.S. Department of the Interior, 1966, value of mineral production in North Carolina increased 9 percent over 1965 to a total of $65.7 million, setting a new record high.

Principal minerals mined were stone, sand and gravel, feldspar, mica, and lithium minerals. In addition, the first shipment of phosphate rock from new mining activities in eastern North Carolina was made April 1, 1966.

Use by the public of North Carolina's 13 State Parks continued to increase by leaps and bounds during 1965 and 1966, setting new records each year. The emphasis on total use of the park facilities has generated more swimming, camping, hiking, boating and fishing by park users.

In 1965, 2,092,519 persons visited the State Parks, a record high for total attendance.

In 1966, a new record for total attendance of 2,182,300 was recorded, showing an increase of almost 90,000 over the previous year.

Planned improvements of current park facilities and an orderly program of expansion is being carried out by the State Parks Division, aimed at preserving, protecting and renewing the quality of those natural resources for which it is responsible.

The North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development is proud of our State's accomplishments during the past two years, and looks forward to ever greater progress toward "Total Development" in the coming years. Without the cooperation and efforts of countless citizens, State, Federal and local officials, this record of achievement would not be nearly as impressive.

PUBLIC HEALTH IN NORTH CAROLINA

North Carolina has a vigorous and effective program of public health.

The State Board of Health and the 66 local health departments serving the 100 counties assure an alert concern for the health conditions in all facilities serving the public. Basic State laws empower the health departments to inspect and regulate conditions affecting health.

While there were various laws and statutes relating to public health measures passed prior to that time, the State Board of Health was created by the General Assembly of 1877, and has been functioning, with changes from time to time, ever since. The General Assembly of 1957 recodified, and to a considerable extent modernized, all public health and related laws of North Carolina. This was done for purposes of coordination and clarification. Guilford has the distinction of being the first county in the United States to inaugurate full-time county health work, June 20, 1911. The following year, Robeson became the first purely rural county in the United States to take this step, but it was not until July 1, 1949 that the last four counties provided this service.

There has been continued progress in public health in these more than five decades. Illustrations of this can be found in every aspect of the legal responsibilities placed upon the State Board of Health. Among these may be noted: compulsory immunization of children beginning at two months of age for poliomyelitis; licensure of nursing and combination nursing and homes for the aged and infirm; surveys in the areas of air pollution and environmental health; and the establishment of a coordinated State Radiological Program. North Carolina published the nation's first Occupational Health Manual in 1961.

The State Board of Health is the State agency administering the Health Insurance Benefits Program (Medicare). Over a million eight hundred thousand dollars a year is being spent on surgical, medical and hospital service to handicapped children. We have a progressive school health coordinating unit and programs of service are being carried on for the aged and for the chronically ill. Many preventive services are rendered by the modern Laboratory Division and by both the consultant staff of the State Board and by the staffs of the local health departments.

STATE HIGHWAY SYSTEMS

On January 1, 1966, the State had under its direct jurisdiction 72,822 miles of highways, roads and streets, a distance equivalent to almost three times around the world at the equator. This vast mileage is almost 10 per cent of the gross length of all mileage under State control in the entire Nation. The three basic systems in this North Carolina network are as follows:

The Primary State Highway System in rural areas is made up of the U. S., N. C. and Interstate numbered routes, and has a length of 11,566 miles, substantially all hard surfaced. The largest of the three systems is the Rural Secondary System of 57,959 miles, of which 29,810 miles are paved—the remainder being surfaced with stone, soil or other all weather material. There is more rural paving in North Carolina than in any other state except Texas, California, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and Wisconsin. Some 96% of the State's rural people live on, or within one mile of a paved highway or road.

In addition to these two rural systems, the State has jurisdiction over 3,297 miles of streets which form a part of the State Highway and Road systems in municipalities. Of this Municipal System, 3,090 miles are paved.

Combining the three systems, the State operates a network of 44,391 miles of paved and 28,431 miles of unpaved highways, roads and streets. The State has direct jurisdiction over more mileage than has any other road governing body in the nation. In terms of size and population, no other state exceeds North Carolina in the extent of road services provided for its people. There are no toll roads or bridges in North Carolina.

Major emphasis is now being placed on modernizing many obsolete sections of the Primary System, mainly from the $300 million Bond Issue authorized in the Statewide referendum of November, 1965; completing the Interstate Highway System; and starting the Appalachian Highway Program. Some 386 miles of the Interstate have already been built to final standards and opened to traffic.

Since 1921, the entire Road and Highway Program of the State has been financed exclusively from the gasoline tax, motor vehicle license fees and Federal Aid, without recourse to property taxation or aid from the General State Fund. During the past fiscal year ending June 30, 1966, the State Highway Fund, including Federal Aid, expended $244,621,581 for highway, road, and street construction, maintenance, betterments and improvements, including the operation of the Motor Vehicle Department, Highway Patrol, Highway Safety Division, other state agencies, and the retirement of Secondary Road Bonds.

RURAL ELECTRIC AND TELEPHONE SERVICE

Rural areas of North Carolina received little benefits from rural electrification prior to 1935, which is often spoken of as the starting point. At that time, only 1,884 miles of rural lines serving 11,558 farms were recorded by the North Carolina Rural Electrification Authority, which was created in that year to secure electric service for the rural areas. Today the Authority reports in operation 97,786 miles of rural lines serving 900,456 consumers. In addition to this, there were 237 miles under construction or authorized for construction to serve 3,036 consumers. Electrification has contributed considerably to the great progress in agricultural development over the past few years. The electrified farm provided for comfort and health in farm living through lighting, refrigeration, communication, ranges, washing machines, freezers, plumbing and all other many useful household electric appliances.

Electric service is essential to modern farm production. Electricity is used by farmers in many ways—yard and building lighting; running water; poultry incubators, brooders, and feeders; livestock feeding; milking; grain and hay driers; irrigation; and many other electric-motor driven pieces of farm producing equipment. Electricity affords fire protection and the operation of many labor-saving devices for the rural home and farm activities. Electric service is practically essential in types of farm production; for example, the production of Grade A Milk.

The 1945 United States Census indicated that only 14,539 North Carolina farms had telephone service. The desire and need in the rural areas for communication, so essential to the well-being of the people was so widespread that the 1945 General Assembly enacted the Rural Telephone Act, charging the North Carolina Rural Electrification Authority with the responsibility of assisting rural residences in securing telephone service. Funds and personnel were first assigned to the program in 1949, which might well be termed the active beginning. Through the activities of the State Authority and other State agencies and as a result of cooperation on the part of the telephone industry and the organization of a number of member-owned Telephone Membership Corporations, over eight times as many farms now have telephone service as in 1945. In addition, a greater number of rural non-farm residences also have service.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

North Carolina provides a basic State-supported nine months public school term, which is supplemented by the 169 local school administrative units. Public school enrollment in 1965-66 was 1,201,139, the ninth largest enrollment of the 50 states. Attendance is compulsory for children between the ages of 7 and 16. There were 48,631 teachers, principals and supervisors in 1965-66. Nearly 60 percent of all general fund taxes collected by the State are used for elementary and secondary schools. The State finances operation of a fleet of 9,108 buses, transporting 592,318 pupils to the public schools. In 1965-66, there were 2,164 separately organized public schools in the State, and the total value of public school property was $994,752,404. Expenditures per pupil for current expenses included $267.56 from State funds, $55.36 from federal funds, and $45.37 from local sources. The State Board of Education, with three ex-officio members and ten members appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the General Assembly, has responsibility for the general supervision and administration of the public school system and of the educational funds provided by the State and Federal governments; for the formulation of rules, regulations and policies concerning instructional programs and for fiscal matters. The State Superintendent of Public Instruction is the administrative head of the public school system and secretary of the State Board of Education. Elected every four years by popular vote, he is responsible for administering the instructional policies established by the Board, for organizing and establishing the State Department of Public Instruction, and for other matters relating to administration and supervision, excluding fiscal matters. The Controller of the State Board of Education is the executive administrator of the Board in the supervision and management of fiscal affairs, including the budgeting, allocation, accounting, certification, auditing and disbursing of public school funds administered by the Board.

COMMUNITY COLLEGES

The 1963 General Assembly, following recommendations of the Governor's Commission on Education Beyond the High School, enacted legislation authorizing the establishment of a system of community colleges, technical institutes and industrial education centers. The Department of Community Colleges, under the direction of the State Board of Education, is responsible for State-level administration of this system. These three types of institutions are commuting, nonresident, multipurpose and community centered, offering to high school graduates and others beyond the normal high school age opportunities for two-year college parallel programs, technical programs, vocational programs and general adult and community service courses. Institutions in operation in the fall of 1966 were 12 community colleges, 17 technical institutes, one industrial educational center, and 13 extension units of these institutions. The average annual full-time equivalent enrollment for the 43 institutions in 1965-66 was 25,704. These students were instructed by 986 faculty members.

COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

The University of North Carolina, chartered in 1789, was the first State University in the United States to open its doors.

Today, the University of North Carolina is composed of four units: the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, North Carolina State University at Raleigh, University of North Carolina at Charlotte, and the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

There are twelve tax-supported senior colleges located throughout the State: Agricultural and Technical College (Greensboro), Appalachian State Teachers College (Boone), Asheville-Biltmore College (Asheville), East Carolina College (Greenville), Elizabeth City State College (Elizabeth City), Fayetteville State College (Fayetteville), North Carolina College at Durham (Durham), North Carolina School of the Arts (Winston-Salem), Pembroke State College (Pembroke), Western Carolina College (Cullowhee), Wilmington College (Wilmington) and Winston-Salem State College (Winston-Salem).

Twelve tax-supported State community colleges, requiring local financial support in addition to State funds, are in operation: Central Piedmont Community College (Charlotte), College of the Albemarle (Elizabeth City), Davidson County Community College (Lexington), Gaston College (Gastonia), Isothermal Community College (Spindale), Lenoir County Community College (Kinston), Rockingham Community College (Wentworth), Sandhills Community College (Southern Pines), Southeastern Community College (Whiteville), Surry Community College (Dobson), Western Piedmont Community College (Morganton), and Wilkes Community College (Wilkesboro).

In all there are seventy institutions of higher learning in the State. Among the forty-two private or church-related institutions, there are: one university (Duke University in Durham, one of the most heavily endowed institutions of higher learning in the world), twenty-seven senior colleges, fourteen junior colleges, one theological seminary, and three Bible colleges.

Total college enrollment in North Carolina institutions of higher learning, both public and private, was 112,805 in Fall 1966, and 104,852 in Fall 1965.

Legal responsibility for planning and promoting a sound, vigorous, progressive and coordinated system of higher education for the State rests with the State Board of Higher Education. Established by the 1955 General Assembly, the Board seeks the cooperation of other agencies and colleges, public and private, in developing a system of higher education that meets the State's ongoing and future needs at the highest level of excellence.

THE STATE CAPITOL

The original State Capital of North Carolina was destroyed by fire on June 21, 1831.

At the session of November, 1832, the Assembly resolved to rebuild on the old site, and $50,000 was appropriated for the purpose. Commissioners were appointed to have the work done. The rubbish was cleared away, the excavations made and the foundations were laid. On July 4, 1833, the cornerstone was set in place.

After the foundations were laid the work progressed more slowly and it was so expensive that the appropriation was exhausted. The Legislature at its next session appropriated $75,000 more. To do the stone and finer work many skilled artisans had been brought from Scotland and other countries. The Building Commissioners contracted with David Paton to come to Raleigh and superintend the work. Mr. Paton was an architect who had come from Scotland the year before. He was the builder, the architect, and designer.

The Legislature was compelled to make appropriations for the work from time to time. The following is a table of the several appropriations made:

Session of 1832-33	$ 50,000.00
Session of 1833-34	75,000.00
Session of 1834-35	75,000.00
Session of 1835	75,000.00
Session of 1836-37	120,000.00
Session of 1838-39	105,300.00
Session of 1840-41	31,374.46
Total	$531,674.46

The stone with which the building was erected was the property of the State. Had the State been compelled to purchase this material the cost of the Capitol would have been considerably increased.

In the summer of 1840 the work was finished. At last, after more than seven years, the sum of $531,674.46 was expended. As large as that sum was for the time, when the State was so poor and when the entire taxes for all State purposes reached less than $100,000, yet the people were satisfied. The building had been erected with rigorous economy, and it was an object of great pride to the people. Indeed, never was money better expended than in the erection of this noble Capitol.

Description of the Capitol, Written by David Paton, the Architect

The State Capitol is 160 feet in length from north to south by 140 feet from east to west. The whole height is 97½ feet in the center. The apex of pediment is 64 feet in height. The stylobate is 18 feet in height. The columns of the east and west porticoes are 5 feet 2½ inches in diameter. An entablature, including blocking course, is continued around the building 12 feet high.

The columns and entablature are Grecian Doric, and copied from the Temple of Minerva, commonly called the Parthenon, which was erected in Athens about 500 years before Christ. An octagon tower surrounds the rotunda, which is ornamented with Grecian cornices, etc., and its dome is decorated at top with a similar ornament to that of the Choragic Monument of Lysicrates, commonly called the Lanthorn of Demosthenes.

The interior of the Capitol is divided into three stories: First, the lower story, consisting of ten rooms, eight of which are appropriated as offices to the Governor, Secretary, Treasurer, and Comptroller, each having two rooms of the same size, the one containing an area of 649 square feet, the other 528 square feet; the two committee rooms, each containing 200 square feet and four closets; also the rotunda, corridors, vestibules, and piazzas, contain an area of 4,370 square feet. The vestibules are decorated with columns and antae, similar to those of the Ionic Temple on the Ilissus, near the Acropolis of Athens. The remainder is groined with stone and brick, springing from columns and pilasters of the Roman Doric.

The second story consists of Senatorial and Representatives' chambers, the former containing an area of 2,545 and the latter 2,849 square feet. Four apartments enter from Senate Chamber, two of which contain each an area of 169 square feet, and the other two contain each an area of 154 square feet; also, two rooms enter from Representatives' chamber, each containing an area of 170 square feet; of two committee rooms, each containing an area of 231 square feet; of four presses and the passages, stairs, lobbies, and colonnades, containing an area of 3,204 square feet.

"The lobbies and Hall of Representatives have their columns and antae of the Octagon Tower of Andronicus Cyrrhestes and the plan of the hall is of the formation of the Greek theatre and the columns and antae in the Senatorial chamber and rotunda are of the Temple of Erectheus, Minerva, Polias, and Pandrosus, in the Acropolis of Athens, near the above named Parthenon.

"Third, or attic story, consists of rooms appropriated to the Supreme Court and Library, each containing an area of 693 square feet. Galleries of both houses have an area of 1,300 square feet; also two apartments entering from Senate gallery, each 169 square feet, of four presses and the lobbies' stairs, 988 square feet. These lobbies as well as rotunda, are lit with cupolas, and it is proposed to finish the court and library in the florid Gothic style."

THE STATE LEGISLATIVE BUILDING

THE STATE LEGISLATIVE BUILDING*

(Named by Ch. 8, SL 1963)

By RALPH B. REEVES, JR.

The Building Commission

The 1959 General Assembly appropriated funds and authorized the establishment of a Building Commission for the construction of a new building for the Legislative Branch of the State Government. The statute provided that two members be appointed by each Presiding Officer of the two Houses and that three be appointed by the Governor.

Archie K. Davis and Robert F. Morgan were appointed by Lieutenant Governor Luther E. Barnhardt; B. I. Satterfield and Thomas J. White were appointed by Speaker of the House Addison Hewlett; and Governor Hodges appointed A. E. Finley, Edwin Gill, and Oliver R. Rowe.

The Commission elected Thomas J. White as Chairman and Robert F. Morgan as Vice Chairman. Paul A. Johnston, Director of the Department of Administration, was elected Executive Secretary; and upon his resignation, the Commission elected Frank B. Turner, State Property Officer, to succeed him.

To perform architectural services, the Commission selected Edward Durell Stone of New York with John S. Holloway and Ralph B. Reeves, Jr., Associated.

After prolonged study, the Commission selected a site one block North of the Capitol and encompassing a two-block area. The 5½-acre site is bounded by Jones, Salisbury, Lane, and Wilmington streets. Halifax Street between Jones and Lane streets was closed and included within the new site.

Bids were received in December, 1960; construction commenced in early 1961. The 1961 General Assembly appropriated an additional $1 million for furnishings and equipment bringing the total appropriation to $5½ million.

Based upon the latest census, the cost of the building to citizens of North Carolina was $1.24 each.

*The Building is commonly referred to as THE STATE HOUSE.

Description of the Building

The State Legislative Building, though not an imitation of historic classical styles, is classical in character. Rising from a 340-foot wide podium of North Carolina granite, the building proper is 242 feet square. The walls and the columns are of Vermont marble, the latter forming a colonnade encompassing the building and reaching 24 feet from the podium to the roof of the second floor.

Inset in the south podium floor, at the main entrance, is a 28-foot diameter terrazzo mosaic of the Great Seal of the State. From the first floor main entrance (at Jones Street) the carpeted 22-foot wide main stair extends directly to the third floor and the public galleries of the Senate and House, the auditorium, the display area, and the roof gardens.

The four garden courts are located at the corners of the building. These courts contain tropical plants, and three have pools, fountains, and hanging planters. The main floor areas of the courts are located in the first floor, and mezzanines overlook the courts from the second floor. The skylights which provide natural lighting are located within the roof gardens overhead. The courts provide access to committee rooms in the first floor, the legislative chambers in the second floor, and to members' offices in both floors.

The Senate and House chambers, each 5,180 square feet in area, occupy the east and west wings of the second floor. Following the traditional relationship of the two chambers in the Capitol, the two spaces are divided by the rotunda; and when the main brass doors are open, the two presiding officers face one another. Each pair of brass doors weigh 1,500 pounds.

The five pyramidal roofs covering the Senate and House chambers, the auditorium, the main stair, and the rotunda are sheathed with copper, as is the Capitol. The pyramidal shape of the roofs is visible in the pointed ceilings inside. The structural ribs form a coffered ceiling; and inside the coffered patterns, concentric patterns are outlined in gold. In each chamber, the distance from the floor to the peak of the ceiling is 45 feet.

Chandeliers in the chambers and main stair are 8 feet in diameter and weigh 625 pounds each. The 12-foot diameter chandelier of the rotunda, like the others, is of brass, but its weight is 750 pounds.

Because of the interior environment, the garden courts and rotunda have tropical plants and trees. Outside, however, the shrubs and trees are of an indigenous type. Among the trees in the grounds, on the podium, and in the roof areas are sugar maples, dogwoods, crabapples, magnolias, crepe myrtles, and pines.

Throughout the building, the same color scheme is maintained: Walnut, white, gold, and red, with green foliage. In general, all wood is American walnut, metal is brass or other gold colored material, carpets are red, and upholstery is gold or black.

The enclosed area consists of 206,000 square feet of floor area with a volume of 3,210,000 cubic feet. Heating equipment provides over 7,000,000 B.T.U. per hour; and the cooling equipment has a capacity of 620 tons. For lighting, motors, and other electrical equipment, the building has a connected service load of over 2,000,000 watts.

THE STATE FLAG

An Act to Establish a State Flag

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

Section 1. That the flag of North Carolina shall consist of a blue union, containing in the center thereof a white star with the letter N in gilt on the left and the letter C in gilt on the right of said star, the circle containing the same to be one-third the width of the union.

Sec. 2. That the fly of the flag shall consist of two equally proportioned bars; the upper bar to be red, the lower bar to be white; that the length of the bars horizontally shall be equal to the perpendicular length of the union, and the total length of the flag shall be one-third more than its width.

Sec. 3. That above the star in the center of the union there shall be a gilt scroll in semicircular form, containing in black letters this inscription: "May 20th, 1775," and that below the star there shall be a similar scroll containing in black letters the inscription: "April 12th, 1776."

In the General Assembly read three times and ratified this 9th day of March, A.D., 1885.

No change has been made in the flag since the passage of this act. By an act of 1907 it is provided:

"That the board of trustees or managers of the several State institutions and public buildings shall provide a North Carolina flag, of such dimensions and materials as they may deem best, and the same shall be displayed from a staff upon the top of each and every such building at all times except during inclement weather, and upon the death of any State officer or any prominent citizen the Flag shall be put at half-mast until the burial of such person shall have taken place.

"That the Board of County Commissioners of the several counties in this State shall likewise authorize the procuring of a North Carolina flag, to be displayed either on a staff upon the top, or draped behind the Judge's stand, in each and every courthouse in the State, and that the State flag shall be displayed at each and every term of court held, and on such other public occasions as the Commissioners may deem proper." (Rev., s. 5321; 1885 c. 291; 1907, c. 838.)

THE MECKLENBURG DECLARATION OF 20th MAY, 1775*

Declaration

NAMES OF THE DELEGATES PRESENT

Col. Thomas Polk	John McKnitt Alexander
Ephriam Brevard	Hezekiah Alexander
Hezekiah J. Balch	Adam Alexander
John Phiifer	Charles Alexander
James Harris	Zacheus Wilson, Sen.
William Kennon	Waightstill Avery
John Ford	Benjamin Patton
Richard Barry	Mathew McClure
Henry Downs	Neil Morrison
Ezra Alexander	Robert Irwin
William Graham	John Flenniken
John Quarry	David Reese
Abraham Alexander	Richard Harris, Sen.

Abraham Alexander was appointed Chairman, and John McKnitt Alexander, Clerk. The following resolutions were offered, viz:

1. Resolved. That whosoever directly or indirectly abetted or in any way form or manner countenanced the unchartered and dangerous invasion of our rights as claimed by Great Britain is an enemy to this country, to America, and to the inherent and inalienable rights of man.

2. Resolved. That we the citizens of Mecklenburg County, do hereby dissolve the political bands which have connected us to the mother country and hereby absolve ourselves from all allegiance to the British Crown and abjure all political connection contract or association with that nation who have wantonly trampled on our rights and liberties and inhumanly shed the blood of American patriots at Lexington.

3. Resolved. That we do hereby declare ourselves a free and independent people, are, and of right ought to be a sovereign and self-governing association under the control of no power other than that of our God and the General Government of the Congress to the maintenance of which independence we solemnly pledge to each other our mutual cooperation, our lives, our fortunes, and our most sacred honor.

4. Resolved, That as we now acknowledge the existence and control of no law or legal officer, civil or military within this County, we do hereby ordain and adopt as a rule of life all, each and every of our former laws—wherein nevertheless the Crown of Great Britain never can be considered as holding rights, privileges, immunities, or authority therein.

5. Resolved, That it is further decreed that all, each and every Military Officer in this County is hereby reinstated in his former command and authority, he acting conformably to these regulations. And that every member present of this delegation shall henceforth be a civil officer, viz., a justice of the peace, in the character of a "committee man" to issue process, hear and determine all matters of controversy according to said adopted laws and to preserve peace, union and harmony in said county, and to use every exertion to spread the love of Country and fire of freedom throughout America, until a more general and organized government be established in this Province.

THE GREAT SEAL

The Constitution of North Carolina, Article III, section 16, requires that

"There shall be a seal of the State which shall be kept by the Governor, and used by him as occasion may require, and shall be called 'The Great Seal of the State of North Carolina.' All grants and Commissions shall be issued in the name and by the authority of the State of North Carolina, sealed with 'The Great Seal of the State,' signed by the Governor and countersigned by the Secretary of State."

The use of a Great Seal for the attestation of important documents began with the institution of government in North Carolina. There have been at various times nine different seals in use in the colony and State.

The present Great Seal of the State of North Carolina is described as follows:

"The Great Seal of the State of North Carolina is two and one-quarter inches in diameter, and its design is a representation of the figures of Liberty and Plenty, looking toward each other, but not more than half fronting each other, and otherwise disposed, as follows: Liberty, the first figure, standing, her pole with cap on it in her left hand and a scroll with the word 'Constitution' inscribed thereon in her right hand. Plenty, the second figure, sitting down, her right arm half extended toward Liberty, three heads of wheat in her right hand, and in her left the small end of her horn, the mouth of which is resting at her feet, and the contents of horn rolling out. In the exergon is inserted the words May 20, 1775, above the coat of arms. Around the circumference is the legend 'The Great Seal of the State of North Carolina' and the motto 'Esse Quam Videri.'" (Rev., s. 5339; Code ss. 3328, 3329; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 35; 1883, c. 392; 1893, c. 145.)

THE STATE BIRD

By popular choice the Cardinal was selected for adoption as our State Bird as of March 4, 1943. (S. L. 1943 c. 595; G. S. 145-2).

This bird is sometimes called the Winter Redbird because it is most conspicuous in winter and is the only "redbird" present at that season. It is an all year round resident and one of the commonest birds in our gardens and thickets. It is about the size of a Catbird with a longer tail, red all over, except that the throat and region around the bill is black; the head is conspicuously crested and the large stout bill is red; the female is much duller the red being mostly confined to the crest, wings and tail. There are no seasonal changes in the plumage.

The Cardinal is a fine singer, and what is unusual among birds the female is said to sing as well as the male, which latter sex usually has a monopoly of that art in the feathered throngs.

The nest is rather an untidy affair built of weed stems, grass and similar materials in a low shrub, small tree or bunch of briars, usually not over four feet above the ground. The usual number of eggs to a set is three in this State, usually four further North. Possibly the Cardinal raises an extra brood down here to make up the difference, or possibly he can keep up his normal population more easily here through not having to face inclement winters of the colder North. A conspicuous bird faces more hazards.

The cardinal is by nature a seed eater, but he does not dislike small fruits and insects.

THE HALIFAX RESOLUTION

Adopted by the Provincial Congress of North Carolina in Session at Halifax, April 12, 1776.

"The Select Committee taking into Consideration the usurpations and violences attempted and committed by the King and Parliament of Britain against America, and the further Measures to be taken for frustrating the same, and for the better defence of this province reported as follows, to wit,

"It appears to your Committee that pursuant to the Plan concerted by the British Ministry for subjugating America, the King and Parliament of Great Britain have usurped a Power over the Persons and Properties of the People unlimited and uncontrouled; and disregarding their humble Petitions for Peace, Liberty and safety, have made divers Legislative Acts, denouncing War Famine and every Species of Calamity against the Continent in General. That British Fleets and Armies have been and still are daily employed in destroying the People and committing the most horrid devastations on the Country. That Governors in different Colonies have declared Protection to Slaves who should inbrue their Hands in the Blood of their Masters. That the Ships belonging to America are declared prizes of War and many of them have been violently seized and confiscated in consequence of which multitudes of the people have been destroyed or from easy Circumstances reduced to the most Lamentable distress.

"And whereas the moderation hitherto manifested by the United Colonies and their sincere desire to be reconciled to the mother Country on Constitutional Principles, have procured no mitigation of the aforesaid Wrongs and usurpations, and no hopes remain of obtaining redress by those Means alone which have been hitherto tried, Your Committee are of Opinion that the house should enter into the following Resolve, to wit

"Resolved that the delegates for this Colony in the Continental Congress be impowered to concur with the delegates of the other Colonies in declaring Independency, and forming foreign Alliances, reserving to this Colony the Sole, and Exclusive right of forming a Constitution and Laws for this Colony, and of appointing delegates from time to time (under the direction of a general Representation thereof) to meet the delegates of the other Colonies for such purposes as shall be hereafter pointed out."

NAME OF STATE AND NICKNAMES

In 1629 King Charles the First of England "erected into a province," all the land from Albemarle Sound on the north to the St. John's River on the south, which he directed should be called Carolina. The word Carolina is from the word Carolus, the Latin form of Charles.

When Carolina was divided in 1710, the southern part was called South Carolina and the northern or older settlement was called North Carolina, or the "Old North State." Historians had recorded the fact that the principal products of this State were "tar, pitch and turpentine." It was during one of the fiercest battles of the War Between the States, so the story goes, that the column supporting the North Carolina troops was driven from the field. After the battle the North Carolinians, who had successfully fought it out alone, were greeted from the passing derelict regiment with the question: "Any more tar down in the Old North State, boys?" Quick as a flash came the answer: "No; not a bit; old Jeff's bought it all up." "Is that so; what is he going to do with it?" was asked. "He is going to put it on you-uns heels to make you stick better in the next fight." Creecy relates that General Lee, hearing of the incident, said: "God bless the Tar Heel boys," and from that they took the name.—Adapted from Grandfather Tales of North Carolina by R. B. Creecy and Histories of North Carolina Regiments, Vol. III, by Walter Clark.

The State Motto

The General Assembly of 1893 (chapter 145) adopted the words "Esse Quam Videri" as the State's motto and directed that these words with the date "20 May, 1775," should be placed with our Coat of Arms upon the Great Seal of the State.

The words "Esse Quam Videri" mean "to be rather than to seem." Nearly every State has adopted a motto, generally in Latin. The reason for their mottoes being in Latin is that the Latin tongue is far more condensed and terse than the English. The three words, "Esse Quam Videri," require at least six English words to express the same idea.

Curiosity has been aroused to learn the origin of our State motto. It is found in Cicero in his essay on Friendship (Cicero de Amicitia, Chap. 26)

It is a little singular that until the act of 1893 the sovereign State of North Carolina had no motto since its declaration of independence. It was one of the very few states which did not have a motto and the only one of the original thirteen without one. (Rev., s 5320; 1893, c. 145; G. S. 144-2.)

The State Colors

The General Assembly of 1945 declared Red and Blue of shades appearing in the North Carolina State Flag and the American Flag as the official State Colors. (Session Laws, 1945, c. 878.)

The State Flower

The General Assembly of 1941 designated the dogwood as the State flower. (Public Laws, 1941, c. 289; G. S. 145-1.)

The State Song

The song known as "The Old North State" was adopted as the official song of the State of North Carolina by the General Assembly of 1927. (Public Laws, 1927, c. 26; G.S. 149-1).

The State Shell

The General Assembly of 1965 designated the Scotch Bonnet as the State Shell. (Session Laws, 1965, c. 681).

The State Tree

The pine was officially designated as the State tree by the General Assembly of 1963. (Session Laws, 1963, c. 41).

The State Toast

Officially adopted as the toast of North Carolina by the General Assembly of 1957. (Session Laws, 1957, c. 777).

Here's to the land of the long leaf pine,
The summer land where the sun doth shine,
Where the weak grow strong and the strong grow great,
Here's to "Down Home," the Old North State!

Here's to the land of the cotton bloom white,
Where the scuppernong perfumes the breeze at night,
Where the soft southern moss and jessamine mate,
'Neath the murmuring pines of the Old North State!

Here's to the land where the galax grows,
Where the rhododendron's rosette glows,
Where soars Mount Mitchell's summit great,
In the "Land of the Sky," in the Old North State!

Here's to the land where maidens are fair,
Where friends are true and cold hearts rare,
The near land, the dear land whatever fate,
The blest land, the best land, the Old North State!

CONSTITUTION

PREAMBLE

We, the people of the State of North Carolina, grateful to Almighty God, the Sovereign Ruler of Nations, for the preservation of the American Union and the existence of our civil, political and religious liberties, and acknowledging our dependence upon Him for the continuance of those blessings to us and our posterity, do, for the more certain security thereof, and for the better government of this State, ordain and establish this Constitution:

ARTICLE I

DECLARATION OF RIGHTS

That the Great, general and essential principles of liberty and free government may be recognized and established, and that the relations of this State to the Union and Government of the United States, and those of the people of this State to the rest of the American people may be defined and affirmed, we do declare:

Section 1. The equality and rights of persons. That we hold it to be self-evident that all persons are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, the enjoyment of the fruits of their own labor, and the pursuit of happiness.

Sec. 2. Political power and government. That all political power is vested in, and derived from, the people; all government of right originates from the people, is founded upon their will only, and is instituted solely for the good of the whole.

Sec. 3. Internal government of the State. That the people of this State have the inherent, sole and exclusive right of regulating the internal government and police thereof, and of altering and abolishing their Constitution and form of government whenever it may be necessary to their safety and happiness; but every such right should be exercised in pursuance of law, and consistently with the Constitution of the United States.

Sec. 4 That there is no right to secede. That this State shall ever remain a member of the American Union; that the people thereof are a part of the American Nation; that there is no right on the part of the State to secede, and that all attempts, from whatever source or upon whatever pretext, to dissolve said Union or to sever said Nation, ought to be resisted with the whole power of the State.

Sec. 5. Of allegiance to the United States Government. That every citizen of this State owes paramount allegiance to the Constitution and Government of the United States, and that no law or ordinance of the State in contravention or subversion thereof can have any binding force.

Sec. 6. Public debt; bonds issued under Ordinance of Convention of 1868, '68-'69, '69-'70, declared invalid; exception. The State shall never assume or pay, or authorize the collection of any debt or obligation, express or implied, incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; nor shall the General Assembly assume or pay, or authorize the collection of any tax to pay, either directly or indirectly, expressed or implied, any debt or bond incurred, or issued, by authority of the Convention of the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, nor any debt or bond incurred or issued by the Legislature of the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, either at its special session of the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, or at its regular sessions of the years one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight and one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, and one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine and one thousand eight hundred and seventy, except the bonds issued to fund the interest on the old debt of the State, unless the proposing to pay the same shall have first been submitted to the people and by them ratified by the vote of a majority of all the qualified voters of the State, at a regular election held for that purpose.

Sec. 7. Exclusive emoluments, etc. No person or set of persons are entitled to exclusive or separate emoluments or privileges from the community but in consideration of public services.

Sec. 8. The legislative, executive and judicial powers distinct. The legislative, executive, and supreme judicial powers of the government ought to be forever separate and distinct from each other.

Sec. 9. Of the power of suspending laws. All power of suspending laws, or the execution of laws, by any authority, without the consent of the representatives of the people, is injurious to their rights, and ought not to be exercised.

Sec. 10 Elections free. All elections ought to be free.

Sec. 11. In criminal prosecutions. In all criminal prosecutions, every person charged with crime has the right to be informed of the accusation and to confront the accusers and witnesses with other testimony, and to have counsel for defense, and not be compelled to give self-incriminating evidence, or to pay costs, jail fees, or necessary witness fees of the defense, unless found guilty.

Sec. 12. Answers to criminal charges. No person shall be put to answer any criminal charge except as hereinafter allowed, but by indictment, presentment, or impeachment. But any person, when represented by counsel, may, under such regulations as the Legislature shall prescribe, waive indictment in all except capital cases.

Sec. 13. Right of jury. No Person shall be convicted of any crime but by the unanimous verdict of a jury of good and lawful persons in open court. The Legislature may, however, provide other means of trial, for petty misdemeanors, with the right of appeal.

Sec. 14. Excessive bail. Excessive bail should not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel or unusual punishments inflicted.

Sec. 15. General warrants. General warrants, whereby any officer or messenger may be commanded to search suspected places, without evidence of the act committed, or to seize any person or persons not named, whose offense is not particularly described and supported by evidence, are dangerous to liberty and ought not to be granted.

Sec. 16. Imprisonment for debt. There shall be no imprisonment for debt in this State, except in cases of fraud.

Sec. 17. No persons taken, etc., but by law of land. No person ought to be taken, imprisoned or disseized of his freehold, liberties, or privileges, or outlawed or exiled, or in any manner deprived of his life, liberty or property, but by the law of the land.

Sec. 18. Persons restrained of liberty. Every person restrained of his liberty is entitled to a remedy to inquire into the lawfulness thereof, and to remove the same, if unlawful; and such remedy ought not to be denied or delayed.

Sec. 19. Controversies at law respecting property. In all controversies at law respecting property, the ancient mode of trial by jury is one of the best securities of the rights of the people, and ought to remain sacred and inviolable. No person shall be excluded from jury service on account of sex.

Sec. 20. Freedom of the press. The freedom of the press is one of the great bulwarks of liberty, and therefore ought never to be restrained, but every individual shall be held responsible for the abuse of the same.

Sec. 21. Habeas corpus. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended.

Sec. 22. Property qualification. As political rights and privileges are not dependent upon, or modified by, property, therefore no property qualification ought to affect the right to vote or hold office.

Sec. 23. Representation and taxation. The people of the State ought not to be taxed, or made subject to the payment of any impost or duty without the consent of themselves, or their representatives in General Assembly, freely given.

Sec. 24. Militia and the right to bear arms. A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed; and, as standing armies in time of peace are dangerous to liberty, they ought not to be kept up, and the military should be kept under strict subordination to, and governed by, the civil power. Nothing herein contained shall justify the practice of carrying concealed weapons, or prevent the Legislature from enacting penal statutes against said practice.

Sec. 25. Right of the people to assemble together. The people have a right to assemble together to consult for their common good, to instruct their representatives, and to apply to the Legislature for redress of grievances. But secret political societies are dangerous to the liberties of a free people, and should not be tolerated.

Sec. 26. Religious liberty. All persons have a natural and inalienable right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own consciences, and no human authority should, in any case whatever, control or interfere with the rights of conscience.

Sec. 27. Education. The people have a right to the privilege of education, and it is the duty of the State to guard and maintain that right.

Sec. 28. Elections should be frequent. For redress of grievances, and for amending and strengthening the laws, elections should be often held.

Sec. 29. Recurrence to fundamental principles. A frequent recurrence to fundamental principles is absolutely necessary to preserve the blessings of liberty.

Sec. 30. Hereditary emoluments, etc. No hereditary emoluments, privileges, or honors ought to be granted or conferred in this State.

Sec. 31. Perpetuities, etc. Perpetuities and monopolies are contrary to the genius of a free State, and ought not to be allowed.

Sec. 32. Ex post facto laws. Retrospective laws, punishing acts committed before the existence of such laws, and by them only declared criminal, are oppressive, unjust and incompatible with liberty; wherefore no ex post facto law ought to be made. No law taxing retrospectively sales, purchases, or other acts previously done, ought to be passed.

Sec. 33. Slavery prohibited. Slavery and involuntary servitude, otherwise than for crime, whereof the parties shall have been duly convicted, shall be, and are hereby, forever prohibited within the State.

Sec. 34. State boundaries. The limits and boundaries of the State shall be and remain as they now are.

Sec. 35. Courts shall be open. All courts shall be open; and every person for an injury done him in his lands, goods, person, or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law, and right and justice administered without sale, denial, or delay.

Sec. 36. Soldiers in time of peace. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war but in a manner prescribed by law.

Sec. 37. Treason against the State. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it or adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court. No conviction of treason or attainder shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture.

Sec. 38. Other rights of the people. This enumeration of rights shall not be construed to impair or deny others retained by the people; and all powers not herein delegated remain with the people.

ARTICLE II

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

Section 1. Two branches. The legislative authority shall be vested in two distinct branches, both dependent on the people, to wit: a Senate and House of Representatives.

Sec. 2. Time of assembly. The Senate and House of Representatives shall meet biennially on the first Wednesday after the first Monday in February next after their election, unless a different day shall be provided by law; and when assembled, shall be denominated the General Assembly. Neither house shall proceed upon public business unless a majority of all the members are actually present.

Sec. 3. Number of Senators. The Senate shall be composed of fifty Senators, biennially chosen by ballot.

Sec. 4. Regulations in relation to districting the State for Senators. The Senate Districts shall be so altered by the General Assembly, at the first Session after the return of every enumeration by order of Congress, that each Senate District shall contain, as near as may be, an equal number of inhabitants, excluding aliens and Indians not taxed, and shall remain unaltered until the return of another enumeration, and shall at all times consist of contiguous territory; and no county shall be divided in the formation of a Senate District, unless such county shall be equitably entitled to two or more Senators.

Sec. 5. Regulations in relation to apportionment of Representatives. The House of Representatives shall be composed of 120 Representatives, biennially chosen by ballot, to be elected by the counties respectively, according to their population, and each county shall have at least one Representative in the House of Representatives, although it may not contain the requisite ratio of representation. This apportionment shall be made by the Speaker of the House of Representatives at the first regular Session of the General Assembly convening after the return of every enumeration by order of Congress. The formula set out in Section 6 of this Article shall be applied by the Speaker and the new apportionment entered on the Journal of the House of Representatives on or before the 60th calendar day of the Session. When so entered, the new apportionment shall have the same force and effect as an Act of the General Assembly, and shall become effective at the next election for members of the General Assembly.

Sec. 6. Ratio of representation. In making the apportionment in the House of Representatives, the ratio of representation shall be ascertained by dividing the amount of the population of the State, exclusive of that comprehended within those counties which do not severally contain the one hundred and twentieth part of the population of the State, by the number of Representatives, less the number assigned to such counties; and in ascertaining the number of the population of the State, aliens and Indians not taxed shall not be included. To each county containing the said ratio and not twice the said ratio there shall be assigned one Representative; to each county containing twice but not three times the said ratio there shall be assigned two Representatives, and so on progressively, and then the remaining Representatives shall be assigned severally to the counties having the largest fractions.

Sec. 7. Qualifications for Senators. Each member of the Senate shall not be less than twenty-five years of age, shall have resided in the State as a citizen two years, and shall have usually resided in the district for which he was chosen one year immediately preceding his election.

Sec. 8. Qualifications for Representatives. Each member of the House of Representatives shall be a qualified elector of the State, and shall have resided in the county for which he is chosen for one year immediately preceding his election.

Sec. 9. Election of officers. In the election of all officers, whose appointment shall be conferred upon the General Assembly by the Constitution, the vote shall be viva voce.

Sec. 10. Powers in relation to divorce and alimony. The General Assembly shall have power to pass general laws regulating divorce and alimony, but shall not have power to grant a divorce or secure alimony in any individual case.

Sec. 11. Private laws in relation to names of persons, etc. The General Assembly shall not have power to pass any private law to alter the name of any person, or to legitimate any person not born in lawful wedlock, or to restore to the rights of citizenship any person convicted of an infamous crime, but shall have power to pass general laws regulating the same.

Sec. 12. Thirty days notice shall be given anterior to passage of private laws. The General Assembly shall not pass any private law, unless it shall be made to appear that thirty days notice of application to pass such a law shall have been given, under such direction and in such manner as shall be provided by law.

Sec. 13. Vacancies. If a vacancy shall occur in the General Assembly by death, resignation or otherwise, the said vacancy shall be filled immediately by the Governor appointing the person recommended by the executive committee of the county in which the deceased or resigned member was resident, being the executive committee of the political party with which the deceased or resigned member was affiliated at the time of his election.

Sec. 14. Revenue. No law shall be passed to raise money on the credit of the State, or to pledge the faith of the State, directly or indirectly, for the payment of any debt, or to impose any tax upon the people of the State, or to allow the counties, cities or towns to do so, unless the bill for the purpose shall have been read three several times in each house of the General Assembly and passed three several readings, which readings shall have been on three different days, and agreed to by each house respectively, and unless the yeas and nays on the second and third readings of the bill shall have been entered on the journal.

Sec. 15. Entails. The General Assembly shall regulate entails in such a manner as to prevent perpetuities.

Sec. 16. Journals. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, which shall be printed and made public immediately after the adjournment of the General Assembly.

Sec. 17. Protest. Any member of either house may dissent from, and protest against, any act or resolve which he may think injurious to the public, or any individual, and have the reasons for his dissent entered on the journal.

Sec. 18. Officers of the House. The House of Representatives shall choose their own Speaker and other officers.

Sec. 19. President of the Senate. The Lieutenant-Governor shall preside in the Senate, but shall have no vote unless it may be equally divided.

Sec. 20. Other senatorial officers. The Senate shall elect from its membership a President Pro Tempore, who shall become President of the Senate upon the failure of the Lieutenant-Governor-elect to qualify, or upon succession by the Lieutenant-Governor to the office of Governor, or upon the death, resignation, or removal from office of the President of the Senate, and who shall serve until the expiration of his term of office as Senator.

During the physical or mental incapacity of the President of the Senate to perform the duties of his office, or during the absence of the President of the Senate, the President Pro Tempore shall preside over the Senate. The Senate shall elect its other officers.

Sec. 21. Style of the acts. The style of the acts shall be: "The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact."

Sec. 22. Powers of the General Assembly. Each house shall be judge of the qualifications and election of its own members, shall sit upon its own adjournment from day to day, prepare bills to be passed into laws; and the two houses may also jointly adjourn to any future day, or other place.

Sec. 23. Bills and resolutions to be read three times, etc. All bills and resolutions of a legislative nature shall be read three times in each house before they pass into laws, and shall be signed by the presiding officers of both houses.

Sec. 24. Oath of members. Each member of the General Assembly, before taking his seat, shall take an oath or affirmation that he will support the Constitution and laws of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of North Carolina, and will faithfully discharge his duty as a member of the Senate or House of Representatives.

Sec. 25. Terms of office. The terms of office for Senators and members of the House of Representatives shall commence at the time of their election.

Sec. 26. Yeas and nays. Upon motion made and seconded in either house by one-fifth of the members present, the yeas and nays upon any question shall be taken and entered upon the journals.

Sec. 27. Election for members of the General Assembly. The election for members of the General Assembly shall be held for the respective districts and counties, at the places where they are now held, or may be directed hereafter to be held, in such manner as may be prescribed by law, on the first Thursday in August, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy, and every two years thereafter. But the General Assembly may change the time of holding the elections.

Sec. 28. Pay of members and presiding officers of the General Assembly. The members of the General Assembly for the term for which they have been elected shall receive as a compensation for their services the sum of fifteen dollars ($15.00) per day for each day of their session for a period not exceeding 120 days.

The compensation of the presiding officers of the two houses shall be twenty dollars ($20.00) per day for a period not exceeding 120 days. Should an extra session of the General Assembly be called, the members and presiding officers shall receive a like rate of compensation for a period not exceeding 25 days. The members and presiding officers shall also receive, while engaged in legislative duties, such subsistence and travel allowance as shall be established by law; provided, such allowances shall not exceed those established for members of State boards and commissions generally.

Sec. 29. Limitations upon power of General Assembly to enact private or special legislation. The General Assembly shall not pass any local, private or special act or resolution relating to health, sanitation, and the abatement of nuisances, changing the names of cities, towns, and townships; authorizing the laying out, opening, altering, maintaining, or discontinuing of highways, streets, or alleys; relating to ferries or bridges; relating to non-navigable streams; relating to cemeteries; relating to the pay of jurors; erecting new townships, or changing township lines, or establishing or changing the lines of school districts; remitting fines, penalties, and forfeitures, or refunding moneys legally paid into the public treasury; regulating labor, trade, mining, or manufacturing; extending the time for the assessment or collection of taxes or otherwise relieving any collector of taxes from the due performance of his official duties or his sureties from liability; giving effect to informal wills and deeds; nor shall the General Assembly enact any such local, private or special act by the partial repeal of a general law, but the General Assembly may at any time repeal local, private or special laws enacted by it. Any local, private or special act of resolution passed in violation of the provisions of this section shall be void. The General Assembly shall have power to pass general laws regulating matters set out in this section.

Sec. 30. Inviolability of sinking funds. The General Assembly shall not use nor authorize to be used any part of the amount of any sinking fund for any purpose other than the retirement of the bonds for which said sinking fund has been created.

Sec. 31. Use of funds of Teachers' and State Employees' Retirement System restricted. The General Assembly shall not use or authorize to be used, nor shall any agency of the State, public officer or public employee use or authorize to be used the funds, or any part of the funds, of the Teachers' and State Employees' Retirement System except for retirement system purposes. The funds for the Teachers' and State Employees' Retirement System shall not be applied, diverted, loaned to or used by the State, any State agency, State officer, public officer or employee except for purposes of the Retirement System: Provided, that nothing in this Section shall prohibit the use of said funds for the payment of benefits as authorized by the Teachers' and State Employees' Retirement Law, nor shall anything in this provision prohibit the proper investment of said funds as may be authorized by law.

ARTICLE III

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

Section 1. Officers of the Executive Department; terms of office. The Executive Department shall consist of a Governor, in whom shall be vested the supreme executive power of the State; a Lieutenant-Governor, a Secretary of State, an Auditor, a Treasurer, a Superintendent of Public Instruction, an Attorney General, a Commissioner of Agriculture, a Commissioner of Labor, and a Commissioner of Insurance, who shall be elected for a term of four years by the qualified electors of the State, at the same time and places and in the same manner as members of the General Assembly are elected. Their term of office shall commence on the first day of January next after their election, and continue until their successors are elected and qualified: Provided, that the officers first elected shall assume the duties of their office ten days after the approval of this Constitution by the Congress of the United States, and shall hold their offices four years from and after the first day of January.

Sec. 2. Qualifications of Governor and Lieutenant-Governor. No person shall be eligible for election to the office of Governor or Lieutenant-Governor, unless he shall have attained the age of 30 years, shall have been a citizen of the United States five years, and shall have been a resident of this State for two years next before the election; nor shall a person elected to either of these two offices be eligible for election for the next succeeding term of the same office.

Sec. 3. Returns of elections. The return of every election for officers of the Executive Department shall be sealed up and transmitted to the seat of government by the returning officer, directed to the Secretary of State. The return shall be canvassed and the result declared in such manner as may be prescribed by law. Contested elections shall be determined by a joint ballot of both houses of the General Assembly in such manner as shall be prescribed by law.

Sec. 4. Oath of office for Governor. The Governor, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall, in the presence of the members of both branches of the General Assembly, or before any Justice of the Supreme Court, take an oath or affirmation that he will support the Constitution and laws of the United States, and of the State of North Carolina, and that he will faithfully perform the duties appertaining to the office of Governor, to which he has been elected.

Sec. 5. Duties of Governor. The Governor shall reside at the seat of government of this State, and he shall, from time to time, give the General Assembly information of the affairs of the State.

and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall deem expedient.

Sec. 6. Reprieves, commutations and pardons. The Governor shall have power to grant reprieves, commutations, and pardons, after conviction, for all offenses (except in cases of impeachment), upon such conditions as he may think proper, subject to such regulations as may be provided by law relative to the manner of applying for pardons. He shall biennially communicate to the General Assembly each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon granted, stating the name of each convict, the crime for which he was convicted, the sentence and its date, the date of commutation, pardon, or reprieve, and the reasons therefor. The terms reprieves, commutations and pardons shall not include paroles. The General Assembly is authorized and empowered to create a Board of Paroles, provide for the appointment of the members thereof, and enact suitable laws defining the duties and authority of such board to grant, revoke and terminate paroles. The Governor's power of paroles shall continue until July 1, 1955, at which time said power shall cease and shall be vested in such Board of Paroles as may be created by the General Assembly.

Sec. 7. Reports from officers of the Executive Department and of public institutions. The officers of the Executive Department and of the public institutions of the State shall, at least five days previous to each regular session of the General Assembly, severally report to the Governor, who shall transmit such reports, with his message, to the General Assembly; and the Governor may, at any time, require information in writing from the officers in the Executive Department upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices, and shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

Sec. 8. Commander-in-Chief. The Governor shall be Commander-in-Chief of the militia of the State, except when they shall be called into the service of the United States.

Sec. 9. Extra sessions of the General Assembly. The Governor shall have power on extraordinary occasions, by and with the advice of the Council of State, to convene the General Assembly in Extra Session by his proclamation, stating therein the purpose or purposes for which they are thus convened.

Sec. 10. Officers whose appointments are not otherwise provided for. The Governor shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of a majority of the Senators-elect, appoint all officers whose offices are established by this Constitution and whose appointments are not otherwise provided for.

Sec. 11. Duties of the Lieutenant-Governor. The Lieutenant-Governor shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless the Senate shall be equally divided. He shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by the General Assembly.

Sec. 12. Succession to office of Governor. The Lieutenant-Governor-elect shall become Governor upon the failure of the Governor-elect to qualify. The Lieutenant-Governor shall become Governor upon the death, resignation, or removal from office of the Governor. The further order of succession to the office of Governor shall be prescribed by law. A successor shall serve for the remainder of the term of the Governor whom he succeeds and until a new Governor is elected and qualified.

During the absence of the Governor from the State, or during the physical or mental incapacity of the Governor to perform the duties of his office, the Lieutenant-Governor shall be Acting Governor. The further order of succession as Acting Governor shall be prescribed by law.

The Governor may, by a written statement filed with the Secretary of State, declare that he is physically incapable of performing the duties of his office, and may thereafter in the same manner declare that he is physically capable of performing the duties of his office.

The mental incapacity of the Governor to perform the duties of his office shall be determined only by joint resolution adopted by a vote of two-thirds of all the members of each house of the General Assembly. Thereafter, the mental capacity of the Governor to perform the duties of his office shall be determined only by joint resolution adopted by a vote of a majority of all the members of each house of the General Assembly. In all cases, the General Assembly shall give the Governor such notice as it may deem proper and shall allow him an opportunity to be heard before a Joint Session of the General Assembly before it takes final action. When the General Assembly is not in Session, the Council of State, a majority of its members concurring, may convene it in Extra Session for the purpose of proceeding under this paragraph.

Removal of the Governor from office for any other cause shall be by impeachment.

Sec. 13. Duties of other executive officers. The respective duties of the Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Attorney General, Commissioner of Agriculture, Commissioner of Labor, and Commissioner of Insurance shall be prescribed by law. If the office of any of these officers shall be vacated by death, resignation, or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the Governor to appoint another to serve until his successor be elected and qualified. Every such vacancy shall be filled by election at the first election for members of the General Assembly that occurs more than 30 days after the vacancy has taken place, and the person chosen shall hold the office for the remainder of the unexpired term fixed in the first Section of this Article: Provided, that when a vacancy occurs in the office of any of the officers named in this Section and the term expires on the first day of January succeeding the next election for members of the General Assembly, the Governor shall appoint to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term of the office.

Upon the occurrence of a vacancy in the office of any one of these officers for any of the causes stated in the preceding paragraph, the Governor may appoint an acting officer to perform the duties of that office until a person is appointed or elected pursuant to this Section to fill the vacancy and is qualified.

During the physical or mental incapacity of any one of these officers to perform the duties of his office, as determined pursuant to the provisions of this Section, the duties of his office shall be performed by an acting officer who shall be appointed by the Governor.

The General Assembly shall by law prescribe with respect to those officers, other than the Governor, whose offices are created by this Article, procedures for determining the physical or mental incapacity of any officer to perform the duties of his office, and for determining whether an officer who has been temporarily incapacitated has sufficiently recovered his physical or mental capacity to perform the duties of his office. Removal of those officers from office for any other cause shall be by impeachment.

Sec. 14. Council of State. The Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Commissioner of Agriculture, Commissioner of Labor, and Commissioner of Insurance shall constitute, ex officio, the Council of State, who shall advise the Governor in the execution of his office, and three of whom shall constitute a quorum; their advice and proceedings in this capacity shall be entered in a journal, to be kept for this purpose, exclusively, and signed by the members present, from any part of which any member may enter his dissent; and such journal shall be placed before the General Assembly when called for by either house. The Attorney General shall be, ex officio, the legal adviser of the Executive Department.

Sec. 15. Compensation of executive officers. The officers mentioned in this Article shall, at stated periods, receive for their services a compensation to be established by the General Assembly, which shall not be diminished during the time for which they shall have been elected.

Sec. 16. Seal of State. There shall be a seal of the State, which shall be kept by the Governor, and used by him, as occasion may require, and shall be called "The Great Seal of the State of North Carolina". All grants and commissions shall be issued in the name and by the authority of the State of North Carolina, sealed with "The Great Seal of the State", signed by the Governor, and countersigned by the Secretary of State.

Sec. 17. Department of Agriculture, Immigration and Statistics. The General Assembly shall establish a Department of Agriculture, Immigration, and Statistics, under such regulations as may best promote the agricultural interests of the State, and shall enact laws for the adequate protection and encouragement of sheep husbandry.

Sec. 18. Department of Justice. The General Assembly is authorized and empowered to create a Department of Justice under the supervision and direction of the Attorney General, and to enact suitable laws defining the authority of the Attorney General and other officers and agencies concerning the prosecution of crime and the administration of the criminal laws of the State.

ARTICLE IV

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT

Section 1. Division of judicial power. The judicial power of the State shall, except as provided in Section 3 of this Article, be vested in a Court for the Trial of Impeachments and in a General Court of Justice. The General Assembly shall have no power to deprive the judicial department of any power or jurisdiction which right fully pertains to it as a co-ordinate department of the government, nor shall it establish or authorize any courts other than as permitted by this Article.

Sec. 2. General Court of Justice. The General Court of Justice shall constitute a unified judicial system for purposes of jurisdiction, operation, and administration; and shall consist of an appellate division, a Superior Court division, and a District Court division.

Sec. 3. Judicial powers of administrative agencies. The General Assembly may vest in administrative agencies established pursuant to law such judicial powers as may be reasonably necessary as an incident to the accomplishment of the purposes for which the agencies were created. Appeals from administrative agencies shall be to the General Court of Justice.

Sec. 4. Court for the Trial of Impeachments. The House of Representatives solely shall have the power of impeaching. The Court for the Trial of Impeachments shall be the Senate. When the Governor or Lieutenant-Governor is impeached, the Chief Justice shall preside over the Court. A majority of the members shall be necessary to a quorum, and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the Senators present. Judgment upon conviction shall not extend beyond removal from and disqualification to hold office in this State, but the party shall be liable to indictment and punishment according to law.

Sec. 5. Appellate Division. The Appellate Division of the General Court of Justice shall consist of the Supreme Court and, when established by the General Assembly, an intermediate Court of Appeals.

Sec. 6. Supreme Court.

(1) Membership. The Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and six Associate Justices, but the General Assembly may increase the number of Associate Justices to not more than eight. In the event the Chief Justice is unable, on account of absence or temporary incapacity, to perform any of the duties placed upon him, the senior Associate Justice available is authorized to discharge such duties. The General Assembly may provide for the retirement of members of the Supreme Court and for the recall of such retired members to serve on that Court in lieu of any active member thereof who is, for any cause, temporarily incapacitated.

(2) Sessions of the Supreme Court. The sessions of the Supreme Court shall be held in the City of Raleigh unless otherwise provided by the General Assembly.

Sec. 6A. Court of Appeals. The structure, organization, and composition of the Court of Appeals, if established, shall be determined by the General Assembly. The Court shall have not less than five members, and may be authorized to sit in divisions, or other than en banc. Sessions of the Court shall be held at such times and places as the General Assembly may prescribe. The General Assembly may provide for the retirement of members of the Court of Appeals and for the recall of such retired members to serve on that Court in lieu of any active member thereof who is, for any cause, temporarily incapacitated.

Sec. 7. Superior Courts.

(1) Superior Court districts. The General Assembly shall, from time to time, divide the State into a convenient number of Superior Court judicial districts and shall provide for the election of one or more Superior Court Judges for each district. Each regular Superior Court Judge shall reside in the district for which he is elected. The General Assembly may provide by general law for the selection or appointment of special or emergency Superior Court Judges not selected for a particular judicial district.

(2) Open at all times; sessions for trial of cases. The Superior Courts shall be open at all times for the transaction of all business except the trial of issues of fact requiring a jury. Regular trial sessions of the Superior Court shall be held at times fixed pursuant to a calendar of courts promulgated by the Supreme Court. At least two sessions for the trial of jury cases shall be held annually in each county.

(3) Clerks. A Clerk of the Superior Court for each county shall be elected for a term of four years by the qualified voters thereof, at the time and in the manner prescribed by law for the election of members of the General Assembly. If the office of Clerk of the Superior Court becomes vacant otherwise than by the expiration of the term, or if the people fail to elect, the senior regular resident Judge of the Superior Court serving the county shall appoint to fill the vacancy until an election can be regularly held.

Sec. 8. District Courts. The General Assembly shall, from time to time, divide the State into a convenient number of local court districts and shall prescribe where the District Courts shall sit; but a District Court must sit in at least one place in each county. District Judges shall be elected for each district for a term of four years, in a manner provided by law. When more than one District Judge is authorized and elected for a district, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court shall designate one of the judges as Chief District Judge. Every District Judge shall reside in the district for which he is elected. For each county, the senior regular resident Judge of the Superior Court serving the county shall appoint for a term of two years, from nominations submitted by the Clerk of the Superior Court of the county, one or more Magistrates who shall be officers of the District Court. The number of District Judges and Magistrates shall, from time to time, be determined by the General Assembly. Vacancies in the office of District Judge shall be filled, for the unexpired term, in a manner provided by law. Vacancies in the office of Magistrate shall be filled, for the unexpired term, in the manner provided for original appointment to the office.

Sec. 9. Assignment of Judges. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, acting in accordance with rules of the Supreme Court, shall make assignments of Judges of the Superior Court and may transfer District Judges from one district to another for temporary or specialized duty. The principle of rotating Superior Court Judges among the various districts of a division is a salutary one and shall be observed. For this purpose the General Assembly may divide the State into a number of judicial divisions. Subject to the general supervision of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, assignment of District Judges within each local court district shall be made by the Chief District Judge.

Sec. 10. Jurisdiction of the General Court of Justice.

(1) Supreme Court. The Supreme Court shall have jurisdiction to review upon appeal any decision of the courts below, upon any matter of law or legal inference. The jurisdiction of the Supreme Court over "issues of fact" and "questions of fact" shall be the same exercised by it prior to the adoption of this Article, and the Court shall have the power to issue any remedial writs necessary to give it a general supervision and control over the proceedings of the other courts. The Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction to hear claims against the State, but its decisions shall be merely recommendatory; no process in the nature of execution shall issue thereon; the decisions shall be reported to the next Session of the General Assembly for its action.

(2) Court of Appeals. The Court of Appeals, if established, shall have such appellate jurisdiction as the General Assembly may provide.

(3) Superior Court. Except as otherwise provided by the General Assembly, the Superior Court shall have original general jurisdiction throughout the State. The Clerks of the Superior Court shall have such jurisdiction and powers as the General Assembly shall provide by general law uniformly applicable in every county of the State.

(4) District Courts; Magistrates. The General Assembly shall, by general law uniformly applicable in every local court district of the State, prescribe the jurisdiction and powers of the District Courts and Magistrates.

(5) Waiver. The General Assembly may by general law provide that the jurisdictional limits may be waived in civil cases.

(6) Appeals. The General Assembly shall, by general law, provide a proper system of appeals: Provided, that appeals from Magistrates shall be heard de novo, with the right of trial by jury as defined in this Constitution and the laws of this State.

Sec. 11. Forms of action; rules of procedure.

(1) Forms of action. There shall be in this State but one form of action for the enforcement or protection of private rights or the redress of private wrongs, which shall be denominated a civil action, and in which there shall be a right to have issues of fact tried before a jury. Every action prosecuted by the people of the State as a party against a person charged with a public offense, for the punishment of the same, shall be termed a criminal action.

(2) Rules of procedure. The Supreme Court shall have exclusive authority to make rules of procedure and practice for the appellate division. The General Assembly shall have authority to make rules of procedure and practice for the Superior Court and District Court divisions, and the General Assembly may delegate this authority to the Supreme Court. No rule of procedure or practice shall abridge substantive rights or abrogate or limit the right of trial by jury. If the General Assembly should delegate to the Supreme Court the rule-making power, the General Assembly may, nevertheless, alter, amend, or repeal any rule of procedure or practice adopted by the Supreme Court for the Superior Court or District Court divisions.

Sec. 12. Waiver of jury trial. In all issues of fact joined in any court, the parties in any civil case may waive the right to have the same determined by a jury; in which case the finding of the judge upon the facts shall have the force and effect of a verdict by a jury.

Sec. 13. Administration. The General Assembly shall provide for an administrative office of the courts to carry out the provisions of this Article.

Sec. 14. Terms of office and election of Justices of the Supreme Court, Judges of the Court of Appeals, and Judges of the Superior Court. Justices of the Supreme Court, Judges of the Court of Appeals, and regular judges of the Superior Court shall be elected by the qualified voters and shall hold office for terms of eight years and until their successors are elected and qualified. Justices of the Supreme Court and judges of the Court of Appeals shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State. Regular Judges of the Superior Court may be elected by the qualified voters of the State or by the voters of their respective districts, as the General Assembly may provide.

Sec. 15. Removal of judges and clerks.

(1) Justices of the Supreme Court, Judges of the Court of Appeals, and Judges of Superior Court. Any Justice of the Supreme Court, Judge of the Court of Appeals, or Judge of the Superior Court may be removed from office for mental or physical incapacity by Joint Resolution of two-thirds of both houses of the General Assembly. Any Justice or Judge against whom the General Assembly may be about to proceed shall receive notice thereof, accompanied by a copy of the causes alleged for his removal, at least twenty days before the day on which either house of the General Assembly shall act thereon. Removal from office for any other cause shall be by impeachment.

(2) District Judges and Magistrates. The General Assembly shall provide by general law for the removal of District Judges and Magistrates for misconduct or mental or physical incapacity.

(3) Clerks. Any Clerk of the Superior Court may be removed from office for misconduct or mental or physical incapacity by the senior regular resident Superior Court Judge serving the county. Any Clerk against whom proceedings are instituted shall receive written notice of the charges against him at least ten days before the hearing upon the charges. Clerks of District Courts shall be removed for such causes and in such manner as the General Assembly may provide by general law. Any Clerk so removed from office shall be entitled to an appeal as provided by law.

Sec. 16. Solicitors and solicitorial districts.

(1) Solicitors. The General Assembly shall, from time to time, divide the State into a convenient number of solicitorial districts, for each of which a Solicitor shall be chosen for a term of four years by the qualified voters thereof, as is prescribed for members of the General Assembly. When the Attorney General determines that there is serious imbalance in the work loads of the Solicitors or that there is other good cause, he shall recommend redistricting to the General Assembly. The Solicitor shall advise the officers of justice in his district, be responsible for the prosecution on behalf of the State of all criminal actions in the Superior Courts of his district, perform such duties related to appeals therefrom as the Attorney General may require, and perform such other duties as the General Assembly may prescribe.

(2) Prosecution in District Court division. Criminal actions in the District Court division shall be prosecuted in such manner as the General Assembly may prescribe by general law uniformly applicable in every local court district of the State.

Sec. 17. Vacancies. Unless otherwise provided in this Article, all vacancies occurring in the offices provided for by this Article shall be filled by appointment of the Governor, and the appointees shall hold their places until the next election for members of the General Assembly that is held more than thirty days after such vacancy occurs, when elections shall be held to fill such offices: Provided, that when the unexpired term of any of the offices named in this Article of the Constitution in which such vacancy has occurred, and in which it is herein provided that the Governor shall fill the vacancy, expires on the first day of January succeeding the next election for members of the General Assembly, the Governor shall appoint to fill that vacancy for the unexpired term of the office. If any person elected or appointed to any of said offices shall neglect and fail to qualify, such office shall be appointed to, held, and filled as provided in case of vacancies occurring therein. All incumbents of said offices shall hold until their successors are qualified.

Sec. 18. Revenues and expenses of the judicial department. The General Assembly shall provide for the establishment of a schedule of court fees and costs which shall be uniform throughout the State within each division of the General Court of Justice. The operating expenses of the judicial department, other than compensation to process servers and other locally paid non-judicial officers, shall be paid from State funds.

Sec. 19. Fees, salaries, and emoluments. The General Assembly shall prescribe and regulate the fees, salaries, and emoluments of all officers provided for in this Article; but the salaries of judges shall not be diminished during their continuance in office. In no case shall the compensation of any Judge or Magistrate be dependent upon his decision or upon the collection of costs.

Sec. 20. Effect of uniform general law requirement. Where the General Assembly is required by the provisions of this Article to enact only general laws uniformly applicable throughout the State or in every county or local court district thereof, no special, public-local, or private law shall be enacted relating to the subject-matter of those provisions, and every amendment or repeal of any law relating to such subject-matter shall also be general and uniform in its application and effect throughout the State.

Sec. 21. Schedule. Immediately upon the certification by the Governor to the Secretary of State of the amendments constituting this Article, the Supreme Court and the Superior Courts shall be incorporated within the General Court of Justice, as provided in this Article. All Justices of the Supreme Court and Judges of the Superior Court shall continue to serve as such within the General Court of Justice for the remainder of their respective terms.

The statutes and rules governing procedure and practice in the Superior Courts and inferior courts, in force at the time the amendments constituting this Article are ratified by the people, shall continue in force until superseded or repealed by rules of procedure and practice adopted pursuant to Section 11(2) of this Article.

Upon certification of the Governor to the Secretary of State of the amendments constituting this Article, the General Assembly shall proceed as rapidly as practicable, to provide for the creation of local court districts and the establishment of District Courts therein: District Courts shall be established to serve every county of the State by not later than January 1, 1971. As of January 1, 1971, all previously existing courts inferior to the Superior Court shall cease to exist, and cases pending in these courts shall be transferred as provided in the next succeeding paragraph of this Section. Until a District Court has been thus established to serve a county, all of the courts of that county, including the Superior Court, shall continue to be financed and the revenues of these courts shall continue to be paid as they were immediately prior to the certification of the amendments constituting this Article; and the laws and rules governing these courts and appeals from the inferior courts to the Superior Court shall continue in force and shall be deemed to comply with the provisions of this Article.

As soon as a District Court shall have been established for a county, all of the provisions of this Article shall become fully effective with respect to the courts in that county, and all previously existing courts inferior to the Superior Court shall cease to exist. All cases pending in these inferior courts shall be transferred to the appropriate division of the General Court of Justice, and all records of these courts shall be transferred to the appropriate Clerk's office pursuant to rule of the Supreme Court. Judges of these inferior courts, except Mayor's Courts and Justice of the Peace Courts, shall become District Judges and shall serve as such for remainders of their respective terms.

As soon as a District Court has been established to serve every county of the State, all of the provisions of this Article shall become fully effective throughout the State.

ARTICLE V

REVENUE AND TAXATION

Section 1. Capitation tax; exemptions. The General Assembly may levy a capitation tax on every male inhabitant of the State over twenty-one and under fifty years of age, which said tax shall not exceed two dollars ($2.00), and cities and towns may levy a capitation tax which shall not exceed one dollar ($1.00). No other capitation tax shall be levied. The commissioners of the several counties and of the cities and towns may exempt from the capitation tax any special cases on account of poverty or infirmity.

Sec. 2. Application of proceeds of State and county capitation tax. The proceeds of the State and county capitation tax shall be applied to the purposes of education and the support of the poor, but in no one year shall more than twenty-five per cent (25%) thereof be appropriated for the latter purpose.

Sec. 3. State taxation. The power of taxation shall be exercised in a just and equitable manner, for public purposes only, and shall never be surrendered, suspended, or contracted away. Only the General Assembly shall have the power to classify property and other subjects for taxation, which power shall be exercised only on a State-wide basis. No class or subject shall be taxed except by a uniform rule, and every classification shall be uniformly applicable in every county, municipality, and other local taxing unit of the State. The General Assembly's power to classify shall not be delegated, except that the General Assembly may permit the governing boards of counties, cities, and towns to classify trades and professions for local license tax purposes. The General Assembly may also tax trades, professions, franchises, and income: Provided, the rate of tax on income shall not in any case exceed ten per cent (10%), and there shall be allowed the following exemptions, to be deducted from the amount of annual incomes, to-wit: for a married man with a wife living with him, or to a widow or widower having minor child or children, natural or adopted, not less than two thousand dollars ($2,000.00); to all other persons not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), and there may be allowed other deductions (not including living expenses) so that only net incomes are taxed.

Sec. 4. Limitations upon the increase of public debts. The General Assembly shall have the power to contract debts and to pledge the faith and credit of the State and to authorize counties and municipalities to contract debts and pledge their faith and credit for the following purposes: To fund or refund a valid existing debt; to borrow in anticipation of the collection of taxes due and payable within the fiscal year to an amount not exceeding fifty per centum of such taxes; to supply a casual deficit; to suppress riots or insurrections, or to repel invasions. For any purpose other than these enumerated, the General Assembly shall have no power, during any biennium, to contract new debts on behalf of the State to an amount in excess of two-thirds of the amount by which the State's outstanding indebtedness shall have been reduced during the next preceding biennium, unless the subject be submitted to a vote of the people of the State; and for any purpose other than these enumerated the General Assembly shall have no power to authorize counties or municipalities to contract debts, and counties and municipalities shall not contract debts, during any fiscal year, to an amount exceeding two-thirds of the amount by which the outstanding indebtedness of the particular county or municipality shall have been reduced during the next preceding fiscal year, unless the subject be submitted to a vote of the people of the particular county or municipality. In any election held in the State or in any county or municipality under the provisions of this Section, the proposed indebtedness must be approved by a majority of those who shall vote thereon. And the General Assembly shall have no power to give or lend the credit of the State in aid of any person, association, or corporation except to aid in the completion of such railroads as may be unfinished at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, or in which the State has a direct pecuniary interest, unless the subject be submitted to a direct vote of the people of the State, and be approved by a majority of those who shall vote thereon.

Sec. 5. Property exempt from taxation. Property belonging to the State, counties and municipal corporations shall be exempt from taxation. The General Assembly may exempt cemeteries and property held for educational, scientific, literary, cultural, charitable, or religious purposes, and, to a value not exceeding three hundred dollars ($300.00), any personal property. The General Assembly may exempt from taxation not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) in value of property held and used as the place of residence of the owner. Every exemption shall be on a State-wide basis and shall be uniformly applicable in every county, municipality, and other local taxing unit of the State. No taxing authority other than the General Assembly may grant exemptions, and the General Assembly shall not delegate the powers accorded to it by this Section.

Sec. 6. Taxes levied for counties. The total of the State and county tax on property shall not exceed twenty cents (20¢) on the one hundred dollars ($100.00) value of property, except when the county property tax is levied for a special purpose and with the special approval of the General Assembly, which may be done by special or general act: Provided, this limitation shall not apply to taxes levied for the maintenance of the public schools of the State for the term required by Article IX, Section 3, of the Constitution: Provided, further, the State tax shall not exceed five cents (5c) on the one hundred dollars ($100.00) value of property.

Sec. 7. Acts levying taxes shall state objects, etc. Every act of the General Assembly levying a tax shall state the special object to which it is to be applied, and it shall be applied to no other purpose.

ARTICLE VI

SUFFRAGE AND ELIGIBILITY TO OFFICE

Section. 1. Who may vote. Every person born in the United States, and every person who has been naturalized, twenty-one years of age, and possessing the qualifications set out in this Article, shall be entitled to vote at any election by the people of the State, except as herein otherwise provided.

Sec. 2. Qualifications of voter. Any person who shall have resided in the State of North Carolina for one year, and in the precinct, ward or other election district in which such person offers to vote for thirty days next preceding an election, and possessing the other qualifications set out in this Article, shall be entitled to vote at any election held in this State; provided, that removal from one precinct, ward or other election district to another in this State shall not operate to deprive any person of the right to vote in the precinct, ward or other election district from which such person has removed until thirty days after such removal. No person who has been convicted, or who has confessed his guilt in open court upon indictment, of any crime the punishment of which now is, or may hereafter be, imprisonment in the State's Prison, shall be permitted to vote unless the said person shall be first restored to citizenship in the manner prescribed by law.

The General Assembly may, however, reduce the time of residence, preceding a Presidential Election, for a person possessing all other qualifications of a voter, in which such person shall be entitled to vote for the choice of electors for President and Vice President of the United States only. Any person eligible to vote for electors for President and Vice President of the United States by reason of a reduction in time of residence shall not thereby become eligible to hold office in this State.

Sec. 3. Voters to be registered. Every person offering to vote shall be at the time a legally registered voter as herein prescribed, and in the manner hereafter provided by law, and the General Assembly of North Carolina shall enact general registration laws to carry into effect the provisions of this Article.

Sec. 4. Qualification for registration. Every person presenting himself for registration shall be able to read and write any section of the Constitution in the English language. But no male person who was, on January 1, 1867, or at any time prior thereto, entitled to vote under the laws of any State in the United States wherein he then resided, and no lineal descendent of any such person, shall be denied the right to register and vote at any election in this State by reason of his failure to possess the educational qualifications herein prescribed: Provided, he shall have registered in accordance with the terms of this Section prior to December 1, 1908. The General Assembly shall provide for the registration of all persons entitled to vote without the educational qualifications herein prescribed, and shall, on or before November 1, 1908, provide for the making of a permanent record of such registration, and all persons so registered shall forever thereafter have the right to vote in all elections by the people in this State, unless disqualified under Section 2 of this Article.

Sec. 5. Indivisible plan; legislative intent. That this amendment to the Constitution is presented and adopted as one indivisible plan for the regulation of the suffrage, with the intent and purpose to so connect the different parts, and make them so dependent upon each other, that the whole shall stand or fall together.

Sec. 6. Elections by people and General Assembly. All elections by the people shall be by ballot, and all elections by the General Assembly shall be viva voce.

Sec. 7. Eligibility to office; official oath. Every voter in North Carolina except as in this Article disqualified, shall be eligible to office, but before entering upon the duties of the office, he shall take and subscribe the following oath:

"I, _____, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support and maintain the Constitution and laws of the United States, and the Constitution and laws of North Carolina not inconsistent therewith, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of my office as . . . So help me, God."

Sec. 8. Disqualification for office. The following classes of persons shall be disqualified for office: First, all persons who shall deny the being of Almighty God. Second, all persons who shall have been convicted or confessed their guilt on indictment pending, and whether sentenced or not, or under judgment suspended, of any treason or felony, or of any other crime for which the punishment may be imprisonment in the penitentiary, since becoming citizens of the United States, or of corruption or malpractice in office, unless such person shall be restored to the rights of citizenship in a manner prescribed by law.

Sec. 9. When this chapter operative. That this amendment to the Constitution shall go into effect on the first day of July, nineteen hundred and two, if a majority of votes cast at the next general election shall be cast in favor of this suffrage amendment.

ARTICLE VII

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS

Section 1. County officers. In each county there shall be elected biennially by the qualified voters thereof, as provided for the election of members of the General Assembly, the following officers: A treasurer, register of deeds, surveyor, and five commissioners. (Under authority of the Public Laws of 1935, c. 362, s. 1, provision was made for the quadrennial election of registers of deeds, certain counties being exempted.)

Sec. 2. Duty of county commissioners. It shall be the duty of the commissioners to exercise a general supervision and control of the penal and charitable institutions, schools, roads, bridges, levying of taxes, and finances of the county, as may be prescribed by law. The register of deeds shall be ex officio clerk of the board of commissioners.

Sec. 3. Counties to be divided into districts. It shall be the duty of the commissioners first elected in each county to divide the same into convenient districts, to determine the boundaries and prescribe the name of the said districts, and to report the same to the General Assembly before the first day of January, 1869.

Sec. 4. Townships have corporate powers. Upon the approval of the reports provided for in the foregoing section by the General Assembly, the said districts shall have corporate powers for the necessary purposes of local government, and shall be known as townships.

Sec. 5. Sheriffs. In each county a Sheriff shall be elected by the qualified voters thereof as is prescribed for members of the General Assembly, and shall hold his office for a period of four years. In case of a vacancy existing for any cause in any Sheriff's office, the governing authority of the county shall fill such vacancy by appointment for the unexpired term.

Sec. 6. No debt or loan except by a majority of voters. No county, city, town, or other municipal corporation shall contract any debt, pledge its faith or loan its credit, nor shall any tax be levied or collected by any officers of the same except for the necessary expenses thereof, unless approved by a majority of those who shall vote thereon in any election held for such purpose.

Sec. 7. No money drawn except by law. No money shall be drawn from any county or township treasury, except by authority of law.

Sec. 8. Charters to remain in force until legally changed. All charters, ordinances, and provisions relating to municipal corporations shall remain in force until legally changed, unless inconsistent with the provisions of this Constitution.

Sec. 9. Debts in aid of the rebellion not to be paid. No county, city, town, or other municipal corporation shall assume or pay, nor shall any tax be levied or collected for the payment of any debt, or the interest upon any debt, contracted directly or indirectly in aid or support of the rebellion.

Sec. 10. Powers of General Assembly over municipal corporations. The General Assembly shall have full power by statute to modify, change, or abrogate any and all of the provisions of this Article, and substitute others in their place, except Sections 5, 6, 7, and 9.

ARTICLE VIII

CORPORATIONS OTHER THAN MUNICIPAL

Section 1 Corporations under general laws. No corporation shall be created, nor shall its charter be extended, altered, or amended by special act, except corporations for charitable, educational, penal, or reformatory purposes that are to be and remain under the patronage and control of the State; but the General Assembly shall provide by general laws for the chartering and organization of all corporations, and for amending, extending, and forfeiture of all charters, except those above permitted by special act. All such general laws and special acts may be altered from time to time or repealed; and the General Assembly may at any time by special act repeal the charter of any corporation.

Sec. 2. Debts of corporations, how secured. Dues from corporations shall be secured by such individual liabilities of the corporations, and other means, as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 3. What corporations shall include. The term "corporation" as used in this Article, shall be construed to include all associations and joint-stock companies having any of the powers and privileges of corporations not possessed by individuals or partnerships. And all corporations shall have the right to sue, and shall be subject to be sued, in all courts, in like cases as natural persons.

Sec. 4. Legislature to provide for organizing cities, towns, etc. It shall be the duty of the Legislature to provide by general laws for the organization of cities, towns, and incorporated villages, and to restrict their power of taxation, assessment, borrowing money, contracting debts, and loaning their credit, so as to prevent abuses in assessment and in contracting debts by such municipal corporations.

ARTICLE IX

EDUCATION

Section 1 Education shall be encouraged. Religion, morality, and knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged.

Sec. 2. General Assembly shall provide for schools; separation of the races. The General Assembly, at its first session under this Constitution, shall provide by taxation and otherwise for a general and uniform system of public schools, wherein tuition shall be free of charge to all the children of the State between the ages of six and twenty-one years. And the children of the white race and the children of the colored race shall be taught in separate public schools; but there shall be no discrimination in favor of, or to the prejudice of, either race.

Sec. 3. Counties to be divided into districts. Each county of the State shall be divided into a convenient number of districts, in which one or more public schools shall be maintained at least six months in every year; and if the commissioners of any county shall fail to comply with the aforesaid requirements of this Section, they shall be liable to indictment.

Sec. 4. What property devoted to educational purposes. The proceeds of all lands that have been or hereafter may be granted by the United States to this State, and not otherwise appropriated by this State or the United States; also all moneys, stocks, bonds, and other property now belonging to any State fund for purposes of education; also the net proceeds of all sales of the swamp lands belonging to the State, and all other grants, gifts or devices that have been or hereafter may be made to the State, and not otherwise appropriated by the State, or by the terms of the grant, gift or devise, shall be paid into the State Treasury, and, together with so much of the ordinary revenue of the State as may be by law set apart for that purpose, shall be faithfully appropriated for establishing and maintaining in this State a system of free public schools, and for no other uses or purposes whatsoever.

Sec. 5. County school fund; proviso. All moneys, stocks, bonds, and other property belonging to a county school fund; also the net proceeds from the sale of estrays; also the clear proceeds of all penalties and forfeitures and of all fines collected in the several counties for any breach of the penal or military laws of the State; and all moneys which shall be paid by persons as an equivalent for exemption from military duty shall belong to and remain in the several counties, and shall be faithfully appropriated for establishing and maintaining free public schools in the several counties of this State: Provided, that the amount collected in each county shall be annually reported to the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Sec. 6. Election of trustees, and provisions for maintenance, of the University. The General Assembly shall have power to provide for the election of trustees of the University of North Carolina, in whom, when chosen, shall be vested all the privileges, rights, franchises and endowments thereof in any wise granted to or conferred upon the trustees of said University; and the General Assembly may make such provisions, laws, and regulations from time to time, as may be necessary and expedient for the maintenance and management of said University.

Sec. 7. Benefits of the University. The General Assembly shall provide that the benefits of the University, as far as practicable, be extended to the youth of the State free of expense for tuition; also, that all the property which has heretofore accrued to the State, or shall hereafter accrue, from escheats, unclaimed dividends, or distributive shares of the estates of deceased persons, shall be appropriated to the use of the University.

Sec. 8. State Board of Education. The general supervision and administration of the free public school system, and of the educational funds provided for the support thereof, except those mentioned in Section five of this Article, shall, from and after the first day of April, one thousand nine hundred and forty-five, be vested in the State Board of Education to consist of the Lieutenant-Governor, State Treasurer, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and ten members to be appointed by the Governor, subject to confirmation by the General Assembly in Joint Session. The General Assembly shall divide the State into eight educational districts, which may be altered from time to time by the General Assembly. Of the appointive members of the State Board of Education, one shall be appointed from each of the eight educational districts, and two shall be appointed as members at large. The first appointments under this Section shall be: Two members appointed from educational districts for terms of two years; two members appointed from educational districts for terms of four years; two members appointed from educational districts for terms of six years; and two members appointed from educational districts for terms of eight years. One member at large shall be appointed for a period of four years and one member at large shall be appointed for a period of eight years. All subsequent appointments shall be for terms of eight years. Any appointments to fill vacancies shall be made by the Governor for the unexpired term, which appointments shall not be subject to confirmation. The State Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be the administrative head of the public school system and shall be secretary of the Board. The Board shall elect a chairman and vice-chairman. A majority of the Board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The per diem and expenses of the appointive members shall be provided by the General Assembly.

Sec. 9. Powers and duties of the Board. The State Board of Education shall succeed to all the powers and trusts of the President and Directors of The Literary Fund of North Carolina and the State Board of Education as heretofore constituted. The State Board of Education shall have power to divide the State into a convenient number of school districts; to regulate the grade, salary and qualifications of teachers, to provide for the selection and adoption of the textbooks to be used in the public schools; to apportion and equalize the public school funds over the State; and generally to supervise and administer the free public school system of the State and to make all needful rules and regulations in relation thereto. All the powers enumerated in this Section shall be exercised in conformity with this Constitution and subject to such laws as may be enacted from time to time by the General Assembly.

Sec. 10. Agricultural department. As soon as practicable after the adoption of this Constitution, the General Assembly shall establish and maintain, in connection with the University, a department of agriculture, of mechanics, of mining, and of normal instruction.

Sec. 11. Children must attend school. The General Assembly is hereby empowered to enact that every child, of sufficient mental and physical ability, shall attend the public schools during the period between the ages of six and eighteen years, for a term of not less than sixteen months, unless educated by other means.

Sec. 12. Education expense grants and local option. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Constitution, the General Assembly may provide for payment of education expense grants from any State or local public funds for the private education of any child for whom no public school is available or for the private education of a child who is assigned against the wishes of his parent, or the person having control of such child, to a public school attended by a child of another race. A grant shall be available only for education in a nonsectarian school, and in the case of a child assigned to a public school attended by a child of another race, a grant shall, in addition, be available only when it is not reasonable and practicable to reassign such child to a public school not attended by a child of another race.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Constitution, the General Assembly may provide for a uniform system of local option whereby any local option unit, as defined by the General Assembly, may choose by a majority vote of the qualified voters in the unit who vote on the question to suspend or to authorize the suspension of the operation of one or more or all of the public schools in that unit.

No action taken pursuant to the authority of this Section shall in any manner affect the obligation of the State or any political subdivision or agency thereof with respect to any indebtedness heretofore or hereafter created.

ARTICLE X

HOMESTEADS AND EXEMPTIONS

Section 1. Exemptions of personal property. The personal property of any resident of this State, to the value of five hundred dollars ($500.00), to be selected by such resident, shall be and is hereby exempted from sale under execution or other final process of any court, issued for the collection of any debt.

Sec. 2. Homestead. Every homestead, and the dwellings and buildings used therewith, not exceeding in value one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), to be selected by the owner thereof, or in lieu thereof, at the option of the owner, any lot in a city, town or village with the dwellings and buildings used thereon, owned and occupied by any resident of this State, and not exceeding the value of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), shall be exempt from sale under execution or other final process obtained on any debt. But no property shall be exempt from sale for taxes, or for payment of obligations contracted for the purchase of said premises.

Sec. 3. Homestead exemption from debt. The homestead, after the death of the owner thereof, shall be exempt from the payment of any debt during the minority of his children, or any of them.

Sec. 4. Laborer's lien. The provisions of Sections one and two of this Article shall not be so construed as to prevent a laborer's lien for work done and performed for the person claiming such exemption, or a mechanic's lien for work done on the premises.

Sec. 5. Benefit of widow. If the owner of a homestead die, leaving a widow but no children, the same shall be exempt from the debts of her husband, and the rents and profits thereof shall inure to her benefit during her widowhood, unless she be the owner of a homestead in her own right.

Sec. 6. Property of married women secured to them. The real and personal property of any female in this State acquired before marriage, and all property, real and personal, to which she may, after marriage, become in any manner entitled, shall be and remain the sole and separate estate and property of such female, and shall not be liable for any debts, obligations or engagements of her husband, and may be devised and bequeathed and conveyed by her subject to such regulations and limitations as the General Assembly may prescribe. Every married woman may exercise powers of attorney conferred upon her by her husband, including the power to execute and acknowledge deeds to property owned by herself and her husband or by her husband.

Sec. 7. Husband may insure his life for the benefit of wife and children. The husband may insure his own life for the sole use and benefit of his wife and children, and in case of the death of the husband the amount thus insured shall be paid over to the wife and children, or to the guardian, if under age, for her or their own use, free from all claims of the representatives of her husband, or any of his creditors. And the policy shall not be subject to claims of creditors of the insured during the life of the insured, if the insurance issued is for the sole use and benefit of the wife and/or children.

Sec. 8. How deed for homestead may be made. Nothing contained in the foregoing Sections of this Article shall operate to prevent the owner of a homestead from disposing of the same by deed; but no deed made by the owner of a homestead shall be valid without the signature and acknowledgement of his wife.

ARTICLE XI

PUNISHMENTS, PENAL INSTITUTIONS, AND PUBLIC CHARITIES

Section 1. Punishments; convict labor; proviso. The following punishments only shall be known to the laws of this State, viz.: death, imprisonment with or without hard labor, fines, removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust, or profit under this State. The foregoing provision for imprisonment with hard labor shall be construed to authorize the employment of such convict labor on public works or highways, or other labor for public benefit, and the farming out thereof, where and in such manner as may be provided by law; but no convict shall be farmed out who has been sentenced on a charge of murder, manslaughter, rape, attempt to commit rape, or arson: Provided, that no convict whose labor may be farmed out shall be punished for any failure of duty as a laborer, except by a responsible officer of the State; but the convicts so farmed out shall be at times under the supervision and control, as to their government and discipline, of the penitentiary board or some officer of this State.

Sec. 2. Death punishment. The object of punishments being not only to satisfy justice, but also to reform the offender, and thus prevent crime, murder, arson, burglary, and rape, and these only, may be punishable with death if the General Assembly shall so enact.

Sec. 3. Penitentiary. The General Assembly shall, at its first meeting, make provision for the erection and conduct of a State's prison or penitentiary at some central and accessible point within the State.

Sec. 4. Houses of correction. The General Assembly may provide for the erection of houses of correction, where vagrants and persons guilty of misdemeanors shall be restrained and usefully employed.

Sec. 5. Houses of refuge. A house or houses of refuge may be established whenever the public interests may require it, for the correction and instruction of other classes of offenders.

Sec. 6. The sexes are to be separated. It shall be required, by competent legislation, that the structure and superintendence of penal institutions of the State, the county jails, and city police prisons secure the health and comfort of the prisoners and that male and female prisoners be never confined in the same room or cell.

Sec. 7. Provision for the poor and orphans. Beneficent provisions for the poor, the unfortunate and orphan, being one of the first duties of a civilized and Christian state, the General Assembly shall, at its first Session, appoint and define the duties of a Board of Public Charities, to whom shall be entrusted the supervision of all charitable and penal State institutions, and who shall annually report to the Governor upon their condition, with suggestions for their improvement.

Sec. 8. Orphan houses. There shall also, as soon as practicable, be measures devised by the State for the establishment of one or more orphan houses, where destitute orphans may be cared for, educated, and taught some business or trade.

Sec. 9. Inebriates and idiots. It shall be the duty of the legislature, as soon as practicable, to devise means for the education of idiots and inebriates.

Sec. 10. Deaf-mutes, blind, and insane. The General Assembly may approve that the indigent deaf-mute, blind, and insane of the State shall be cared for at the charge of the State.

Sec. 11. Self-supporting. It shall be steadily kept in view by the Legislature and the Board of Public Charities that all penal and charitable institutions should be made as nearly self-supporting as is consistent with the purposes of their creation.

ARTICLE XII

MILITIA

Section 1. Who are liable to militia duty. All able-bodied male citizens of the State of North Carolina, between the ages of twenty-one and forty years, who are citizens of the United States, shall be liable to duty in the militia: Provided, that all persons who may be averse to bearing arms, from religious scruples, shall be exempt therefrom.

Sec. 2. Organizing, etc. The General Assembly shall provide for the organizing, arming, equipping, and discipline of the militia, and for paying the same, when called into active service.

Sec. 3. Governor commander-in-chief. The Governor shall be commander-in-chief, and shall have power to call out the militia to execute the law, suppress riots or insurrections, and to repel invasion.

Sec. 4. Exemptions. The General Assembly shall have power to make such exemptions as may be deemed necessary, and to enact laws that may be expedient for the government of the militia.

ARTICLE XIII

AMENDMENTS

Section 1. Convention, how called. No convention of the people of this State shall ever be called by the General Assembly unless by the concurrence of two-thirds of all of the members of each house of the General Assembly, and except the proposition, convention or no convention, be first submitted to the qualified voters of the whole State, at the next general election, in a manner to be prescribed by law. And should a majority of the votes cast be in favor of said convention, it shall assemble on such day as may be prescribed by the General Assembly.

Sec. 2. How the Constitution may be altered. No part of the Constitution of this State shall be altered unless a bill to alter the same shall have been agreed to by three-fifths of each house of the General Assembly. And the amendment or amendments so agreed to shall be submitted at the next general election to the qualified voters of the whole State, in such manner as may be prescribed by law. And in the event of their adoption by a majority of the votes cast, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the Constitution of this State.

ARTICLE XIV

MISCELLANEOUS

Section 1. Indictments. All indictments which shall have been found or may hereafter be found for any crime or offense committed before this Constitution takes effect, may be proceeded upon in the proper courts, but no punishment shall be inflicted which is forbidden by this Constitution.

Sec. 2. Penalty for fighting duel. No person who shall hereafter fight a duel, or assist in the same as a second, or send, accept, or knowingly carry a challenge therefor, or agree to go out of the State to fight a duel, shall hold any office in this State.

Sec. 3. Drawing money. No money shall be drawn from the Treasurer but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and an accurate account of the receipts and expenditures of the public money shall be annually published.

Sec. 4. Mechanic's lien. The General Assembly shall provide, by proper legislation, for giving to mechanics and laborers an adequate lien on the subject matter of their labor.

Sec. 5. Governor to make appointments. In the absence of any contrary provision, all officers of this State, whether heretofore elected or appointed by the Governor, shall hold their positions only until other appointments are made by the Governor, or, if the officers are elective, until their successors shall have been chosen and duly qualified according to the provisions of this Constitution.

Sec. 6. Seat of Government. The permanent seat of Government in this State shall be at the City of Raleigh.

Sec. 7. Dual office-holding. No person who shall hold any office or place of trust or profit under the United States or any department thereof, or under this State, or under any other state or government, shall hold or exercise any other office or place of trust or profit under the authority of this State, or be eligible to a seat in either house of the General Assembly: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend to officers in the militia, notaries public, commissioners of public charities, or commissioners for special purposes.

Sec. 8. Intermarriage of whites and Negroes prohibited. All marriages between a white person and a Negro, or between a white person and a person of Negro descent to the third generation, inclusive, are hereby forever prohibited.

THE AMERICAN'S CREED

I believe in the United States of America, as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies.

THE AMERICAN FLAG, ITS ORIGIN

In 1775, the Philadelphia Troop of Light Horse carried a standard with thirteen alternate blue and silver stripes in the upper left-hand corner. At Cambridge on January 2, 1776, Washington without authorization of the Continental Congress raised a flag consisting of thirteen alternate white and red stripes with the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew in a blue field in the upper left-hand corner. It was called the "Union Flag," "Grand Union Flag," and the "Continental Flag," and was employed until displaced by the Stars and Stripes adopted by the Continental Congress.

The beautiful tradition that Betsy Ross, as early as June 1776, made a Stars and Stripes flag from a pencil sketch supplied by Washington but changed the points of the stars from six to five, has become a classic. Historians doubt its accuracy. Half a dozen localities claim to have been the place where the Stars and Stripes was first used. Within New York State such contention has been for Fort Ann on July 8, Fort Stanwix on August 3, Bennington on August 13, and Saratoga on September 19, 1777. The flag with thirteen stripes and thirteen stars, authorized on June 14, 1777, continued to be used as the national emblem until Congress passed the following act, which President Washington signed:

"That from and after May 1, 1795, the flag of the United States be fifteen stripes, alternate red and white; and that the union be fifteen stars, white in a blue field."

This action was necessitated by the admission of the States of Vermont and Kentucky to the Union.

The flag of 1795 had the stars arranged in three rows of five each instead of in a circle, and served for 23 years.

With the admission of more new states, however, it became apparent that the 1795 flag would have to be further modified; hence in 1818 a law was passed by Congress providing:

"That from and after the fourth day of July next, the flag of the United States be thirteen horizontal stripes, alternate red and white; that the union have twenty stars, white in a blue field.

"That on the admission of every new state into the Union, one star be added to the union of the flag; and that such addition shall take effect on the Fourth of July next succeeding such admission."

Since 1818 additional stars have been added until today there are 50 on the flag. No law has been passed to designate how the stars shall be arranged. At one time they formed a design of a larger star. Now they form five rows of six stars each and four rows of five stars each.

Betsy Ross, it is now said, lived at 233 Arch Street, Philadelphia, and not at 239. She made flags, but says Theodore D. Gottlieb, she never made the first Stars and Stripes. He adds: "The Department of State, the War and Navy departments, the Historical Sites Commission of Philadelphia and other official bodies repudiate the legend. The book and pamphlet material available is overwhelmingly against the legend.

"The story arose for the first time on March 14, 1870, when William J. Canby read a paper before the Pennsylvania Historical Society in which he states that in 1836, when his grandmother, Betsy Ross, was 84 years old and he was 11, she told him the story. He apparently thought little of it because nothing was done until 1857, when at the suggestion of his Aunt Clarissa, oldest daughter of Betsy, he wrote out the notes as he remembered the conversation.

"Nothing further was done until 1870 when he wrote his paper. The Historical Society of Pennsylvania thought so little of the paper it neither catalogued nor kept a copy of it. Even George Canby, younger brother of William, disputed several points in the paper.

"The legend grew to strength from 1888 to 1893 when promoters secured an option on the so-called Flag House.

"Modern historical researchers are giving much thought to Francis Hopkinson of New Jersey as the possible designer and the Fillmore or Bennington flag as the first flag."

The Proper Display of the American Flag

(The United States Code, 1958)

(Chapter 10, Sections 171-172, 174-178)

Sec. 171. When the national anthem is played and the flag is not displayed, all present should stand and face toward the music. Those in uniform should salute at the first note of the anthem, retaining this position until the last note. All others should stand at attention, men removing the headdress. When the flag is displayed, all present should face the flag and salute.

Sec. 172. The following is designated as the pledge of allegiance to the flag: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." Such pledge should be rendered by standing with the right hand over the heart. However, civilians will always show full respect to the flag when the pledge is given by merely standing at attention, men removing the headdress. Persons in uniform shall render the military salute.

Sec. 174. (a) It is the universal custom to display the flag only from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationary flagstaffs in the open. However, the flag may be displayed at night upon special occasions when it is desired to produce a patriotic effect.

(b) The flag should be hoisted briskly and lowered ceremoniously.

(c) The flag should not be displayed on days when the weather is inclement.

(d) The flag should be displayed on all days when the weather permits, especially on New Year's Day, January 1; Inauguration Day, Jan. 20; Lincoln's Birthday, February 12; Washington's Birthday, February 22; Army Day, April 6; Easter Sunday (variable); Mother's Day, second Sunday in May; Me-memorial Day (half staff until noon), May 30; Flag Day, June 14; Independence Day, July 4; Labor Day, first Monday in September; Constitution Day, September 17; Columbus Day, October 12; Navy Day, October 27; Veteran's Day, November 11; Thanksgiving Day, fourth Thursday in November; Christmas Day, December 25; such other days as may be proclaimed by the President of the United States; the birthdays of States (dates of admission); and on State holidays.

(e) The flag should be displayed daily, weather permitting, on or near the main administration building of every public institution.

(f) The flag should be displayed in or near every polling place on election days.

(g) The flag should be displayed during school days in or near every schoolhouse.

Sec. 175. The flag, when carried in a procession with another flag or flags, should be either on the marching right; that is, the flag's own right, or, if there is a line of other flags, in front of the center of that line.

(a) The flag should not be displayed on a float in a parade except from a staff, or as provided in subsection (i) of this section.

(b) The flag should not be draped over the hood, top, sides, or back of a vehicle or of a railroad train or a boat. When the flag is displayed on a motorcar, the staff shall be fixed firmly to the chassis or clamped to the radiator cap.

(c) No other flag or pennant should be placed above or, if on the same level, to the right of the flag of the United States of America, except during church services conducted by naval chaplains at sea, when the church pennant may be flown above the flag during the church services for the personnel of the Navy.

No person shall display the flag of the United Nations or any other national or international flag equal, above or in a position of superior prominence or honor to or in place of, the flag of the United States at any place within the United States or any Territory or possession thereof: Provided, That nothing in this section shall make unlawful the continuance of the practice heretofore followed of displaying the flag of the United Nations in a position of superior prominence or honor, and other national flags in positions of equal prominence or honor, with that of the flag of the United States at the Headquarters of the United Nations.

(d) The flag of the United States of America, when it is displayed with another flag against a wall from crossed staffs should be on the right, the flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

(e) The flag of the United States of America should be at the center and at the highest point of the group when a number of flags of States or localities or pennants of societies are grouped and displayed from staffs.

(f) When flags of States, cities, or localities, or pennants of societies are found on the same halyard with the flag of the United States, the latter should always be at the peak. When the flags are flown from adjacent staffs, the flag of the United States should be hoisted first and lowered last. No such flag or pennant may be placed above the flag of the United States or to the right of the flag of the United States.

(g) When flags of two or more nations are displayed, they are to be flown from separate staffs of the same height. The flags should be of approximately equal size. International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace.

(h) When the flag of the United States is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from the window sill, balcony, or front of a building, the union of the flag should be placed at the peak of the staff unless the flag is at half staff. When the flag is suspended over a sidewalk from a rope extending from a house to a pole at the edge of the sidewalk, the flag should be hoisted out, union first, from the building.

(i) When the flag is displayed otherwise than by being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out, or so suspended that its folds fall as free as though the flag were staffed.

(j) When the flag is displayed over the middle of the street, it should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street or to the east in the north and south street.

(k) When used on a speaker's platform, the flag, if displayed flat, should be displayed above and behind the speaker. When displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium, if it is displayed in the chancel of a church, or on the speaker's platform in a public auditorium, the flag should occupy the position of honor and be placed at the clergyman's or speaker's right as he faces the congregation or audience. Any other flag so displayed in the chancel or on the platform should be placed at the clergyman's or speaker's left as he faces the congregation or audience. But when the flag is displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium elsewhere than in the chancel or on the platform it shall be placed in the position of honor at the right of the congregation or audience as they face the chancel or platform. Any other flag so displayed should be placed on the left of the congregation or audience as they face the chancel or platform.

(l) The flag should form a distinctive feature of the ceremony of unveiling a statue or monument, but it should never be used as the covering for the statue or monument.

(m) The flag, when flown at half-staff, should be first hoisted to the peak for an instant and then lowered to the half-staff position. The flag should be again raised to the peak before it is lowered for the day. By "half-staff" is meant lowering the flag to one-half the distance between the top and bottom of the staff. Crepe streamers may be affixed to spear heads or flagstuffs in a parade only by order of the President of the United States.

(n) When the flag is used to cover a casket, it should be so placed that the union is at the head and over the left shoulder. The flag should not be lowered into the grave nor allowed to touch the ground.

Sec. 176. No disrespect should be shown to the flag of the United States of America; the flag should not be dipped to any person or thing. Regimental colors, State flags, and organization or institutional flags are to be dipped as a mark of honor.

(a) The flag should never be displayed with the union down save as a signal of dire distress.

(b) The flag should never touch anything beneath it, such as the ground, the floor, water, or merchandise.

(c) The flag should never be carried flat or horizontally, but always aloft and free.

(d) The flag should never be used as drapery of any sort whatsoever, never festooned, drawn back, nor up, in folds, but always allowed to fall free. Bunting of blue, white and red, always arranged with the blue above, the white in the middle, and the red below, should be used for covering a speaker's desk, draping the front of a platform, and for decoration in general.

(e) The flag should never be fastened, displayed, used, or stored in such a manner as will permit it to be easily torn, soiled, or damaged in any way.

(f) The flag should never be used as a covering for a ceiling.

(g) The flag should never have placed upon it, nor on any part of it, nor attached to it any mark, insignia, letter, word, figure, design, picture or drawing of any nature.

(h) The flag should never be used as a receptacle for receiving, holding, carrying, or delivering anything.

(i) The flag should never be used for advertising purposes in any manner whatsoever. It should not be embroidered on such articles as cushions or handkerchiefs and the like, printed or otherwise impressed on paper napkins or boxes or anything that is designed for temporary use and discard; or used as any portion of a costume or athletic uniform. Advertising signs should not be fastened to a staff or halyard from which the flag is flown.

(j) The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning.

Sec. 177. During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag or when the flag is passing in a parade or in a review, all persons present should face the flag, stand at attention, and salute. Those present in uniform should render the military salute. When not in uniform, men should remove the headdress with the right hand holding it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Men without hats should salute in the same manner. Aliens should stand at attention. Women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart. The salute to the flag in the moving column should be rendered at the moment the flag passes.

Sec. 178. Any rule or custom pertaining to the display of the flag of the United States of America, set forth in sections 171-178 of this title, may be altered, modified, or repealed, or additional rules with respect thereto may be prescribed, by the Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, whenever he deems it to be appropriate or desirable; and any such alteration or additional rule shall be set forth in a proclamation

The Pledge to the Flag

(Taught in many of the schools and repeated by pupils daily)

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America
And to the Republic for which it stands.
One Nation under God, indivisible.
With liberty and justice for all."

The Pledge to the Flag, according to a report of the Historical Committee of the United States Flag Association (May 18, 1939), was written by Francis Bellamy (August 1892), a member of the editorial staff of The Youth's Companion, in Boston, Massachusetts. It was first repeated at the exercises in connection with the celebration of Columbus Day (October 12, 1892, Old Style). The idea of this national celebration on Columbus Day was largely that of James B. Upham, one of the junior proprietors of The Youth's Companion.

Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, was the designer of the Stars and Stripes—not Betsy Ross of Philadelphia, who made flags. He also designed the first Great Seal of the United States, and a number of coins and several items of paper currency in the early days of the Republic.

Hopkinson, born in Philadelphia (September 21, 1737), and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, was the first native American composer of a secular song, "My Days Have Been So Wondrous Free." He was a lawyer and later a judge in New Jersey and then in Pennsylvania. He died in Philadelphia (May 9, 1791). His portrait, painted by himself, hangs in the rooms of the Pennsylvania Historical Society, Philadelphia. He played the organ and harpsichord.

THE CAPITOL AT WASHINGTON

The Capitol building in Washington, D. C., is situated on a plateau 88 feet above the level of the Potomac River and covers an area of 153,112 square feet, or approximately three and one-half acres. Its length, from north to south, is 751 feet, four inches. Its width, including approaches, is 350 feet; and its location is described as being in latitude 38°53'20.4" N. and longitude 70°00'35.7" W. from Greenwich. Its height above the base line on the east front to the top of the Statue of Freedom is 287 feet, five and one-half inches. The dome is built of iron, and the aggregate weight of material used in its construction is 8,909,200 pounds.

The Statue of Freedom surmounting the dome is of bronze and weighs 14,985 pounds. It was modeled by Thomas Crawford, father of Francis Marion Crawford, the novelist, in Rome, and the plaster model shipped to this country. It was cast in bronze at the shops of Clark Mills, on the Bladensburg Road, near Washington. The cost of the casting and the expenses in connection were $20,796.82, and the sculptor was paid $3,000 for the plaster model. It was erected and placed in its present position December 2, 1863.

The grounds have had an area of 58.8 acres, at one time a part of Cern Abby Manor, and at an early date were occupied by a subtribe of the Algonquin Indians known as the Powhatans, whose council house was then located at the foot of the hill. By subsequent purchase of ground at the North of the Capitol and at the west of the new House Office building the area of the grounds has been increased to 139½ acres.

The Rotunda is 97 feet 6 inches in diameter, and its height from the floor to the top of the canopy is 180 feet, 3 inches.

The Senate Chamber is 113 feet, 3 inches, in length by 80 feet, 3 inches, in width and 36 feet in height. The galleries will accommodate 682 persons.

The Representatives' Hall is 139 feet in length by 93 feet in width and 36 feet in height.

The room, until 1935 the meeting place of the Supreme Court, was, until 1859, occupied as the Senate Chamber. Previous to that time the court occupied the room immediately beneath, now used as a law library.

The Capitol has a floor area of 14 acres, and 430 rooms are devoted to office, committee, and storage purposes. There are 14,518 square feet of skylights, 679 windows, and 550 doorways.

The dome receives light through 108 windows, and from the architect's office to the dome there are 365 steps, one for each day of the year.

The southeast cornerstone of the original building was laid September 18, 1793, by President Washington, with Masonic ceremonies. It is constructed of sandstone from quarries on Aquia Creek, Va. The original designs were prepared by Dr. William Thornton, and the work was done under the direction of Stephen H. Hallet, James Hoban, George Hadfield, and B. H. Latrobe, architects.

The north wing was finished in 1800 and the south wing in 1811. A wooden passageway connected them. On August 24, 1814, the interior of both wings was destroyed by fire, set by the British. The damage to the building was immediately repaired.

In 1818 the central portion of the building was commenced under the architectural superintendence of Charles Bullfinch. The original building was finally completed in 1827. Its cost, including the grading of the grounds, alterations, and repairs, up to 1827, was $2,433,844.13.

The cornerstone of the extensions was laid on the Fourth of July, 1851, by President Fillmore, Daniel Webster officiating as orator. This work was prosecuted under the architectural direction of Thomas U. Walter until 1865, when he resigned, and it was completed under the supervision of Edward Clark. The material used in the walls is white marble from the quarries of Lee, Massachusetts, and that in the columns from the quarries from Cockeysville, Maryland. The House extension was first occupied for legislative purposes December 16, 1857, and the Senate January 4, 1859.

The House office building was begun in 1905 and occupied on January 19, 1908; later a story on top was added. The Senate office building was started in 1906 and occupied on March 5, 1909. The House building cost, with site, $4,860,155; the Senate structure, $5,019,251.

Among the paintings in the Capitol are:

Baptism of Pocahontas, by John G. Chapman; Landing of Columbus, by John Vanderlyn; Discovery of the Mississippi River by DeSoto, by William H. Powell; Embarkation of the Pilgrims by Robert W. Weir.

In House Wing: Westward the Course of Empire Takes Its Way, by Emanuel Leutze; First Reading of the Emancipation Proclamation, by Francis Bicknell Carpenter.

In Senate Wing: Battle of Lake Erie, by William H. Powell; Battle of Chapultepec, by James Walker.

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

(Unanimously Adopted in Congress, July 4, 1776, at Philadelphia)

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitles them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable Rights; that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That, to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; That, whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundations on such principles, and organizing its powers in such forms, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and, accordingly, all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and, when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature—a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.

He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing Judiciary Powers.

He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of Our Legislature.

He has affected to render the Military independent of, and superior to, the Civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States:

For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent:

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by jury:

For transporting us beyond Seas, to be tried for pretended offenses;

For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighboring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:

For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally, the Forms of our Governments:

For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow-Citizens, taken captive on the high Seas, to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms; Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attention to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which inevitably interrupt our connections with correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind—Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

WE, THEREFORE, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress Assembled; appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name and by authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be free and independent States; that they are Absolved from All Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connections between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

PREAMBLE

We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I

SECTION 1—All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and a House of Representatives.

SEC. 2—1. The House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several States, and the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature.

2. No person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

3. Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each State shall have at least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose 3; Massachusetts, 8; Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, 1; Connecticut, 5; New York, 6; New Jersey, 4; Pennsylvania, 8; Delaware, 1; Maryland, 6; Virginia, 10; North Carolina, 5; South Carolina, 5; and Georgia, 3.*

4. When vacancies happen in the representation from any State the Executive Authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

5. The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other officers, and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

SEC. 3—1. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote.†

2. Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the Senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year; of the second class at the expiration of the fourth year; and of the third class at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year, and if vacancies happen by resignation, or otherwise, during the recess of the Legislature of any State, the Executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.†

3. No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

4. The Vice President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote, unless they be equally divided.

5. The Senate shall choose their other officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the absence of the Vice President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States.

6. The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

7. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust, or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment, and punishment, according to law.

*See Article XIV, Amendments.

†See Article XVII, Amendments.

SEC. 4—1. The times, places, and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof, but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing Senators.

2 The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

SEC. 5—1. Each House shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each House may provide.

2. Each House may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

3. Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the members of either House on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

4. Neither House, during the session of Congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

SEC. 6—1. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall in all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either House they shall not be questioned in any other place.

2. No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either House during his continuance in office

SEC. 7.—1. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with amendments, as on other bills.

2. Every bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the President of the United States; if he approves, he shall sign it, but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to that House in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration two-thirds of that House shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent together with the objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of that House, it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each House respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the President within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their adjournment prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

3. Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

SEC. 8. The Congress shall have power:

1. To lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

2. To borrow money on the credit of the United States;

3. To regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian tribes;

4. To establish a uniform rule of naturalization, and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies throughout the United States;

5. To coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin, and fix the standards of weights and measures;

6. To provide for the punishment of counterfeiting the securities and current coin of the United States;

7. To establish postoffices and postroads;

8. To promote the progress of science and useful arts, by securing, for limited times, to authors and inventors, the exclusive right to their respective writings and discoveries;

9. To constitute tribunals inferior to the Supreme Court;

10. To define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offenses against the law of nations;

11. To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning captures on land and water;

12. To raise and support armies, but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years;

13. To provide and maintain a navy;

14. To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces;

15. To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections, and repel invasions;

16. To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the States respectively the appointment of the officers and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress;

17. To exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may by cession of particular States and the acceptance of Congress, become the seat of Government of the United States, and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the Legislature of the State in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dock-yards, and other needful buildings;—and

18. To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or any department or officer thereof.

SEC. 9—1. The migration or importation of such persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

2. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

3. No bill of attainder or ex post facto law shall be passed.

4. No capitation or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken.*

5. No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any State.

6. No preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one State over those of another; nor shall vessels bound to, or from, one State be obliged to enter, clear, or pay duties in another.

7. No money shall be drawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.

8. No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States; and no person holding any office of profit or trust under them, shall, without the consent of the Congress, accept of any present, emolument, office, or title, of any kind whatever, from any king, prince, or foreign state.

SEC. 10—1. No State shall enter into any treaty, alliance, or confederation; grant letters of marque and reprisal; coin money; emit bills of credit; make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts; pass any bill of attainder; ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, or grant any title of nobility.

2. No State shall, without the consent of the Congress, lay any imposts or duties on imports or exports except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws; and the net produce of all duties and imports, laid by any State on imports or exports, shall be for the use of the Treasury of the United States; and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of the Congress.

3. No State shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops, or ships of war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another State, or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent danger as will not admit delay.

ARTICLE II

SECTION 1—1. The executive power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and, together with the Vice President, chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:

2. Each State shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress; but no Senator or Representative or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States shall be appointed an elector.

3. The electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves. And they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit, sealed, to the seat of the Government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such majority, and have an equal number of votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately choose by ballot one of them for President; and if no person have a majority, then from the five highest on the list the said House shall in like manner choose the President.

But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum, for this purpose, shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. In every case, after the choice of the President, the person having the greatest number of votes of the electors shall be the Vice President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the Senate shall choose from them by ballot the Vice President.*

4. The Congress may determine the time of choosing the electors and the day on which they shall give their votes, which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

5. No person except a natural born citizen, or a citizen of the United States, at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the office of President; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years, and been fourteen years a resident within the United States.

6. In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice President, and the Congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation, or inability, both of the President and Vice President, declaring what officer shall then act as President, and such officer shall act accordingly until the disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

7. The President shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States, or any of them.

8. Before he enters on the execution of his office, he shall take the following oath or affirmation:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States."

*This clause is superseded by Article XII, Amendments.

SEC. 2—1. The President shall be Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several States, when called into the actual service of the United States; he may require the opinion, in writing, of the principal officer in each of the executive departments, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices; and he shall have power to grant reprieves, and pardons for offenses against the United States, except in cases of impeachment.

2. He shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, judges of the Supreme Court, and all other officers of the United States, whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law; but the Congress may by law vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper in the President alone, in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments.

3. The President shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session.

SEC. 3—He shall from time to time give to the Congress information of the State of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient: he may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both Houses, or either of them, and in case of disagreement between them with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper; he shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers; he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and shall commission all the officers of the United States.

SEC. 4—The President, Vice President, and all civil officers of the United States, shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of, treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III

SECTION 1—The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one Supreme Court, and in such inferior courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The judges, both of the Supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior, and shall, at stated times, receive for their services a compensation which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

SEC. 2—1. The judicial power shall extend to all cases, in law and equity, arising under this Constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made, or which shall be made, under their authority;—to all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls; to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction; to controversies to which the United States shall be a party; to controversies between two or more States;—between a State and citizens of another State;—between citizens of different States;—between citizens of the same State, claiming lands under grants of different States, and between a State, or the citizens thereof, and foreign States, citizens, or subjects.

2. In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a State shall be a party, the Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before mentioned the Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact, with such exceptions and under such regulations as the Congress shall make.

3. The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury, and such trial shall be held in the State where the said crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State the trial shall be at such place or places as the Congress may by law have directed.

SEC. 3—1. Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

2. The Congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason; but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture except during the life of the person attainted

ARTICLE IV

SECTION 1—Full faith and credit shall be given in each State to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general laws prescribe the manner in which such acts, records and proceedings shall be proved, and the effect thereof.

SEC. 2—1. The citizens of each State shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States.

2. A person charged in any State with treason, felony, or other crime, who shall flee from justice and be found in another State, shall, on demand of the Executive authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having jurisdiction of the crime.

3. No person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered upon claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.

SEC. 3—1. New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by the junction of two or more States, or parts of States, without the consent of the Legislatures of the States concerned, as well as of the Congress.

2. The Congress shall have power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States or of any particular State.

SEC. 4—The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion, and, on application of the Legislature, or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened), against domestic violence

The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or, on the application of the Legislatures of two-thirds of the several States, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the Legislatures of three fourths of the several States, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the Congress; provided that no amendment which may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the Ninth Section of the First Article; and that no State, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the Senate.

ARTICLE VI

1. All debts contracted and engagements entered into before the adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution, as under the Confederation.

2. This Constitution and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every State shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding.

3. The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several State Legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this Constitution; but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII

The ratification of the Convention of nine States shall be sufficient for the establishment of this Constitution between the States so ratifying the same.

Done in Convention by the Unanimous Consent of the States present the Seventeenth Day of September, in the Year of Our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the Twelfth. In witness whereof we have hereunto subscribed our names.

The Constitution was declared in effect on the first Wednesday in March, 1789.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

The following amendments to the Constitution, Article I to X, inclusive, were proposed at the First Session of the First Congress, begun and held at the City of New York, on Wednesday, March 4, 1789, and were adopted by the necessary number of States. The original proposal of the ten amendments was preceded by this preamble and resolution:

“The conventions of a number of the States having, at the time of their adopting the Constitution, expressed a desire, in order to prevent misconstruction or abuse of its powers, that further declaratory and restrictive clauses should be added, and as extending the ground of public confidence in the Government will best insure the beneficent ends of its institution:

“RESOLVED, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, two-thirds of both Houses concurring, that the following articles be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States, as amendments to the Constitution of the United States; all or any of which articles, when ratified by three-fourths of the said Legislatures, to be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of the said Constitution, namely”:

AMENDMENTS

THE TEN ORIGINAL AMENDMENTS

(Sometimes called our Bill of Rights)
 (Declared in force December 15, 1791)

ARTICLE I

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

ARTICLE II

A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed

ARTICLE III

No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE IV

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

ARTICLE V

No person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation.

ARTICLE VI

In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.

ARTICLE VII

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any court of the United States than according to the rules of the common law.

ARTICLE VIII

Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

ARTICLE IX

The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

ARTICLE X

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

ARTICLE XI

The judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States, by citizens of another State, or by citizens or subjects of any foreign State.

(Proposed to the Legislatures of the several States by the Third Congress on the 5th of March, 1794, and declared to have been ratified by Executive Proclamation, January 8, 1798.)

ARTICLE XII

The electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for President and Vice President, one of whom at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves: they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the persons voted for as Vice President; and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice President, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit, sealed, to the seat of the Government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate; the President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted; the person having the greatest number of votes for President shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers, not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President, whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President. The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice President shall be the Vice President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice President of the United States.

(Proposed by the Eighth Congress on the 12th of December, 1803, declared ratified by the Secretary of State, September 25, 1804. It was ratified by all the States except Connecticut, Delaware, Massachusetts, and New Hampshire.)

ARTICLE XIII

1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

(Proposed by the Thirty-eighth Congress on the 1st of February, 1865, declared ratified by the Secretary of State, December 18, 1865. It was rejected by Delaware and Kentucky; was conditionally ratified by Alabama and Mississippi; and Texas took no action.)

ARTICLE XIV

1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath, as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss of emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations, and claims shall be held illegal and void.

5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

(The Reconstruction Amendment, by the Thirty-ninth Congress on the 16th day of June, 1866, was declared ratified by the Secretary of State, July 28, 1868. The amendment got the support of 23 Northern States; it was rejected by Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, and 10 Southern States. California took no action. Later it was ratified by the 10 Southern States.)

ARTICLE XV

1. The right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

(Proposed by the Fortieth Congress the 27th of February, 1869, and was declared ratified by the Secretary of State, March 30, 1870. It was not acted on by Tennessee; it was rejected by California, Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland and Oregon; ratified by the remaining 30 States. New York rescinded its ratification January 5, 1870. New Jersey rejected it in 1870, but ratified it in 1871.)

ARTICLE XVI

The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any census or enumeration.

(Proposed by the Sixty-first Congress, July 12, 1909, and declared ratified February 25, 1913. The income tax amendment was ratified by all the States except Connecticut, Florida, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Utah, and Virginia.)

ARTICLE XVII

1. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, elected by the people thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote. The electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislatures.

2. When vacancies happen in the representation of any State in the Senate, the executive authority of such State shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies; Provided, That the Legislature of any State may empower the Executive thereof to make temporary appointments until the people fill the vacancies by election as the Legislature may direct.

3. This amendment shall not be so construed as to affect the election or term of any Senator chosen before it becomes valid as part of the Constitution.

(Proposed by the Sixty-second Congress on the 16th day of May, 1912, and declared ratified May 31, 1913. Adopted by all the States except Alabama, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Utah and Virginia.)

ARTICLE XVIII

1. After one year from the ratification of this article the manufacture, sale, or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited.

2. The Congress and the several States shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

3. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the Legislatures of the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.

(Proposed by the Sixty-fifth Congress, December 18, 1917, and ratified by 36 States; was declared in effect on January 16, 1920.)

ARTICLE XIX

1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.

2. Congress shall have power, by appropriate legislation, to enforce the provisions of this article.

(Proposed by the Sixty-fifth Congress. On August 26, 1920, it was proclaimed in effect, having been ratified (June 19, 1919—August 18, 1920) by three-quarters of the States. The Tennessee House, August 31st, rescinded its ratification, 47 to 24.)

ARTICLE XX

1. The terms of the President and Vice President shall end at noon on the 20th day of January, and the terms of Senators and Representatives at noon on the 3rd day of January of the years in which such terms would have ended if this article had not been ratified; and the terms of their successors shall then begin.

2. The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall begin at noon on the 3rd day of January, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

3. If, at the time fixed for the beginning of the term of the President, the President elect shall have died, the Vice President elect shall become President. If a President shall not have been chosen before the time fixed for the beginning of his term, or if the President elect shall have failed to qualify, then the Vice President elect shall act as President until a President shall have qualified; and the Congress may by law provide for the case wherein neither a President elect nor a Vice President elect shall have qualified, declaring who shall then act as President, or the manner in which one who is to act shall be selected, and such person shall act accordingly, until a President or Vice President shall have qualified.

4. The Congress may by law provide for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the House of Representatives may choose a President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them, and for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the Senate may choose a Vice President when the right of choice shall have devolved upon them.

5. Sections 1 and 2 shall take effect on the 15th day of October following the ratification of this article.

6. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States within seven years from the date of its submission.

(Proposed by the 72nd Congress, First Session. On February 6, 1933, it was proclaimed in effect, having been ratified by thirty-nine states.)

ARTICLE XXI

1. The eighteenth article of amendment to the Constitution of the United States is hereby repealed.

2. The transportation or importation into any State, Territory, or possession of the United States for delivery or use therein of intoxicating liquors, in violation of the laws thereof, is hereby prohibited

3. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by convention in the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.

(Proposed by the 72nd Congress, Second Session. Proclaimed in effect on December 5, 1933, having been ratified by thirty-six States. By proclamation of the same date, the President proclaimed that the eighteenth amendment to the Constitution was repealed on December 5, 1933.)

ARTICLE XXII

1. No person shall be elected to the office of the President more than twice, and no person who has held the office of President, or acted as President, for more than two years of a term to which some other person was elected President shall be elected to the office of the President more than once. But this article shall not apply to any person holding the office of President when this article was proposed by the Congress, and shall not prevent any person who may be holding the office of President, or acting as President, during the term within which this article becomes operative from holding the office of President or acting as President during the remainder of such term.

2. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States within seven years from the date of its submission to the States by the congress.

(Proposed by the 80th Congress in 1947 and became effective on Feb. 26, 1951, having been ratified by thirty-six States.)

ARTICLE XXIII

1. The District constituting the seat of Government of the United States shall appoint in such manner as the Congress may direct:

A number of electors of President and Vice President equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives in Congress to which the District would be entitled if it were a State, but in no event more than the least populous State; they shall be in addition to those appointed by the States, but they shall be considered, for the purposes of the election of President and Vice President, to be electors appointed by a State; and they shall meet in the District and perform such duties as provided by the twelfth article of amendment.

2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

(Proposed by the 86th Congress in June of 1960 and ratified by the 38th State, March 29, 1961 and proclaimed a part of the Constitution, April 3, 1961.)

ARTICLE XXIV

1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote in any primary or other election for President or Vice President, for electors for President or Vice President, or for Senator or Representative in Congress, shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any State by reason of failure to pay any poll tax or other tax.

2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

ARTICLE XXV

1. In case of the removal of the President from office or of his death or resignation, the Vice President shall become President.

2. Whenever there is a vacancy in the office of the Vice President, the President shall nominate a Vice President who shall take office upon confirmation by a majority vote of both Houses of Congress.

3. Whenever the President transmits to the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives his written declaration that he is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, and until he transmits to them a written declaration to the contrary, such powers and duties shall be discharged by the Vice President as Acting President.

4. Whenever the Vice President and a majority of either the principal officers of the executive departments or of such other body as Congress may by law provide, transmit to the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives their written declaration that the President is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, the Vice President shall immediately assume the powers and duties of the office as Acting President.

Thereafter, when the President transmits to the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives his written declaration that no inability exists, he shall resume the powers and duties of his office unless the Vice President and a majority of either the principal officers of the executive department or of such other body as Congress may by law provide, transmit within four days to the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives their written declaration that the President is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office. Thereupon Congress shall decide the issue, assembling within forty-eight hours for that purpose if not in session. If the Congress, within twenty-one days after receipt of the latter written declaration, or, if Congress is not in session, within twenty-one days after Congress is required to assemble, determines by two-thirds vote of both Houses that the President is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, the Vice President shall continue to discharge the same as Acting President; otherwise, the President shall resume the powers and duties of his office.

(Submitted to the Legislatures of the fifty States July 6, 1965.
Ratified by the 38th State (Nevada) February 10, 1967.)

PART II

CENSUS

POPULATION OF THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA

Eighteenth Census of the United States: 1960

The population of North Carolina's urban places continued to grow faster than that of the rural areas between 1950 and 1960, according to the eighteenth decennial census, issued by Robert W. Burgess, Director of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce.

Final figures show that the urban population increased from 1,368,101 in 1950 to 1,801,921 in 1960, or 31.6 per cent, while the rural population increased from 2,693,828 in 1950 to 2,754,234 in 1960 or an increase of only 2.2 per cent. The final count of the Eighteenth Census for the State on April 1, 1960, was 4,556,155 compared to 4,061,929 in 1950, or an increase of 12.2 per cent. Urban residents accounted for 39.5 per cent of the State's population in 1960 as compared with 33.7 per cent in 1950. Rural areas in 1960 accounted for 60.5 per cent of the total population. The Census Bureau considers as urban areas the incorporated places of 2,500 or more, or unincorporated places of 2,500 or more located outside urbanized areas. The remaining territory is classified as rural.

There were 35 incorporated places of 10,000 or more in 1960. Five of these (Chapel Hill, Jacksonville, Lenoir, Lumberton and Roanoke Rapids) reached that size since 1950. Charlotte remains the State's largest city with a population of 201,564, followed in order by Greensboro with 119,574 and Winston-Salem with 111,135.

According to final figures of the 1960 census 63 of the counties gained in population. Onslow County showed the greatest gain with an increase of 96.7 per cent. Cumberland County placed second with an increase of 54.6 per cent while Mecklenburg was third with a 38.1 per cent gain.

The first census of North Carolina was taken in 1790, returning a population of 393,751. The population has shown an increase at every census since that time. The population passed 1,000,000 between 1860 and 1870, 2,000,000 between 1900 and 1910, 3,000,000 between 1920 and 1930, 4,000,000 between 1940 and 1950, and 4,500,000 between 1950 and 1960. The present population represents a density of 86.4 inhabitants per square mile. North Carolina's total area in square miles is 52,712. Land area is 49,142 square miles; water area is 3,570 square miles.

Table 1 presents the figures for counties and for incorporated places of 10,000 or more, and Table 2 for incorporated places of less than 10,000.

NORTH CAROLINA DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM FOR 1966

The Democrats of North Carolina, in convention assembled, respectfully submit the following Platform of the Democratic Party of North Carolina for 1966-67.

INTRODUCTION

The 1966 Platform Committee, operating under the guidance and direction of the State Democratic Executive Committee, offers this document for consideration as a sincere and concise statement of policies and goals established by the Democratic Party to serve the best interest of all North Carolinians.

The philosophy expressed here is partisan only in the sense that it represents dedication to and faith in the kind of government that is responsive to the will of the people, that traditionally looks to the future, unhesitatingly aligns itself with progress and, without compromise, seeks to enhance the well-being and preserve the dignity of the individual.

Each statement in this Platform is the result of much study and deliberation. It is a Platform that represents, not the views of the few individuals charged with the responsibility of its preparation, but the views of countless North Carolinians who subscribe to the belief that the opportunity to earn a productive and prosperous life is the birthright of every citizen of this state.

The accomplishments listed here should be a source of pride for every North Carolinian. The goals listed here must be a challenge for every Democrat. Good government—the kind of government that has become traditional in our state in this century—is not the product of chance. It is the product of determination and sacrifice—the product of vision—the product of people dedicated to the principles of the Democratic Party.

With full awareness of our responsibility—a responsibility entrusted to us by the people of North Carolina—this platform for progress has been developed. With pride in the past, confidence in the present and enthusiasm for the future, this platform can be submitted to the people for endorsement.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY AFFAIRS:

The strength of the Democratic Party in North Carolina has long been a deep awareness on the part of the people that ours is the party of the people, the party of faith and not fear, the party of progress.

North Carolina Democrats have demonstrated a capacity for meeting challenges since the beginning of this century—resulting in progress in all areas affecting the well-being of our people. Most importantly, it has given this state a reservoir of experienced, dedicated leadership at all levels of government.

Today, as we face the great problems and the great opportunities of the most exciting and complex age in the history of man, the responsibilities that rest with this leadership is overwhelming.

It is the responsibility that can and will be met by the Democratic Party. It will be met because the Party is strong, because the Party is dedicated, and because its members are united in their determination to continue building a more abundant life for all North Carolinians.

The youthful faction of the Party—the Teen-Dem Clubs and the Young Democratic Clubs, both individual units and members of the Confederation—continues to expand in size and influence. The contribution of these young North Carolinians to their state and their Party grows daily, and their vigorous alignment with Democratic ideals is not only inspirational, but insures the vitality of the Party in the years ahead.

The women of the Party, and especially those members of our Democratic Women's Clubs, have assumed additional responsibility in recent years and merit a special commendation for the service they have rendered the cause of good government in North Carolina.

We pledge our continued support for these vital branches of the Party and charge the State Democratic Executive Committee with the responsibility for actively encouraging and assisting their efforts to insure good government in North Carolina.

STATE GOVERNMENT

No state in the nation receives more competent and loyal service from its public officials and employees than North Carolina. These individuals have contributed immeasurably to our state's reputation for good government. The Democratic Party is fully aware of this fact and has sought, through the years, to insure the maintenance of these high standards by fair treatment and compensation for service rendered. We pledge a continuation of this respectful relationship which benefits every citizen of North Carolina.

No less essential to the cause of good government are the private citizens of the state who give their time and talent to service on governing and advisory bodies of state agencies, institutions and councils. Their contribution to the well-being of our state and its people cannot be expressed, but the stability and enlightened direction of governmental affairs is eloquent testimonial to the quality of their service.

Legislative: The North Carolina General Assembly, chosen by the people to insure their progress, has, for more than six decades of Democratic leadership, met the responsibility entrusted to it. It has proven faithful to the knowledge that ours is a great state with great potential. It has proven faithful to the concept that ours must remain a state and nation governed by law and not by men. It has labored long and effectively to develop that potential and protect that concept. We ask that the General Assembly continue this dedication. To that end we unhesitatingly pledge the support of the Democratic Party.

The Judiciary: Improvement in the administration of justice is the constant aim of the judiciary in North Carolina. That effort, supported by the Democratic Party, resulted in the enactment of The Judicial Department Act by the 1965 General Assembly. Implementation of this Act will greatly improve the court system of the state.

The North Carolina Courts Commission, an arm of the General Assembly, continues to work on legislation for enactment in 1967 that will further modernize the court system of North Carolina to insure equal justice under the law for all men.

In the firm belief that impartial justice is a cornerstone of democracy, the Democratic Party will continue to encourage and support all reasonable efforts in the area of judicial reform.

AGRICULTURE:

The Democratic Party has traditionally led and, in large measure, been responsible for action resulting in the greatest farming productivity in the history of mankind. In spite of this, technical advances and products of research have forced increasing numbers of families to leave the farm. Obviously, to strive for a better balanced economy while maintaining pace with the requirements of a growing population, it will be necessary to develop new and better methods of stabilizing our rural population while increasing the income of our farm families.

The Democratic Party pledges its firm support to all governmental agencies with responsibilities that relate to these goals. North Carolina farm products must be processed and distributed so that the farmers of this state receive a fair share of agricultural income. Marketing service programs that are directed toward assisting farmers and trades people with specific problems should be expanded. Research and consumer protection programs should be expanded to insure renewed confidence on the part of the public in the farm products we produce. Extension programs and agency projects designed to improve farm income and all facets of rural life should be continued.

CORRECTIONAL PROGRAMS:

Democratic leadership has given North Carolina a prison and correctional system that is generally recognized as one of the best in the nation. Emphasis within the prison system is placed on productive work, with increasing attention given to programs of education, vocational training and counseling designed to return prison inmates to society as responsible, contributing citizens. This enlightened approach is equally evident in our juvenile correction programs and in the Probation Commission and Board of Paroles. We support the continuation of these policies.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

The theme of "total development" as envisioned and promoted by Governor Dan Moore is moving North Carolina in the direction of the most beneficial use of all the State's resources to insure economic progress. The goal of making every citizen productive and providing every citizen with an opportunity to benefit fully from his productivity must be maintained. The past year saw all-time records set in capital investments in new and expanded industry. More than 37,000 new jobs were created and payrolls increased by $137 million. There is every indication that 1966 will set new records.

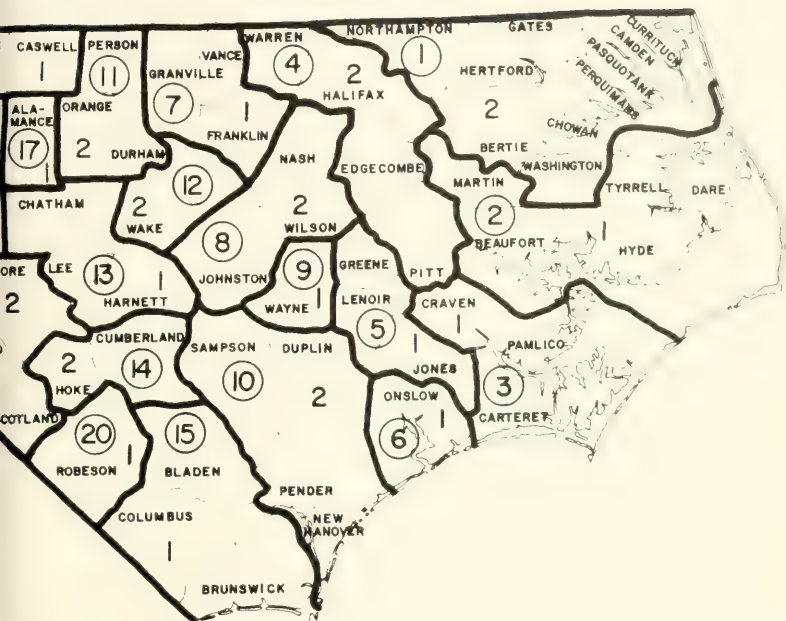

More than 3,300 new business corporations were chartered in North Carolina during the past year and more than 400 foreign corporations were added to the list authorized to do business in our state. Total resources in State-chartered banks rose above $3 billion. Greater harmony has been established in the area of public and private utilities than has been known in recent decades.

All of these indications of sound progress should be sources of pride for the political party that provided the leadership and vision which made them possible. But pride in past achievements, at this critical time in our history, must serve to instill, not complacency, but a constantly new and vibrant awareness of the responsibility we have for the future. There is much that remains to be done. There are new challenges daily in every economic sphere. And each challenge is an opportunity for economic progress—for a better way of life for the people of North Carolina. The great wealth of our state—its people and its natural resources represents a potential that has only begun to develop. The Democratic Party recognizes this potential and eagerly accepts the responsibility that it imposes.

EDUCATION:

The total economic and cultural development of North Carolina requires the full educational development of every citizen.

The Democratic Party, because it is the party of the people and not the party of special privilege, has traditionally given strong support to the maximum extension of universal educational opportunity. Under Democratic leadership since the beginning of this century, the cause of education has flourished. The dream of Charles B. Aycock has become reality. Clearly, the Democratic Party is the "Education Party" in North Carolina.

The public schools come first. Here the foundation for all progress is laid. Strong support for public schools is essential. It will be continued and strengthened.

The requirements of the age in which we live demand that we place no limit on educational opportunity. Toward this end, we have established a system of community colleges, technical institutes and industrial education centers to insure the availability of facilities offering opportunities for maximum development of individual skills. We must expand these facilities and increase our efforts to encourage our people to take advantage of them.

Higher education completes the system of educational opportunity required for total development of our human and natural resources. Strong support will continue to be given to university and four-year college education.

ELECTION LAWS:

The State Board of Elections and those dedicated men and women in every county of North Carolina who continue to administer fair, honest, and impartial elections throughout the broad election complex of over 2,100 precincts are, in fact, our greatest fundamental democratic freedom—the right to vote.

As Democrats, pledged by tradition to this basic freedom, we pledge to continue providing an enviable election process in this state. We support the State and County Boards of Elections in their continuing work to preserve our free election process for present and future generations of North Carolinians.

We further commend the action of the Democrats in the 1965 General Assembly who provided the leadership for the establishment of an election law study commission charged with the responsibility of recommending any alterations in existing laws deemed necessary to insure the voting rights of all our people.

FISCAL AFFAIRS:

North Carolina is in excellent financial condition. The bonds of the state are rated AAA—the highest rate available to state bonds. North Carolina's high and enviable reputation in fiscal affairs is due to the fact that sound business principles and fiscal integrity have been the basis of the state's policy for over 60 years. The prudent and sound management of this most basic of all governmental functions reflects credit on North Carolina Democrats of the past and present and represents a sacred trust to be passed on to future Democrats.

HERITAGE AND CULTURE:

The Democratic Party has traditionally supported the position that an understanding and appreciation of an individual's heritage is vitally important to that individual's capacity for appraising the present and contributing to the future.

North Carolina has a great heritage. It should be preserved. North Carolina has a great capacity for cultural development. It should be pursued vigorously.

The esthetic reasons for steadily increasing attention to our heritage and our cultural development are sufficient unto themselves. But we live in a practical society and in this society there is a very definite application of practicality to the development of our heritage and culture. Tourism is our third most productive industry. Increasing leisure time will bring larger number of visitors to our state and will enable more of our own people to seek pleasure and inspiration in North Carolina's historical sites and cultural developments.

The Democratic Party pledges increasing attention to activities in these areas.

HIGHWAYS:

Democratic Administrations in North Carolina have worked diligently down through the years to develop a highway system which will meet the needs of the people by encouraging the expansion of commerce and industry and making travel as safe and convenient as possible for our own citizens and the increasing number of visitors who contribute substantially to the economy.

Today, with funds from the $300 million road bond issue, the Appalachia Program and other State and Federal sources, highways are being constructed at an unprecedented rate.

The Democratic Party pledges its continued support to all efforts to expand and improve our existing highway system through the fair and equitable distribution and application of available funds.

HUMAN RELATIONS:

Traditionally, the Democratic Party supports the premise that society owes to every citizen the opportunity to progress to the limit of his individual interests and talents. We subscribe further to the premise that this opportunity carries with it commensurate obligations and responsibilities.

The proud progress registered in North Carolina in recent years in human relations reflects credit on all North Carolinians. That progress must continue. Toward that end we commend the program of the North Carolina Good Neighbor Council and urge continued support for that program.

We call upon all County Boards of Commissioners and municipal councils and boards to establish local Good Neighbor or Human Relations Councils to supplement the work of the State Council.

LABOR:

We pledge our continued support for humane labor laws, safe and healthful working conditions, just Workmen's Compensation and an Unemployment Insurance Program that is fair and equitable to all concerned.

We support laws guaranteeing employees the right-to-work and employers the right to conduct their businesses under the laws. In order to assure increased employment, industrial schools and proper training for skilled labor will create better jobs resulting in a broadened and higher standard of living.

We subscribe to the premise that "a laborer is worthy of his hire" and commend the Democratic General Assembly for having made North Carolina the only state in the Southeast to enact a State Minimum Wage Law for the protection of employees.

We recommend that North Carolina's women be given equal compensation for equal work, equal promotion for equal preparation, and we endorse the principle of equal responsibility for all employees performing work of comparable responsibility.

NATURAL RESOURCES:

The Democratic Party of North Carolina has traditionally supported the premise that, second only to its people, its natural resources are its greatest asset. These God-given resources, with which North Carolina is more than abundantly endowed, exist to benefit man. They are a sacred trust to be used profitably and equitably by each generation to the extent that the next generation is not denied the same benefits.

With the steady increase in leisure time available to the average citizen, we must provide more opportunities for healthful outdoor recreation. The preservation of our wildlife resources is essential to this effort.

In view of the fact that water is the best basic of all these natural resources, we propose that special attention be given at this time to methods of insuring the conservation and wise use of the state's water resources.

PUBLIC HEALTH:

As a state that has pioneered in the public health field, we advocate continued improvement of public health services through close cooperation of local, state and federal agencies to insure adequate protection for all North Carolinians.

Recognizing the growth of our population, the outstanding public health program now established in North Carolina must be carried forward to decrease the infant mortality rate and reduce maternal deaths. We must deal effectively with chronic disease and environmental health factors. We must continue educational activities in all areas where such activities have proven to be effective health measures.

The 1965 Democratic General Assembly is to be commended on its positive efforts to confront the tragic disease of alcoholism. We urge continued attention to this problem and pledge the support of the Democratic Party in those efforts.

North Carolina has pioneered in the development and maintenance of an effective mental health program. The Democratic Party, with pride in its past contributions in this field, offers its pledge of continuing support.

SENIOR CITIZENS:

The record of the Democratic Party speaks eloquently for its firm belief that the senior citizen occupies a vital position in the economic, social and cultural development of the state. We feel strongly that the knowledge, experience and talents of these individuals must be exploited fully, and we urge that the 1967 General Assembly give particular attention to the most beneficial use of this great asset. We further pledge continuing support for the various agencies with responsibilities in areas affecting, directly or indirectly, the senior citizen.

TRAFFIC SAFETY:

The tragic loss of life due to accidents on our streets and highways is a challenge to every North Carolinian. It is a particular challenge to the Democratic Party and the leadership it has provided our state. Under the courageous insistence of Governor Moore, the challenge is being met.

The 1965 General Assembly moved positively in the direction needed to combat this tragic situation. Its action in establishing new laws, programs and agencies to promote traffic safety reflected credit on every member of the Legislature and every citizen who supported those actions.

The Democratic Party feels strongly that this is a problem which transcends all political considerations and is deserving of the full support of all North Carolinians. We believe the key to traffic safety is sound, balanced, imaginative, cooperative action by public officials with the courage to lead. We pledge our support to that leadership.

VETERANS:

With increasing number of North Carolinians acquiring the status of veteran through courageous service of Viet Nam, it is particularly important that continuing support be given to those agencies whose responsibilities relate to veterans and the widows and orphans of veterans.

TAXATION:

North Carolina remains at one of the nation's lowest levels of combined state and local taxation per capita and at the same time offers public service programs which continually rate national attention. We advocate continued emphasis on the businesslike, economical administration of government; a tax structure that equitably distributes the cost of services required from government; increased personal exemptions, if economic conditions warrant, to correspond with federal income tax exemptions, and just and firm administration of the tax laws of the state.

The Democratic Party opposes and will work diligently to prevent an increase in state taxes.

WELFARE:

The Democratic Party recognizes that the prevention and alleviation of poverty are legitimate concerns of government, and as such merit action, not by public welfare alone, but by the entire community. The effectiveness of this effort at both the community and state level, and the extent to which this concern is translated into reality, have marked bearing on the total development of the state. In acknowledgement of this fact, the Democratic Party pledges continuing interest in and support for welfare programs with special attention given those programs designed to help people help themselves.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS:

Democratic administrations have benefitted the people of North Carolina with able, dedicated leadership. A close working relationship between administrations at the state and national levels is essential to the continuation of these benefits. Toward this end, we encourage continued cooperation with the Democratic National Committee and support for the National Administration.

At this time of crises, when freedom is threatened on many fronts throughout the world, we particularly commend the President for his courage in maintaining this nation's commitment in Viet Nam.

Remembering the confusion, indifference, uncertainty and lack of national purpose that characterized Republican administrations of the past, we unhesitatingly pledge our support for all nominees of the Democratic Party.

SUMMARYThe North Carolina Democratic Party for 1966:

1. Will expand its support for, and encourage greater activity on the part of all organizations within the Democratic Party.
2. Will continue its policy of supporting fair treatment and just compensation for public officials and employees.
3. Will use every means at its command to insure positive programs designed to stabilize the agricultural community and increase farm income.
4. Will continue support for the enlightened approach to correctional programs at the state level.
5. Recognizes the continuing and complex challenge that faces North Carolina in its effort to use all of its people and resources to bring more abundance to its people.
6. Endorsed Governor Dan Moore's concept that attention to total development is the most effective approach to economic progress.
7. Holds to its traditional position that education is the key to prosperity and pledges an untiring effort to continue expanding and improving the educational system at all levels in North Carolina.
8. Will support all efforts to insure the sacred right of every citizen to participate in the election of public officials.
9. Will maintain fiscal stability of the state.
10. Will actively promote an appreciation of our heritage and the availability of cultural activities and facilities.
11. Will continue to build highways throughout North Carolina on a basis of need.
12. Will employ every means at our disposal to promote traffic safety.
13. We commend the program of the North Carolina Good Neighbor Council and we urge its continued support and cooperation from our people throughout the state.

14. Will continue support for efforts to develop fully the skills of each citizen and insure that citizen of job opportunities at fair wages.
15. Recognizes natural resources as a valuable asset and pledges the conservation and most beneficial use of those resources.
16. Urges that particular attention be given, at this time, to water resources.
17. Pledges the maintenance of an effective public health system with increasing attention given to alcoholism and mental health.
18. Supports programs for Senior Citizens, veterans and veteran's dependents.
19. Favors increased tax exemptions where feasible and opposes an increase in state tax.
20. Recognizes the need for welfare programs and lends particular support to programs which help people help themselves.
21. Pledges support for all Democratic nominees.
22. Commends the President on his action with regard to Viet Nam.

PLAN OF ORGANIZATION OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY OF NORTH CAROLINA

PRECINCT ORGANIZATION

Section 1. Precinct Committee:

The unit of party organization shall be the voting precinct. In each precinct there shall be an executive committee consisting of five active Democrats, who reside full time in the precinct, at least two of whom shall be women and at least two of whom shall be men, who should be present when elected by the Democratic voters of said precinct at the precinct meeting called by the Chairman of the County Executive Committee as provided in this plan of organization. The precinct committee so elected shall elect from its membership a Chairman and Vice Chairman, one of whom shall be a woman and the other of whom shall be a man, and a Secretary-Treasurer, provided, however, the Chairman and Vice Chairman shall not be from the same immediate family.

Section 2. Precinct Meeting:

The precinct meetings shall be presided over by the chairman of the precinct committee, but in his absence, the vice chairman of the committee shall preside, and in the absence of both the chairman and the vice chairman, any member of the committee may preside.

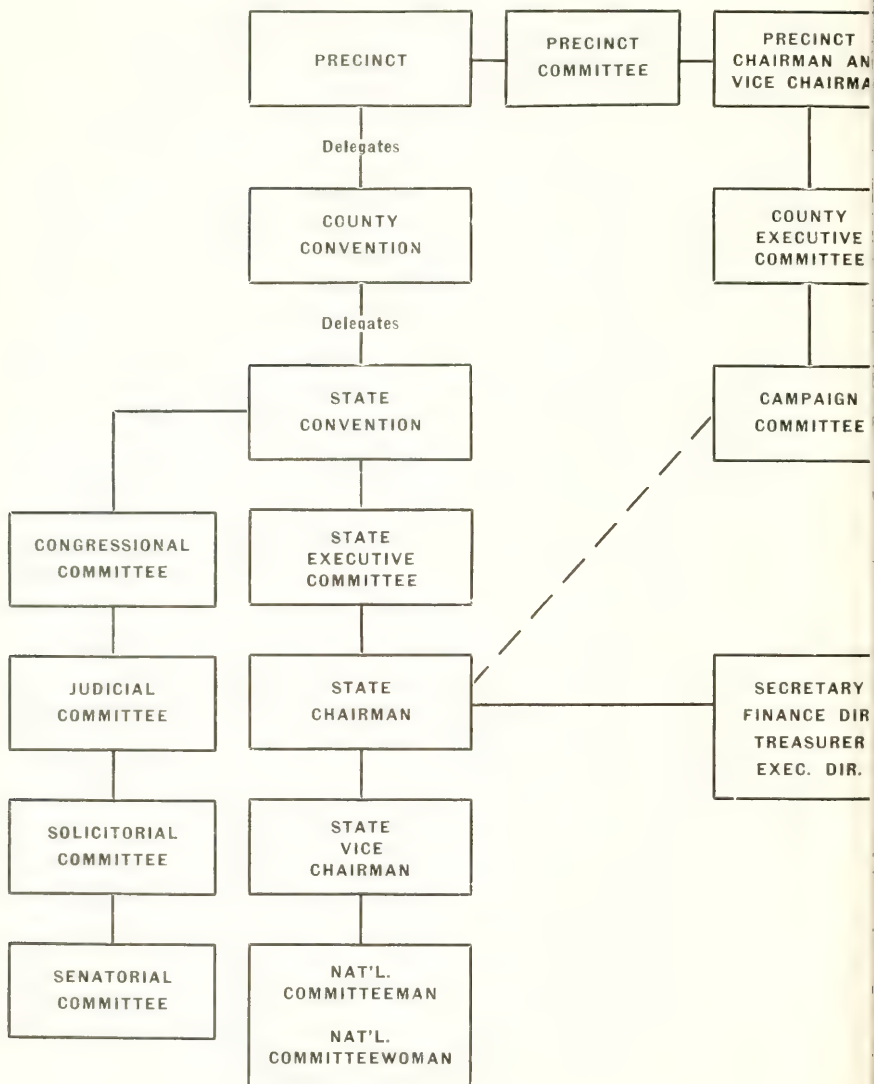

Section 3. Quorum:

A quorum for any precinct meeting shall consist of not less than five registered Democrats in such precinct. In the event a quorum is not present the precinct chairman shall notify the Chairman of the County Executive Committee who shall call a second meeting. If the second meeting shall fail for lack of a quorum, the officers of the County Executive Committee shall fill all vacancies.

Section 4. Election of Delegates:

At the precinct meeting called for that purpose the Democratic voters in attendance shall elect delegates and alternates to represent the precinct in the county convention; and said delegates or alternates, or such of them as shall attend the county convention, shall be entitled to vote the full strength of their precinct upon all questions, nominations, or elections which may come before the county convention. The chairman, or presiding officer, and the secretary of the precinct meeting shall certify to the county convention the names of the delegates and alternates selected at the meeting.

Section 5. Business Permitted:

At every precinct meeting, if requested, a vote shall be taken on the different questions, nominations, and elections anticipated to come before the county convention, and in that event, the chairman or presiding officer and the secretary of the precinct meeting shall certify to the county convention the vote so cast, and the relative vote as fixed in the precinct meeting shall not be changed in the county convention, except by two-thirds vote of the entire unit of delegates desiring to change its vote.

Section 6. Failure to Hold Meeting:

In case there shall be a failure to hold a precinct meeting in pursuance of the call of the chairman of the county executive committee, or if at any meeting there shall be a failure to elect delegates to the county convention, in either event, the precinct executive committee shall appoint the delegates and alternates from the Democratic voters of the precinct. In the event there shall be a failure to elect a precinct committee prior to the day of the County Convention the County Executive Committee at its meeting on the day of the County Convention may appoint both the precinct committee and the delegates to the said convention.

Section 7. Representation:

Each precinct shall be entitled to cast in the county convention one vote for every 50 Democratic votes or major fraction thereof cast by the precinct for the Democratic gubernatorial candidate at the last preceding gubernatorial election; provided that each precinct shall be entitled to cast at least two votes in the county convention.

The County Executive Committee may, by resolution duly adopted, require each Precinct to appoint two delegates and two alternates for each vote to which said precinct may be entitled in the County Convention.

Section 8. Removal of Officers and Committeemen:

Any precinct Chairman, Vice Chairman or Committeeman, or Committeewoman who gives support to, aids, or helps any opposing political party or candidate of any other political party, or who refuses or fails to perform his duties in organizing his precinct, or who is convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude, shall be removed from office in the following manner:

(1). A complaint setting forth full details and duly verified shall be filed with the Chairman of the County Executive Committee by three active Democrats as defined in this Plan of Organization registered in the county of the said officer or committeemember. The Chairman of the County Executive Committee shall upon approval of the other committee officers and after giving 5 days notice thereof, call a meeting of the County Executive Committee to hear the complainant, the alleged offender and any other interested parties or witnesses. A two-third vote of those members present and voting shall be necessary to remove a precinct officer or committeemember. The decision of the County Executive Committee shall be final.

(2). When a vacancy exists because of removal for cause, the vacancy shall be filled by the remaining members of the precinct executive committee at a duly called meeting by the Chairman of the County Executive Committee. Notice of the filling of such vacancy shall be given to the chairman of the County Executive Committee. If the vacancy is not filled within ten days, the Chairman of the County Executive Committee within ten days thereafter shall call a meeting of the officers of the County Executive Committee who shall fill the vacancy. The Chairman of the County Executive Committee shall cause a full detailed account of any removal and replacement to be filed with the Chairman of the State Executive Committee.

ARTICLE IICOUNTY ORGANIZATION*Section 1. County Executive Committee:

The Chairman and the Vice Chairman of the several precinct committees, the immediate past chairman of the County Executive Committee, the President of the duly organized Democratic Women's Club within a county and the President of the duly organized county Young Democratic Club within the county shall compose the county Executive Committee; provided that where more than one Young Democratic Club or Democratic Women's Club exists within a county, the several clubs shall together elect one representative on the Executive Committee with each club having a vote in proportion to the ratio of its membership to the total membership of the combined clubs. The county Executive Committee shall meet on the same day as the county convention first held in each election year, the meeting to be held either before or after the convention at an hour and place to be designated in the call therefor. At said meeting a chairman of said county executive committee shall be elected. Immediately after the election of the chairman, the committee shall elect one or more, but not exceeding three, vice chairmen, a secretary and a treasurer. If more than one vice chairman shall be elected the order of their succession shall be designated by title, e.g., first vice chairman, second vice chairman, third vice chairman. Either the chairman or the first vice chairman shall be a woman, and the other shall be a man. The chairman, vice chairman or vice chairmen, secretary and treasurer need not be members of the County Executive Committee, but all of said officers shall be ex-officio members of the committee, with the power to vote; however, at any organizational meeting of said County Executive Committee said ex-officio members shall not have the power to vote. Should any precinct official be elected to any county organizational office or other office entitling him or her to membership on the county Executive Committee, he or she automatically vacates the precinct office.

If for any reason there should occur any vacancy in the chairmanship of the County Executive Committee, by death, resignation, or removal, or is such chairman should be incapacitated, then upon a written notice to such chairman signed by the remaining officers of the County Executive Committee, the vice chairman or vice chairmen, in their order of succession, and thereafter the secretary, shall, in such order of succession, be vested with full authority and power of the chairman until such time as said County Executive Committee has met and duly elected a successor to such chairman.

When the County Executive Committee is not in session, the officers of the County Executive Committee, presided over by the Chairman, shall act in the place of the County Executive Committee on all matters; unless this plan of organization states that action is to be by the entire County Executive Committee.

Section 2. Additional Precinct Meetings:

In addition to the common day fixed by the State Executive Committee during election years, the Chairman of any County Executive Committee may issue a call between October 1st of any non-election year and March 1st in any election year for a meeting of the County Executive Committee and, in addition to any other business specified in the call, the said committee may adopt a resolution fixing a common day, times and places for the holding of precinct meetings for the purpose of electing precinct committees; and fix the day, time and place for the organizational meeting of the newly elected County Executive Committee for the purpose of electing a chairman and other county officers. The County Chairman shall immediately issue a call in writing at least 10 days before the day set for the said precinct meetings. This call shall be posted at the court house door of the county and copies thereof shall be sent as a news item to each news media published in the county.

Any precinct meeting provided in this section shall be held more than two weeks before the common day fixed by the State Executive Committee.

Section 3. Duties of Officers:

The duties of the County Executive Officers shall be:

(1). The chairman shall be responsible for the organization of the county on all levels, including calling of all meetings, holding of political instruction classes for precinct executive committees, obtaining all materials necessary for the proper function of his duties and doing all other things necessary for the proper carrying out of the best interest of the party.

(2). One of the vice chairmen shall be responsible for the organization and activities of the women members of the County Executive Committee and the women's activities in behalf of the Democratic Party in the said county, subject to the direction of the chairman of the County Executive Committee.

(3). The other vice chairman of the County Executive Committee shall have such duties and responsibilities as may be assigned by the chairman.

(4). The secretary shall have the duty and responsibility of keeping all records of the County Executive Committee, including attendance at all meetings, of issuing all notices, preparing all correspondence, and any other duties that may be assigned to him by the said chairman.

(5). The treasurer shall have the duty of raising all money required for the operation of the activities of the Democratic Party, keep records of all money received and expended in behalf of the Party and forward a list of all donors and expenses to the Chairman of the State Executive Committee. The treasurer shall also submit any and all reports as required by the law of the finances of the County Executive Committee.

Section 4. Board of Elections:

The chairman of the Executive Committee in each county shall, before submitting to the State Chairman recommendations for the Democratic members of the County Board of Elections in such county, call a meeting of the County Executive Committee and submit such recommendations for the approval of the executive committee and only when such recommendations are approved by a majority of the committee members present shall same be submitted to the State Chairman by the county chairman. The time of such meeting of the respective county executive committees for the purpose of passing on such recommendations shall be fixed by the State Chairman.

No member or officer of a County Executive Committee shall be eligible to serve as a member of a County Board of Elections, nor as a precinct registrar or judge of elections.

Section 5. Rules:

The county executive committee shall have power to make any rules with regard to the holding of precinct meetings which it may deem proper, not inconsistent with the rules prescribed in this plan; it shall be the duty of said committee to prepare and furnish all forms and blanks needed in making the returns from said precinct meetings, and any reported challenges and appeals therefrom; and it shall have the power to raise the funds necessary to pay for the expenses thereof.

The secretary of the County Executive Committee shall forward a copy of each precinct organization and the officers of the County Organization to the chairman of the State Executive Committee.

Section 6. Removal of County Officers:

Any officer of the County Democratic Executive Committee who gives support to, aids, or helps any opposing political party or candidate of any other political party, or who refuses or fails to perform his duties in organizing his county, or who is convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude, shall be removed from office in the following manner:

(1). A complaint setting forth full details and duly verified shall be filed with the Chairman of the State Executive Committee by three active Democrats as defined by this Plan of Organization registered in the county. The chairman of the State Executive Committee shall upon the approval of the other committee officers, after giving five days notice thereof, call a meeting of the State Executive Committee to hear the complainant, the alleged offender and any other interested parties or witnesses. A two-thirds vote of those members present and voting shall be necessary to remove a county officer. The decision of the State Executive Committee shall be final.

(2). When a vacancy exists because of removal for cause, the vacancy shall be filled by the remaining members of the County Executive Committee at a duly called meeting of that committee.

ARTICLE III

SECTIONAL ORGANIZATION

Section 1. Congressional District Executive Committees:

The Congressional District Executive Committee for each congressional district in the State shall consist of two members from each county in said district who shall be elected at the preliminary meeting of delegates from the congressional districts held on the morning of the State Convention; provided, however, that in any congressional district embracing less than five counties, the committee shall consist of three members from each county in the district.

Section 2. Judicial District Executive Committees:

The Judicial District Executive Committee for each judicial district in the State shall consist of two members from each county in said district, who shall be elected at the preliminary meetings of delegates from the congressional districts held on the morning of the State Convention; provided, however that in any judicial district embracing less than five counties, the committee shall consist of three members from each county in the district.

Section 3. Solicitorial District Executive Committee:

The Solicitorial District Executive Committee for each solicitorial district in the State shall consist of two members from each county in said district, who shall be elected at the preliminary meetings of delegates from the congressional districts held on the morning of the State Convention; provided, however, that in any solicitorial district embracing less than five counties, the committee shall consist of three members from each county in the district.

Section 4. State Senatorial District Executive Committee:

The State Senatorial District Executive Committee for each senatorial district in the State which comprises more than one county shall consist of one member from each county in said district, who shall be elected at the preliminary meetings of delegates from the congressional districts held on the morning of the State Convention. In districts composed of only one county, the County Executive Committee of said county shall have jurisdiction as in the matter of county candidates.

Section 5. Appointment of Chairmen and Secretaries:

It shall be the duty of the Chairman of the State Executive Committee, as soon as practicable after the State Convention, to appoint one member as chairman and one member as secretary of each of the committees provided in each of the foregoing four sections and fill by appointment any vacancies in the chairmanship or secretaryship thereof as may occur.

Section 6. One County Districts:

Should any Judicial, Solicitorial or State Senatorial District be composed of only one county then the County Executive Committee of said county shall be the Judicial, Solicitorial or State Senatorial District Committee for the respective district.

Section 7. Rotation of State Senators:

In all State Senatorial Districts composed of more than one county which it has been the custom to concede the right to nominate a senator to one county of the district by a plan of rotation or otherwise, the same shall remain in full force and effect until terminated as herein provided.

The executive committees of the several counties composing such Senatorial District may hereafter adopt a plan for the nomination of candidates for the State Senate by one or more counties composing such district, but such plan shall not be effective until the executive committee of each of the counties composing the district shall, by a majority vote, approve such plan and file with the chairman of the State Executive Committee a copy of the resolution approving the same. The agreement in any senatorial district composed of only two counties may be terminated by a majority vote of the county executive committee of any one of the counties and in districts of more than two counties by a majority vote of each of the executive committees of at least two counties, provided that notice of the termination of such agreement must be filed with the chairman of the State Executive Committee at least 120 days in advance of the date of the primary election at which the candidates for the General Assembly are to be nominated. The chairman of the State Executive Committee shall promptly notify the State Board of Elections of all such agreements and of the termination thereof.

ARTICLE IV

STATE ORGANIZATION

Section 1. State Executive Committee:

The State Democratic Executive Committee shall consist of nine men and nine women from each congressional district in the State, who shall be elected at the preliminary meetings of delegates from the congressional districts, held on the morning of the State Convention as provided in Section 2, Article VI, provided, however, that each county shall have at least one member on the Committee.

Section 2. Election of Officers:

As early as is practical after each State Convention herein provided, the Chairman shall call the State Executive Committee to meet for the purpose of electing a Chairman and Vice Chairman, one of whom shall be a woman and the other a man, and each of whom shall serve for a term of two years, or until his or her successor shall be elected.

Section 3. Appointive Officers and Committees:

The Chairman of the State Executive Committee, as early as practicable after his election shall appoint to serve at his pleasure a full time Executive Director, a Secretary, a Financial Director and a Treasurer. The chairman may combine any of two of the above officers into one.

Section 4. Ex-Officio Members:

The officers of the State Executive Committee, the National Committeeman, the National Committeewoman and the President, National Committeeman and National Committeewoman of the Young Democratic Clubs of the State shall be ex-officio members with the power to vote, provided, however, the Executive Director shall have no vote at any Executive Committee Meeting.

Section 5. Convention Calls:

In each election year the chairman of the State Executive Committee shall convene said Committee in the City of Raleigh on or before the 15th day of January and at said meeting the following business shall be transacted:

(1). The time and place of holding the State Convention shall be determined and duly published.

(2). A common day shall be fixed, on which all precinct meetings shall be held for the election of delegates to the county conventions.

(3). A common day shall be fixed for the holding of a county convention in each county in the State for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention.

(4). Elect one member from each Congressional District to the Resolutions and Platform Committee. It shall be the duty of the Chairman of the State Executive Committee to designate one member of said Committee as Chairman and one member as Secretary. The Committee upon call of the Chairman shall organize and prepare the Party's proposed platform and consider all proposed resolutions addressed to the convention.

Section 6. Notices:

Immediately after the adjournment of the above mentioned meeting of the State Executive Committee, it shall be the duty of the chairman to publish the proceedings of the same and it shall be the duty of the secretary of the committee to notify, in writing, the several chairmen of the County Executive Committees in the State of the respective dates so fixed for the holding of precinct meetings and county conventions. Directly after receipt of such notice it shall be the duty of each chairman of a County Executive Committee in the State to fix the hour and places for holding the precinct meetings in his county, the hour and place for holding the meeting of the County Executive Committee required to be held on the date of the county convention; and thereupon the said chairman shall issue a call for the precinct meetings, the county convention, and the meeting of the County Executive Committee. The call shall be in writing and, at least ten days before the day set for the precinct meetings. It shall be posted at the courthouse door of the county and copies thereof shall be sent to the chairmen of all precinct committees in the county for conspicuous posting in each precinct; a copy of the call also shall be sent as a news item to each news media published in the county.

Section 7. State Campaign Committee:

As soon as is practical after each State Convention, the State Chairman shall call the County Chairmen and First Vice Chairmen in each of the Congressional Districts to meet for the purpose of electing two members of a State Campaign Committee from such Congressional District, one of whom shall be a man and one of whom shall be a woman; provided, however, no member of this committee shall hold any other party office.

Section 8. Duties of State Campaign Committee:

The State Chairman shall be a member ex-officio of this committee, shall serve as its chairman, and this committee shall promulgate and co-ordinate party activities in all counties and districts with State Headquarters under the direction of and in co-operation with the State Chairman.

Section 9. Audit Committee:

The State Executive Committee shall appoint a committee of three whose duty it shall be to audit, not less frequently than biennially, the financial accounts and balances of the Committee.

ARTICLE V.

COUNTY CONVENTIONS

Section 1. Meeting:

All county conventions shall be called to order by the chairman of the executive committee of such county, and in his absence, by the vice chairman or by one of the vice chairmen in the order of succession and in his or their absence, by any member of the county executive committee who may be present at the convention, and in case none of the foregoing persons shall be present, then by any delegate to the convention, and he shall preside until a permanent chairman is elected by the convention.

Section 2. Rules:

(1). The chairman shall provide the convention with a sufficient number of secretaries or accountants, who shall reduce the votes to decimals and tabulate the same, disregarding all fractions after second or hundredth column.

(2). Nothing herein contained shall prevent the convention from making nomination by viva voce or acclamation where a vote by township or precinct is not demanded by any delegate present.

(3). The County Executive Committee shall have the power to make such other rules and regulations for the holding of county conventions not inconsistent herewith, as may be deemed necessary or expedient.

Section 3. Voting:

Each precinct shall be entitled to cast in the county convention one vote for every 50 Democratic votes or major fraction thereof cast by the precinct for Governor at the last preceding gubernatorial torial election; provided that every precinct shall be entitled to cast at least 2 votes in the county convention, and each precinct may appoint as many delegates to said convention as it may see fit, not exceeding three delegates and three alternates for each vote to which said precinct may be entitled in the county convention.

The County Executive Committee may, by resolution duly adopted, require each Precinct to appoint two delegates and two alternates for each vote to which said precinct may be entitled in the County Convention.

Section 4. Nomination Convention Where County Not Under Primary Law:

In all counties in which the selection of candidates for members of the General Assembly and county and township offices is not provided for by the primary law, nominations shall be made in the following manner:

(1) The county executive committee shall meet and set a time and place for holding a county convention for the nomination of candidates for the aforesaid offices, and shall also set the time and places for holding the necessary preliminary precinct meetings, and thereupon the chairman of the county executive committee shall issue a call for the precinct meetings and the county convention, notice of which call shall be sent to the precinct officials and published in such manner and form as shall be directed by the said county executive committee.

(2). At the meeting held in each precinct in pursuance of said notice, delegates and alternates to represent it in the county convention shall be elected from the body of the Democratic voters of the precinct; and said delegates or alternates, or such of them as shall attend the county convention shall be entitled to vote the full Democratic strength of their precinct in the nomination of candidates and upon all questions which may come before said county convention.

If there is a failure to hold a precinct meeting in pursuance of said notice, or if said meeting shall fail to elect delegates to represent it in said convention, the precinct executive committee shall appoint delegates and alternates from the Democratic voters of the precinct.

(3). Each precinct shall be entitled to cast in the county convention one vote for every 50 Democratic votes, or a major fraction thereof cast by the precinct for Governor at the last preceding gubernatorial election; provided that every precinct shall be entitled to cast at least 2 votes in the county convention, and each precinct may appoint as many delegates to said convention as it may see fit, not exceeding three delegates and three alternates for each vote to which said precinct may be entitled in the county convention.

The County Executive Committee may, by resolution duly adopted, require each Precinct to appoint two delegates and two alternates for each vote to which said precinct may be entitled in the County Convention.

(4). The precinct meetings shall be presided over by the chairman of the precinct committee, but in his absence, the vice chairman of the committee shall preside, and in the absence of both the chairman and vice chairman, any member of the committee may preside.

(5). The county executive committee shall have power to make any rules with regard to holding precinct meetings which it may deem proper, not inconsistent with the rules prescribed in this plan; it shall be the duty of said committee to prepare and furnish all forms and blanks needed in making the returns from said precinct meetings, and any reported challenges and appeals therefrom.

ARTICLE VI.

STATE CONVENTIONS

Section 1. Delegates:

The State convention shall be composed of delegates appointed by the several county conventions. Each county in the State shall be entitled to elect to the State Convention one delegate and one alternate for every 300 Democratic votes or major fraction thereof cast therein for Governor at the last preceding gubernatorial election.

Section 2. Congressional District Meetings:

A preliminary meeting of the delegates shall be held by each congressional district on the morning of the State Convention, at rooms to be designated by the State Executive Committee, for the purpose of selecting the following:

(1). Elect one member of the committee on Permanent Organization, Rules, and Order of Business, which committee will nominate a permanent president and secretary of the convention.

(2). Elect one vice president of the convention.

(3). Elect one district assistant secretary.

(4). Elect one member of the committee on Credentials and Appeals.

(5). Elect nine men and nine women as members of the State Executive Committee, with at least one member being selected from each county.

(6). Elect two members from each county for the Congressional, Judicial, and Solicitorial District Executive Committees; provided, however, in districts embracing less than five counties, three members of each said committee shall be elected from each county in said district.

(7). Elect one member for each county of the State Senatorial Executive Committee where the district embraces more than one county.

(8). In each Presidential election year nominate the number of delegates and alternates allotted by the National Committee to each Congressional District.

(9). In each Presidential Election Year nominate one Presidential Elector for each Congressional District.

Section 3. Delegates to National Convention and Presidential Electors:

(1). The State Convention shall elect the delegates to the National Convention who shall convene promptly at the call of the National Committeeman after their election and nominate the National Committee representatives and such other officers as are required by the Democratic National Committee.

(2). The State Convention shall confirm the nominations for Presidential Electors certified by the several districts and, in addition thereto, shall nominate two Presidential Electors at Large.

Section 4. Rules:

(1). Such delegates (or alternates of absent delegates), as may be present at any State Convention shall be allowed to cast the whole vote to which their county may be entitled.

(2). In all conventions provided for by this plan, after a vote is cast, there shall be no change in such vote until after the roll call is completed and before the final result of the ballot shall be announced by the chairman of said convention.

(3). The chairman of the different county conventions shall certify the list of delegates and alternates to the State Convention, and a certified list of said delegates and alternates to the secretary of the State Executive Committee.

(4). The secretary of the State Executive Committee shall make up a roll of all delegates and alternates from the several counties and transmit the same to the chairman of the State Convention.

(5). In all conventions an election or a nomination may be made by any majority, even though it be a fraction of a vote.

(6). In all State Conventions it shall be the duty of the delegates from the several counties to choose one of their number chairman, whose name shall be reported to the president of such convention, and whose duty it shall be to cast the vote of his county as directed, and the vote as announced by him shall be recorded unless some delegate from that county shall challenge its accuracy, in which event it shall be the duty of the president of the convention to cause the roll of delegates from that county to be called, when the vote of such county shall be tabulated and recorded according to the response of its delegates; but in no event shall the vote of one county be challenged by a delegate from another county.

ARTICLE VII.

MISCELLANEOUS

Section 1. Committee Meetings:

All committees shall meet at such times and places as the chairman of the respective committee may from time to time appoint and designate in the call.

Section 2. Quorum:

Thirty (30) per cent of the entire membership of any committee shall constitute a quorum.

Section 3. Voting:

Proxy voting shall not be permitted in any executive committee meeting. A member of the State Executive Committee may designate a Democrat in good standing from within his county to serve as his alternate for a particular Executive Committee meeting by notifying the party chairman, secretary or executive director of such designation in writing prior to the call to order of any such meeting, provided however, that no one person may serve as an alternate for more than one member at any meeting and no member or alternate may be entitled to more than one vote.

Section 4. Vacancies:

Vacancies occurring in any Executive Committee above the precinct level shall be filled by the executive committee of the county in which such vacancies occur. Vacancies occurring in any precinct committee shall be filled by the remaining members of the precinct committee.

Section 5. Candidates in Primary:

Any member of any Executive Committee, precinct, county, or state, or any officer thereof, who announces his candidacy for an elective office in the primary shall resign immediately his party office, and the vacancy shall be filled within 15 days as heretofore provided.

Section 6. Sub-Committees:

All executive committees shall have the power to appoint sub-committees or special committees for such purposes and with such powers in their respective jurisdictions, as may be deemed necessary or desirable.

Section 7. Filling Vacancies Among Candidates:

Vacancies shall be filled among candidates, and the selection of candidates shall be as prescribed by statute.

Section 8. Municipal Committee:

In the nomination of candidates for municipal offices to be voted for in any town or city election, where the same is not controlled by charter or legislative enactment, a municipal executive committee may be created for the purpose of facilitating the orderly selection of such candidates. The committee shall be composed of five residents of the municipality, at least two of whom shall be men and two of whom shall be women, to be elected biennially at a meeting of all members of the regular executive committee or committees who reside in the municipality, the meeting to be called and presided over by the chairman of the county executive committee. It shall be the sole function of any municipal executive committee created under the provisions of this section to supervise and direct the selection of candidates for municipal offices, and to that end, the committee may formulate such rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary, or practicable. The committee shall elect from its membership a chairman and vice chairman, one of whom shall be a woman and one of whom shall be a man; and all vacancies in membership shall be filled by the committee.

Section 9. Appeals:

The right of appeal shall lie from any subordinate committee or convention to the committee or convention next superior thereto, and in all county or state conventions appeals shall first be referred to the committee on Credentials and Appeals, or a special committee provided by the convention, and the findings and reports of such committee had before action thereon by the convention.

Section 10. Reports:

It shall be the duty of the county executive committees and their chairmen to make such reports and furnish such information to the chairman of the State Executive Committee and chairmen of the several district committees as the said State and district chairmen may desire.

Section 11. Definition:

An "Active Democrat" is defined to mean a person who is registered to vote as a Democrat, and who, as a volunteer, takes part in party affairs, giving of his time and/or means to further the interest and efforts of the Democratic Party.

Section 12. Plan-Vs-Law:

In the several counties of the State where primaries are provided for by law, whether optional or mandatory, this plan or organization shall nevertheless be followed in all matters not inconsistent with such laws.

Section 13. General Rules:

Procedural or parliamentary questions not specifically covered by this plan or rules adopted pursuant to authority granted herein shall be governed by the provisions of Roberts Rules of Order.

ARTICLE VIII.AMENDMENTS*Section 1. Power to Amend:

The State Executive Committee shall, at any regularly called meeting duly held, have power to amend this plan of organization.

Any amendment adopted by the State Executive Committee including those herein contained shall be effective immediately and remain in effect until the same shall be repealed or amended by action of the next State Convention. Any change in this plan of organization adopted by the State Executive Committee shall be presented to the next State Convention by the State Chairman for its action thereon.

NORTH CAROLINA REPUBLICAN STATE PLATFORM 1966

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

The present national Administration, and indeed the Democratic Party itself, is marked, among other things, by two extremely dangerous trends: One, an ever-increasing unwarranted centralization of power in the Federal Government; and two, an utter disregard for financial responsibility in our national fiscal affairs.

We ask only for the free opportunity to do things for ourselves and our country. This is a nation which has prospered in a climate of freedom which has permitted each individual to develop his maximum potential. We must move away from the deadening influence of paternalism and return to policies which stimulate and encourage individual incentive. Then, and only then, can our nation march forward to its greater destiny—strong enough to discourage outside influences and sensitive to the welfare of all its citizens at home.

FISCAL INTEGRITY:

The national spiraling inflation created by the administration's domestic and international give-away program must be curbed by more responsible Republican leadership. The record of the present administration shows a continuing disregard for the importance of fiscal integrity in national affairs. We commend the efforts of Congressmen Charles R. Jonas and James T. Broyhill to stem the tide of irresponsable governmental spending, and we pledge our best to return them to Congress with others of like mind. This state needs more Republican Congressmen to help organize the Congress and direct its policies into channels more in line with the thinking of the people of North Carolina.

SECTION 14-B:

We commend the successful efforts made by the Congressional Republican leadership to prevent the repeal by the present administration of Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Act. Although supporting responsible unionism, we do not feel that compulsory unionism is in the best interest of the individual American laborer, the American labor movement, nor in the best interest.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS:

We regret the irresolution and lack of leadership displayed by the current administration in stemming Communist imperialism throughout the world, and in particular in Southeast Asia. Because of the indecisiveness of the present administration our international prestige is at its lowest ebb, and Communist aggression moves forward. We call upon our national leadership to let the interest and national safety of this country and the West be the polar star for the guidance of our foreign policy—and pursue that policy with firmness and with strength.

STATE AFFAIRS

North Carolina possesses potential unexcelled by any of the other 49 states. That potential is the ability of our citizens. This state has been unable to utilize its potential because of the one-party system of government exhibited by the Democratic Party in the last 65 years. When any political party is too long in power, it becomes primarily interested in its own perpetuation without primary regard to the best interest of the people. Our present low position among the states in education, health, welfare, income, etc. is proof of the results of the one-party system.

PUBLIC EDUCATION

With a firm conviction that an excellent educational system is the first prerequisite for representative government, and with the belief that only educated citizens can preserve the liberties won for them at great cost by their forefathers, the Republican Party in North Carolina dedicates itself to the position that education is the most important function of State and Local Government in a free society.

We praise the dedication our teachers have shown under adverse circumstances. North Carolina education programs rank near the bottom in the nation in all categories. In spite of low ratings in education, the records tend to show that we rank near the top in per capita expenditures for education. It seems evident that we are paying for more education than our schools are providing.

A comparison of the educational history of Republican States with that of Democrat States during the last 65 years points to the undeniable fact that Republican States lead the nation in the field of education, while Democrat States rank near the bottom in every evaluation of school standards. We pledge ourselves to the task of elevating North Carolina from the low educational position she has occupied during 65 years of Democrat rule.

The Republican Party favors a program of incentives and teacher selection to attract and hold superior teachers. Instructors should be highly trained for the areas in which they teach. Teachers must be given time to teach and pupils time in which to learn. We support special programs for the exceptionally talented and for the handicapped. We favor more emphasis on physical fitness in athletic programs, and less attention to spectator sports.

We propose to strengthen job security for those who teach our children by enacting teacher tenure legislation. We feel that this would remove political pressures from the classroom.

We believe that students must attend classes regularly. Because the Democrat Party has been unwilling to accept the responsibility for adequate truancy laws, there are approximately 70,000 boys and girls absent from the classrooms each day our public schools are open.

Our Republican congressional candidates if elected would work for legislation allowing a certain percentage of the Federal Income Tax paid by the residents of North Carolina to be returned directly to the states to be used by the states for education without any federal control.

North Carolina Republicans, realizing the urgent need for more and better public school buildings and plants, propose that the State return to the counties 15% of sales and use tax collections to be used for this purpose. This program would eliminate expensive interest payments on bonds and would return some 20 million annually to the counties. Within 10 years North Carolina would have one of the finest if not the finest school plant systems in the nation.

The Republican Party is committed to the principle that each generation should furnish adequate support for the training of its youth. It is opposed to programs of deficit finance, which bind future generations to relieve the present of its responsibilities. We pledge ourselves to efficient administration, maximum use of school facilities, and elimination of frills or waste in our educational system. We promise constant scrutiny of the entire educational system to the end that essentials be held in focus and the goal of an educated citizenry be realized.

HIGHER EDUCATION

The Republican Party favors continued expansion of our system of higher education in keeping with the steady increase of population and growing complexity of modern society. We favor careful screening of applicants and high standards of performance by those enrolled at such schools.

We favor an expansion of the regional Industrial Training Center Program.

Believing the Community College is a sound solution for those who want such an education as it affords, but are financially unable to bear the high cost in colleges and universities, we favor the careful location of Community Colleges so that all sections of the state will be provided with this facility. We favor better financial assistance from the State in capital outlay, especially in those sections where the indebtedness and tax rate will prohibit the establishment of a community college without greater state support.

We advocate allowing state supported colleges in diverse sections of the state to offer masters degrees and doctorates in education in order that teachers may continue their work towards these degrees while they teach.

We feel that, in any expansion of our system of higher education, the interests of the State's excellent private colleges should be given consideration.

The Republican Party feels that justice demands that the governing boards of all institutions of higher education be selected on a non-partisan basis.

LOCAL CONTROL OF EDUCATION

Republican members of the 1967 General Assembly will work for legislation returning to the counties and cities control over Boards of Education either by direct vote of the people in non-partisan elections or by appointment of the board by duly elected county officials.

ELECTION LAWS

If the people of our State are to have improvements in their election laws, it will be a result of the Republican Party and the Republican Party alone. After 65 years of Democrat rule the State's election laws are still the delight of the unscrupulous politician, being filled with unjust provisions and handy loopholes.

As each session of the Democratically controlled legislature passes with only minimal changes in the election laws, it becomes more and more apparent to the people of the State that the hope for free and more honest elections lies with the Republican Party alone.

The Republican Party reproves the party in power for its biennial failure to correct the many faults of its elections laws. It refuses to require periodic reregistration. It circumvents any actions to prevent ballot box abuses. It steadfastly upholds its complete domination of the election boards at every level. In some counties it refuses to allow the minority party to name its own judges. And in every respect it shows a continual lack of concern for truly representative government.

The Republican Party continues to advocate:

1. The transfer of the control of elections from the Democratic Party to a system of non-partisan boards of exercising a generally judicial function. The election officials should, therefore, be appointed with the understanding that they represent the State of North Carolina and not any political party.

2. A statewide periodic reregistration. There is no better way of purging the registration books. A substantial number of the counties in North Carolina have not had a new registration in the last 12 years. The Republican Party advocates a complete reregistration every 8 years.

3. A modern loose-leaf system of registration requiring each registrant to sign his name when registering to vote.

4. The repeal of the civilian absentee ballot law. The alterations in the absentee ballot laws grudgingly adopted by the Democratic legislature have done little to dispell the abuses of these provisions. The only means for completely eliminating the flagrant abuses of this law is to completely repeal the entire section.

5. The removal of the so-called markers at each polling place. These markers no longer serve the function of assisting the voter in marking his ballot but instead help the unscrupulous politician to control the ballot.

6. The more widespread use of voting machines with the State sharing the cost. Voting machines would obviously result in more honest elections, eliminating the stuffed ballot boxes, false bottomed ballot boxes, marked ballots and similar frauds.

7. Requiring the voter to sign a poll book before voting. Such action would deter many from voting illegally.

8. That Federal employees be prohibited from serving as election officials.

We think it reprehensible that the citizens of this State were required to resort to the courts for the elimination of the loyalty oath because the Democratic controlled legislature continually defeated Republican attempts to repeal this oath in the legislature.

The Republican Party endorses these and any improvement to the election laws which would provide more honest and free elections. All just and truly representative governments are based on honest and free elections. It is upon these foundations that the Republican Party bases its goals.

REALIGNMENT OF SENATORIAL DISTRICTS

Since the present rule is that State legislative apportionment must be based on the one-man one-vote theory, the Republican Party believes that the only way to completely comply with the rules is to have the only one-member Senate districts and one-member House districts. To accomplish full-compliance into single-member districts, and realignment after the next census should be by one-member districts.

CONGRESSIONAL REDISTRICTING

It will be the purpose of Republican representatives and senators to redistrict the Congressional districts of North Carolina on the basis of making the districts geographically compact as far as it is possible without splitting counties.

GOVERNMENT TAXES AND SPENDING

Wherever the citizen of North Carolina turns, he finds himself faced with yet another tax. North Carolina is in the minority of states that levy both general sales and personal income taxes. Our sales tax rate is exceeded only by nine states. Our personal income tax rate is exceeded by only six states. The rate at which we tax corporate income is exceeded in only two states. And our motor fuel tax ranks number one with the exception of Hawaii and Alaska. Per capita tax collections in North Carolina have increased from $54.39 in 1950 to $130.32 in 1964—more than doubling over the fifteen year period. The average taxpayer of North Carolina is clearly assuming an ever growing burden. To be sure, some of this burden has been used to the benefit of the taxpayers. But the Republican Party of North Carolina maintains that the taxpayer is not receiving the maximum benefit from his taxes. The Republican Party believes that the taxpayers not only have a right to know how their hard earned tax dollars are being spent, but also to receive maximum benefit from these tax dollars. We maintain that the tax burden on the average taxpayer can actually be decreased while the benefits to him are increased. To these ends, the Republican Party makes the following proposals:

A. Tax Revision

1. Replace food tax with a normal tax on alcohol and tobacco.
2. Replace 15% of the sales tax collected, back to the counties, giving the counties $20,000,000 per year for school building purposes.

B. Tax Reform

1. An Educational Trust Fund will be established within the office of the State Treasurer. All revenue from the general sales tax shall be placed in this trust fund and shall be used for education only. The treasurer will be authorized to invest this money in short-term U. S. Government securities or to deposit the money in financial institutions within North Carolina which are insured by an agency of the U. S. Government. The treasurer will be required to give a short statement monthly and a full report biannually to each legislator on the condition of the Trust Fund. These statements and reports will include such items as income expenditures, location of investments, and interest received on the Fund.

The enactment of this proposal would bring about an increase in the benefits to the people of North Carolina without an increase in taxes. Although the general sales tax was enacted for the purpose of providing funds for education, a comparison of tax receipts and education expenditures indicates that about twenty per cent of sales tax revenue is going for non-educational purposes. The Educational Trust Fund would recover most or all of this twenty percent for the education of our children.

2. Full-time students in an accredited college, university or vocational school shall be exempt from the state income tax while they are full time students. Part time students in accredited institutions who are taking courses which improve their skills may deduct the expenses of such part time education from their taxable incomes when computing their state income tax.

C. Expenditure Reforms

1. To provide a check on the majority party, the membership of the Advisory Budget Committee shall include at least two members of the minority party.
2. Members of the press and public shall be allowed to be present at all meetings of the Joint Appropriations Subcommittee.
3. At the end of each session, the Legislature shall appoint a Comptroller General who shall have access to all information on present and proposed State finances, and who shall report periodically to the Legislature on the status of State Finances and on the formulation of the State budget.

These three proposals would make a reality of the right of the taxpayers to know how their tax money is being spent. At the very least it would give the representatives of the people full access to this information.

4. Any surplus in State funds existing at the end of any fiscal year shall be used to retire a portion of the outstanding debt of the State. The only exception shall be funds in the Educational Trust fund.
5. A commission shall be established to make a study of the entire State tax structure and make suggestions for re-vamping the tax structure to provide a greater equity in the tax system and the maximum benefit to the taxpayer. The North Carolina tax system, like those of all other states, has been constructed bit by bit. Now is the time to take the lead among the states and study our entire tax structure as a unit and to make reforms which will give business, labor, and the consumer the maximum benefit from their tax dollars so they will have to bear only a minimum tax burden.

CIVIL RIGHTS

We are committed to the protection of rights and equal opportunities for all American citizens. Particularly, we object to the current practice of the present administration of paying only lip-service to equal job opportunities and non-discriminatory hiring. However, we deplore the arbitrary and capricious methods by which the present national administration has withheld or threatened to withhold federal funds in order to achieve forced racial balance in various programs receiving federal assistance. To ignore the free choices of all citizens and to insist upon forced racial balance is insulting to members of all races.

EFFICIENCY IN STATE ADMINISTRATION

In order to bring about better state government we advocate the following:

1. The governor should have the power of veto as do all other state governors and as does the president.
2. State employees should be protected by civil service in order to attract and hold capable persons.
3. A comptroller general should be appointed by the legislature to oversee the budget and be responsible only to the legislature

4. The legislature should delegate authority to the counties and municipalities of this state in matters which are purely of local concern, freeing the legislature to concern itself with pressing state matters.
5. A study commission should be set up similar to the "Hoover Commission" to study each individual agency of the state with the prime purpose to see if by combining or abolishing agencies, a more effective use could be made of personnel and money while better serving our citizens.

STATE EMPLOYEES

The Republican Party commends the excellent service of State Employees who have done their jobs despite the undue burden of political pressure exerted by the Democrat Party. It has been and is the desire of the Republican Party to enhance the position and security of State Employees. Republicans in 1961, 1963, and 1965 sessions of the General Assembly sponsored and supported legislation. A politically free Civil Service System would eliminate political servitude as it now exists and would allow State Employees to concentrate upon the productive work of their office.

GRAFT AND CORRUPTION

After 65 years of control by the Democrat Party, and the record of corruption associated with it, it is time for an intensive investigation of State practices and policies.

SECRECY IN GOVERNMENT

We believe that if North Carolinians are to remain free, the elected and appointed representatives of the people of North Carolina must be the major champions of the citizens rights.

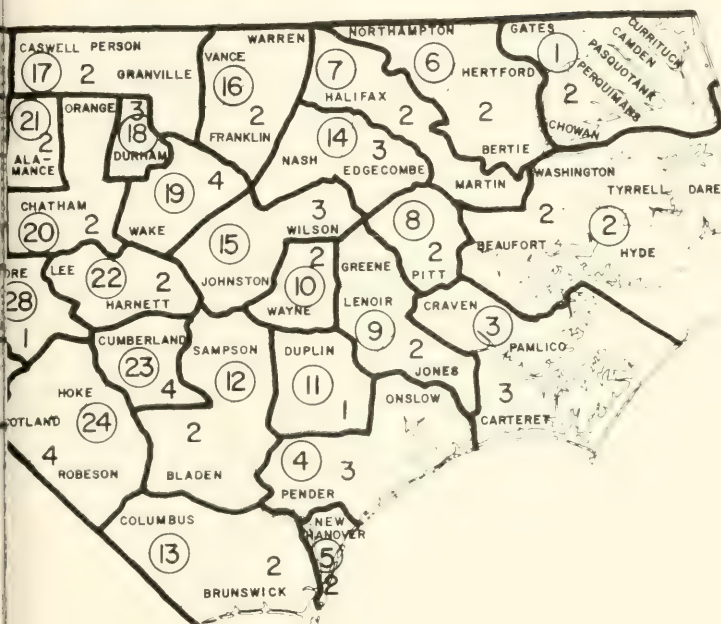

It is reasonable to assume that as North Carolina grows in population, State government enlarges in corresponding size, scope, and power.

Government, while seeking just and honorable goals, has become guilty of abuse of its powers. This has come about largely due to untended and unwatched affairs through secrecy in government.

State Represent

Districts-1966

The Republican Party takes the position that no person, or group of persons, has the right to deny people the access to meetings and deliberations of any branch of their government.

We further believe that the citizens of this state have the absolute and unqualified right to know all the facts concerning the affairs of their government.

We oppose secret meetings of any Legislative Committee, and Commission Board or Administrative Department.

We conclude that secrecy in government, if allowed to prevail, becomes an unconscious development that ends in a voluntary surrender of a free people escaping from freedom to one autocratic master.

ROADS AND HIGHWAY

The Republican Party has consistently advocated a non-partisan policy which insists on the appointments of professionally oriented Highway Commissioners and the hiring of personnel based on qualifications rather than political loyalty.

We see the present program of automobile inspections as a totally inadequate approach towards stemming the shocking highway fatality figures in our State.

We would recommend more thorough studies of highway safety hazards, more consistent policies, a broader backing for our State Highway Patrol, and greater attention to the overall condition of our rural roads.

HIGHWAY SAFETY

There is no simple solution to the increasing slaughter upon our highways, but an effective state program dealing with every aspect of the problem is urgent.

Increased emphasis upon driver education, both in our schools and adult clinics, and upon public information forums is essential in making our citizenry safety-conscious.

Highway engineering and construction to eliminate locations of high accident frequency is a life-saver which cannot be delayed.

Above all, there should be vigorous and impartial law enforcement to instill into law violators a healthy respect for the traffic laws. Meddling with the State Highway Patrol for political reasons is inexcusable whether on a local or gubernatorial level.

The Republican Party condemns such political shenanigans in highway law enforcement and commits itself to a strict, impartial enforcement of our traffic laws.

JUDICIARY

The administration of justice in North Carolina has needed sensible modernization for many years. In the 1961 session of the General Assembly the unanimous support of Republican members resulted in the submission to the people of constitutional amendments to pave the way for court improvement. The people indicated by their overwhelming approval of these amendments that they wanted reform. The 1963 Session saw almost no activity towards implementing of the approved amendments. There were even brags by some of the Democrat members of the Legislature that there would be no implementation. In 1964 the Republican Party pledged an all out effort to bring about uniformity of the lower court systems of North Carolina and the general updating of our court procedures in order to improve and expedite the administration of justice and in 1965 appropriate legislation was enacted. The Democrats have demonstrated bad faith by opposing Republican sponsored legislation designed to allow open election of Judges in the District where they are to serve. The Republican Party will continue to advocate open and uninhibited election of Judges in this State by the people in the District where the Judge is to serve.

USE OF STATE FACILITIES BY THOSE ADVOCATING OVERTHROW OF OUR GOVERNMENT

The Republican Party of North Carolina is unalterably opposed to the use of State Buildings and facilities, as a forum, by persons or organizations known to advocate the overthrow of the Constitution or Government of the United States or the State of North Carolina by force or violence.

AGRICULTURE

The Republican Party has long held that minimal agricultural diversification, low per capita incomes and a declining rural population has accentuated the plight of North Carolina farming.

We recognize the inevitable changes which will be reshaping our farm economy through increased technology and mechanization. Therefore, we recommend:

- A. Greatly expanded technical assistance to enable farmers to face rapidly changing methods of production.
- B. Basic research through experimental stations which will open up new potentials in crop diversification.
- C. Availability of reasonable long term capital with which to finance needed mechanization.

Further we feel great emphasis should be exerted through all related state agencies to develop more processing and distribution of local agricultural production. We see no valid reason for such high proportions of out-of-state agricultural products being imported to serve North Carolina markets.

CONSERVATION AND DEVELOPMENT

We believe that the greatest single indictment against our present Conservation and Development Department is the shockingly low per capita income for the people of our state.

Standing at 43rd among the 50 states, business economists have predicted it will take a half a century for North Carolina to catch up with the rest of the nation in per capita income at the present rate of growth.

We submit this to be the most acute economic problem of our state. Attracting industries which utilize comparatively unskilled and untrained labor contributes very little to our overall problem of low per capita income. We want to see more emphasis on developing industries which would afford higher incomes to our state's wage earners.

To this end, we recommend an immediate and sharply expanded boost to the Research Triangle. In addition, we recommend any other regionally placed sub-centers which might be needed for specialized research, industrialization and development. Diversification of industry and more technical jobs created by these centers represent the two most logical approaches in attacking our state's chronic problem of unemployment and under-employment.

LABOR

The Republican Party commends the working men and women of North Carolina, who because of their efforts have raised their standard of living and improved their working conditions.

We strongly support the proposition that through free and honest elections the laboring people shall have opportunity to determine whether it is their desire to associate with a union or not. We do believe, however, that individuals, who after a properly conducted election have decided to be represented by a union who will be their bargaining agent, be given every opportunity to immediately begin bargaining with management.

While some progress has been made to establish a meaningful minimum wage in North Carolina, we believe that additional steps should be taken by the 1967 General Assembly. We are of the opinion that the Republican Party should introduce and support legislation that would guarantee a $1.25 minimum wage in our state by January 1, 1968.

We further believe that the present North Carolina unemployment and working-man's compensation laws are in need of study and revision. We believe that a thorough study will show a need for a substantial increase in the unemployment and workmen's compensation benefits when compared to other progressive states of this nation. We therefore propose that the 1967 General Assembly undertake such a study to properly determine equitable and honorable workman's and unemployment compensation benefits.

We believe that union leaders should set the example for proper and honest conduct in the organizing and governing of the labor movement and unions.

Union members should at all times have the opportunity to freely and openly express themselves and vote on all matters without fear of intimidation or reprisals against them or their families. We further believe that all matters pertaining to finances, dues, as well as all expenditures of union funds, should be freely and openly discussed and voted on by the entire membership; and that no monies be expended without the express will of the majority of the membership.

INTERNAL WATER RESOURCES

The Republican Party of North Carolina believes the need for conserving water is of such importance that water resources development should be put on a par with agricultural and industrial development. While water problems in the State have not yet reached serious proportions, there are some developing areas where total water demands soon may exceed available supplies; and adequate water quality shortly may pose serious problems for the entire state. Thus, while there is still time to do so, the Republican Party of North Carolina advocates that increased emphasis be placed on fully developing water resources of the State to meet foreseeable State demands for decades to come. We must immediately get down to the task of systematic planning for the best use of the State's water resources in an orderly and rational way.

HOME RULE

The Republican Party is alarmed by the increasing centralization of power in Raleigh and Washington. As an example, more than one-half of the legislation enacted by the North Carolina General Assembly is local legislation not applicable to the state as a whole.

CONSTITUTIONAL REFORM

The progress of North Carolina should not continue to be hampered by an antiquated, out-moded state constitution adopted in 1868 and cluttered with a hodge-podge of unrelated and confusing amendments.

The Republican Party advocates the call of a Constitutional Convention for the purpose of drafting and submitting to the people a modern up-to-date constitution.

PUBLIC HEALTH

The Republican Party knowing that sound physical and mental health is of basic importance to the life and happiness of the people realizes that this is primarily an individual responsibility, a local responsibility, a responsibility of charitable organizations, a responsibility of the cities and counties. The Republican Party recognizes that it is the responsibility of city, county, and state government to safeguard public health in areas beyond the power of the individual citizen and therefore it pledges itself to discharge this obligation and responsibility with maximum efficiency and minimum interference with the liberties of the people, and to spend the people's money with as much care as if it were all our own.

We pledge our best efforts in making North Carolina's health environment the safest in which to live, work, and play.

More specifically, we pledge ourselves to give immediate attention to solving the following important problems:

1. Pollution of water, soil, and air. Growing population and industrial expansion has aggravated existing wide spread pollution of streams and water supplies by human and industrial wastes. Overloaded and outmoded sewage disposal facilities, and inadequate water purification facilities in many locations have created in many areas situations of great and increasing danger to the health of the people. Immediate correction of these conditions, with intelligence and imagination is imperative. A farseeing, coordinated statewide plan, in cooperation with analogous projects in neighboring states, needs to be developed and carried out without delay to insure purity of surface and ground water and the water in our recreation areas.
2. Programs for making more and better use of the skills of elderly citizens through cooperation with and assistance to our private enterprise economy sector.
3. More careful long range planning to improve and maintain sanitary conditions in the fringe areas around cities and towns particularly the faster growing ones.
4. Health needs of our growing population demands more and better efforts to induce young people to prepare themselves for health service careers. This includes opposing the incentive-killing effect of federal government aid and control of health services. We advocate the establishment of a research division within the department of health for the purpose of determining if there be elements which may induce cancer in cigarette smoke and if such be found determining their exact nature and methods of eliminating these from processed cigarette tobacco.

PUBLIC WELFARE

We recognize that in every economy there are two groups of citizens, one which is unable to provide for itself and the other which is unwilling to provide for itself. It is the responsibility of our state and local government to care for all those so handicapped by unfortunate circumstances. Under present procedure there is too much opportunity for abuses in qualifying for welfare assistance. It is true that in all too many cases persons are receiving welfare assistance who refuse to work. It is imperative that more clearly defined limits and restrictions be placed upon recipients of welfare assistance to the end that cases of necessity are adequately cared for and cases of abuse are immediately checked and discontinued.

In many cases it is true that some of the more needy receive too little in the way of assistance. The Republican Party believes that stricter enforcement of requirements for participation in public welfare with more adequate assistance to those entitled to receive is essential.

The Republican Party advocates more exacting legislation requiring irresponsible parents to maintain their children and requiring adult children of sufficient income to maintain and support their needy parents. The enforcement of these laws will relieve taxpayers of this unwarranted burden.

COMMERCIAL FISHERIES—SALT WATER RESOURCES

As this division of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development has functioned in the past, little constructive emphasis has been placed upon either of the fundamental functions of Conservation or development of North Carolina fishery resources. This lack of emphasis and resulting failure in its primary purposes is partly attributable to unnecessary emphasis on the activities of tax collection and law enforcement.

Under the control of the Democrat Party, the operation of the Commercial and Sports Fisheries Division of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development, as presently conducted, has become a matter of collecting taxes (from the fishing industry) with which to pay for law enforcement officers. Many of the laws enforced are merely laws levying taxes (or licenses). Thus, this agency is, in effect a "political perpetual motion machine," accomplishing only its own continuation.

The Republican Party advocates the assumption by the Department of Revenue of tax collecting functions of the Commercial Fisheries Division which is presently handled by the Department of Conservation and the North Carolina Department of Conversation and Development.

Boats are the machinery used by fishermen for making their living. For the reason that the farmer's plow is not taxed, the fisherman's boat should not be taxed by special licenses.

We further deem it necessary that the law enforcement functions of the Commercial and Sports Fisheries Division of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development be assumed by a duly constituted law enforcement agency of the State, the North Carolina Waterway Patrol. The North Carolina Republican Party believes that, in this way, more effective and constructive practices can be established and that valuable contributions to the economics of the coastal areas of North Carolina can be made. We, furthermore, believe that these accomplishments will "inure" to the general benefit of all North Carolinians.

Once relieved of these two functions mentioned above, the Commercial and Sports Fisheries Division of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development should direct its efforts toward the proper objectives of conservation of basic brood stocks of the State's fishery resources and the development of the fishing and related industries.

We believe that the Division of Commercial and Sports Fisheries should be a separate department of government which will place added emphasis upon research, seafood processing and marketing in an attempt to raise the economy of coastal North Carolina and that this new division should also place added emphasis on the development of the sports fishing industry in North Carolina.

STATE PORTS

The North Carolina Republican Party believes that the North Carolina port facilities at Morehead City and Wilmington are vitally important to the State and its industries by affording the opportunity for world-wide commerce; and we advocate that major emphasis be placed upon our ports for their expansion in areas regarding promotion, advertising, and capital improvements; and we believe that a modern East-West highway is essential for the growth and usage of our ports.

We believe that these port facilities can and should continue to operate on a self-supporting basis in the tradition of a free and competitive economy.

COASTAL WATER WAYS

The North Carolina Republican Party is aware of the tremendous increase of pleasure boating in our coastal water, and is also aware that the lack of concern regarding the boating public is a detriment to tourist trade in our coastal areas. Therefore, we advocate the following policies:

1. That there be an acceleration in the construction of boat ramps and relief stations in our coastal areas to be under the direction of the North Carolina Wildlife Reserve Commission.
2. That the State inaugurate a politically free Waterway Patrol to promote safe boating practices, and to provide assistance and protection for the boating public; and that there be established safety requirements and regulations for the operation of high powered boats.
3. That the North Carolina Highway Department in the mutual interest of highway traffic and water traffic adopt a policy of increasing the clearances under all fixed and draw-span bridges over coastal waterways.

INLAND LAKES AND RIVERS

The Republican Party recognizes the rights of all persons to enjoy inland lakes and rivers. We also recognize the dangers and problems involved when the same streams and lakes are used by different persons for different forms of recreation. We propose statewide regulation for the protection and control of boaters, swimmers, skiers, fishermen and divers while using our inland public waters.

RIGHTS OF CITIZENSHIP

Under the proper interpretation of the philosophy of government that our forefathers dreamed of and we seek to bring into realization. we, the Republican Party believe it to be fundamentally true that the will of the majority ought to prevail within the framework of the Constitution. In the proper exercise of that will, however, the proper regard must be used to safeguard the rights of minorities—whose members are entitled to equal and full citizenship of this state, and to the rights and freedom of choices of the individual citizen.

CONCLUSION

The future of our State is bright, for the people are realizing the advantages and necessity of a healthy two-party system of government. The shackles and heavy yoke of oppressive and lethargic one-party system are rapidly being discarded in North Carolina. Control of the government is being returned to the people, where it rightly should and will be with the emergency of a healthy, competitive, and active two-party system of government. Your vote for Republican candidates, dedicated to these our principles of good government, will speed the advent of government by the people, of the people, and for the people.

PLAN OF ORGANIZATION OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY OF NORTH CAROLINA

(STATE REPUBLICAN CONSTITUTION)

PREAMBLE

We, the members of the Republican Party of North Carolina, dedicated to the sound principles fostered by that party, conscious of our civic responsibilities and rights, firm in our determination to give our strength to preserving the American principle that government ought and must be of all the people, by all the people, and for all the people do, for the purpose of uniting and co-ordinating our efforts for maximum power and efficiency, herewith establish this instrument, The Plan of Organization of the Republican Party of North Carolina.

ARTICLE I

MEMBERSHIP

1. Members

All citizens of North Carolina who are registered Republicans are members of the Republican Party of North Carolina, and shall have the right to participate in the official affairs of the Republican Party in accordance with these rules. All references herein to delegates, alternates, officers, and members shall in all cases mean persons identified and registered with the Republican Party.

ARTICLE II

PRECINCT MEETINGS

1. Biennial Precinct Meetings

In each precinct in every General Election year, the County Chairman shall call precinct meetings within the dates designated by the State Central Committee after giving ten (10) days written notice of the time and place of holding same to each Precinct Chairman, and after giving one week's notice of such meeting in a newspaper of general circulation within the County. Failure of the County Chairman to act in compliance with the provision shall be cause for any registered Republican within the precinct to call said precinct meeting by notice in a newspaper of general circulation within the County. Every Republican registered within the precinct, in attendance, shall be entitled to cast one vote.

2. Elections

Biennial precinct meetings shall elect a Precinct Committee of five or more voters, one of whom shall be elected as Chairman and one as Vice-Chairman (one of whom shall be a woman), and one as Secretary. Members of the Precinct Committee shall hold their places for two years or until their successors are chosen. Precinct meetings shall elect one delegate and one alternate to the County Convention, plus one additional delegate and alternate for every fifty (50) votes, or major fraction thereof, cast for the Republican Candidate for Governor in the last General Election.

3. Credentials

The Chairman and Secretary of each Precinct shall certify election of officers, Committee members, and delegates and alternates to the County Convention, on forms stipulated by the State Central Committee and furnished by the County Chairman. Complete Credentials shall be in the hands of the County Secretary by the opening of the County Convention.

4. Other Precinct Meetings

a. Other meetings of the Precinct general membership may be held at such times as shall be designated by the Chairman of the Precinct Committee after giving five (5) days notice of such meeting; or upon similar call of one-third of the members of the Precinct Committee, or ten (10) members of the general precinct membership. There shall be no proxy voting.

b. In the event a Precinct fails to properly organize or the Precinct Chairman fails to act, the County Executive Committee may direct the County Chairman to appoint a Temporary Precinct Chairman to serve until a general membership meeting can be called and a new Chairman elected. The County Chairman shall call such a meeting within thirty (30) days after appointment of the Temporary Chairman.

ARTICLE III

PRECINCT COMMITTEE

1. Duties of Committee

The precinct committee shall cooperate with the County Executive Committee in all elections and party activities; provide the County Chairman with a list of party members within the precinct suitable for appointment as registrar, election judge, markers, counters, and watchers at the polls; and promote the objectives of the Party within the Precinct.

2. Duties of Officers

The Chairman of the Precinct Committee, with the advice and consent of the Precinct Committee, shall have general supervision of the affairs of the Party within his precinct, shall preside at all meetings of the precinct, and shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the Precinct Committee or the County Executive Committee. The Vice-Chairman shall function as Chairman in the absence of the Chairman. The Secretary shall keep all minutes and records, and shall maintain a list of registered Republican voters and workers within the Precinct.

3. Meetings

Meetings of the Precinct Committee may be held at such times as shall be designated by the Chairman of the Precinct Committee after giving five (5) days notice of such meeting; or upon similar call of one-third of the members of the Precinct Committee. There shall be no proxy voting.

4. Vacancies and Removals

a. In case of death, resignation, discontinuance of residency within the precinct, or removal of any officers or members of the Precinct Committee, the resulting vacancy shall be filled by the remaining members of the Precinct Committee.

b. Any members of the Precinct Committee may be removed by a two-thirds vote of the Precinct Committee after being furnished with notice of the charges against him, signed by not less than one-third of the members of the Committee and allowing him twenty (20) days to appear and defend himself; provided further that said cause for removal shall be confined to gross inefficiency, party disloyalty, or failure to comply with the County or State Plans of Organization. Such removal may be appealed to the County Executive Committee, within twenty (20) days, and their decision shall be final.

ARTICLE IV

COUNTY CONVENTION

1. Biennial Conventions

A County Convention shall be called in every General Election year by the Chairman of the County Executive Committee, at the County seat, within the dates set by the State Central Committee, after giving fifteen (15) days notice thereof to all Precinct Chairmen and Executive Committee members, after giving fifteen (15) days notice of such Convention in a newspaper of general circulation within the County. The delegates and alternates elected at the biennial precinct meetings, unless successfully challenged shall sit as delegates and alternates in the County Convention.

2. Convention Action

a. Plan of Organization

The County Convention shall adopt a County Plan of Organization, not inconsistent with this State Plan of Organization.

b. Elections—The County Convention shall

(1) Elect a Chairman and Vice-Chairman (one of whom shall be a woman), a Secretary, and such other officers as may be deemed necessary, who shall serve for a term of two years or until their successors are elected.

(2) Elect a County Executive Committee of five (5) or more voters, who shall hold their places for a term of two years or until their successors are elected. Nominations may be made by the biennial precinct meetings for membership on the County Executive Committee.

(3) Elect one delegate and one alternate to the Congressional District and State Conventions, plus one additional delegate and alternate for every 200 votes, or major fraction thereof, cast for the Republican candidate for Governor in the last General Election in said County. Each County shall further elect one delegate and alternate for each Republican elected to the State Legislature and to public office on the state or national level from said County in the preceding election.

c. District Committee Appointments

One person shall be appointed to each of the Solicitorial, Judicial, Senatorial, and Legislative District Committees by the County Chairman, with the consent of the County Convention, to serve until a candidate is selected with the respective District.

3. Credentials

The Chairman and Secretary of the County Executive Committee shall certify election of officers, committee members, delegates and alternates to the District and State Conventions, and District Committee members, on forms furnished by the State Central Committee. Completed Credentials shall be in the hands of the Congressional District Secretary by the opening of the Congressional District Convention.

ARTICLE V

COUNTY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

1. Membership

The County Executive Committee shall consist of the County Officers and other persons elected by the County Convention (in accordance with ARTICLE IV, sec. 2 (b), and the County Finance Chairman.

2. Powers and Duties

The County Executive Committee shall cooperate with the District and State Committees in all elections and Party activities; shall encourage qualified candidates for office within the county; adopt a budget; and shall have active management of party affairs within the County. It shall apoint a Finance Chairman and a Finance Committee of not less than three members, and Auditing Committee of not less than three members, and may appoint such other Committees as may be deemed necessary.

3. Meetings

The County Executive Committee shall meet at least twice a year upon call of the Chairman after giving ten (10) days notice to all members; or upon similar call of one-third of the members of the Committee. One-third of the members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. There shall be no proxy voting.

4. Duties of Officers

The Chairman of the County Executive Committee, with the advice and consent of the County Executive Committee, shall have general supervision of the affairs of the party within his County. He shall issue the call for Biennial Precinct Meetings, the County Convention, and Executive Committee meetings, and shall preside at all the meetings of the County Executive Committee. He shall make quarterly reports on the status of the Party within his county to the State Chairman, on forms furnished by the State Central Committee. He shall be responsible for the creation and maintenance of a Republican organization in every precinct within his County. He shall obtain and preserve a list of all registered Republicans within the County, and shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the County, District, or State Committees. The Vice-Chairman shall function as Chairman in the absence of the Chairman, and shall have such other duties as may be prescribed by the County Executive Committee. The Secretary shall keep all minutes and records, and shall maintain a roster of all precinct officers and Executive Committee members. Such records shall be available upon request, to any registered Republican within the county.

5. Vacancies and Removals

a. In case of death, resignation, discontinuance of residency within the County, or removal of any officer or member of the County Executive Committee, the resulting vacancy shall be filled by the County Executive Committee.

b. Any Officer or member of the County Executive Committee may be removed by a two-thirds vote of the Committee after being furnished with notice of the charges against him, signed by not less than one-third of the members of the Committee and allowing him thirty (30) days to appear and defend himself; provided further that said cause for removal shall be confined to gross inefficiency, party disloyalty, or failure to act in compliance with the County or State Plans of Organization. Such removal may be appealed, within twenty (20) days to the Congressional District Chairman and members of the State Executive Committee within the District, and their decision shall be final.

ARTICLE VI

COUNTY FINANCE AND AUDITING COMMITTEES

1. Finance Committee

The County Finance Committee shall be composed of the County Finance Chairman, the County Chairman, and not less than three persons appointed by the County Executive Committee. They shall cooperate with the State Finance Committee and shall have active management of fund-raising efforts within the County.

2. Auditing Committee

The Auditing Committee shall conduct a yearly audit of the financial records of the County and report such audit to the County Executive Committee for approval.

ARTICLE VII

SOLICITORIAL, JUDICIAL, SENATORIAL, AND LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT COMMITTEES

1. Membership

Membership shall consist of those persons appointed by the County Chairman with the approval of the County Convention.

2. Election of Officers

At some time preceding the State Convention, the District Committees shall meet at a time and place designated by the member of the Committee from that County within the District having the largest population and shall elect, from among their membership, a chairman and such other officers as may be deemed necessary. The officers shall have such duties as may be prescribed by the State Executive Committee. The Chairmen shall report to the State Chairman names of elected officers.

3. Powers and Duties of Committees

a. The Solicitorial District Committee shall encourage qualified candidates for Solicitor, and shall cooperate with the County and State Executive Committees in all campaigns.

b. The Judicial District Committee shall encourage qualified candidates for District Judge, and shall cooperate with the County and State Executive Committees in all campaigns.

c. The Senatorial District Committee shall encourage qualified candidates for State Senator, and shall cooperate with the County and State Executive Committees in all campaigns.

d. The Legislative District Committee shall encourage qualified candidates for the State House of Representatives, and shall cooperate with the County and State Executive Committees in all campaigns.

ARTICLE VIII

CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT CONVENTIONS

1. Biennial Convention

A Congressional District Convention shall be called in every General Election year by the Chairman of the Congressional District Committee, within the dates designated by the State Central Committee, upon twenty (20) days written notice of the time and place for holding same to all members of the District Committee and to the County Chairmen within said District. The delegates and alternates elected in the County Conventions, unless successfully challenged, shall sit as delegates and alternates in the Congressional District Convention.

2. Elections

a. The Congressional District Convention shall elect a Chairman and a Vice-Chairman (one of whom shall be a woman), a Secretary, a Treasurer and such other officers as may be deemed necessary, who shall serve for a term of two years or until their successors are elected.

b. In every General Election year, the Congressional District Convention shall further elect one member of the State Executive Committee, plus one additional member for every 6,000 votes or major fraction thereof cast within the District for the Republican candidate for Governor in the preceding General Election.

c. In every Presidential Election year, the Convention shall further elect two delegates and two alternates to the Republican National Convention; and shall nominate one Presidential Elector.

3. Credentials

The Chairman and Secretary of the Congressional District shall certify election of officers, State Executive Committee members, delegates and alternates, and nominee for Presidential Elector on forms furnished by the State Central Committee. Completed District Credentials, plus completed Credentials for the Counties within the District, shall be in the hands of the State Credentials Committee Chairman by the deadline set by the State Chairman.

ARTICLE IX

CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT COMMITTEE

1. Membership

Membership of the Congressional District Committee shall be composed of:

- a. The officers elected at the District Convention.
- b. All duly elected County Chairman within the District.
- c. County Vice-Chairmen from those counties within the District which gave a majority vote to the Republican candidate for President and Governor in the preceding election.
- d. Such others as the District Plan of Organization may provide.

2. Powers and Duties

The Congressional District Committee shall encourage qualified candidates for Congress, appoint a Finance Chairman, and cooperate with the County and State Executive Committee in all campaigns.

3. Meetings

The Congressional District Committee shall meet at least once a year upon call of the Congressional District Chairman. One-third of the members of the Committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. There shall be no proxy voting.

4. Duties of Officers

- a. The Congressional District Chairman, with the advice and consent of the District Committee, shall have general supervision of the affairs of the party within his District. He shall assist the State Chairman in carrying out state programs, supervise the Congressional campaigns until such time as a Campaign Manager shall have been appointed, maintain contact with all Counties within his District, and shall be responsible for the proper organization and functioning of those Counties. He shall maintain constant liaison with all County Chairmen with regard to a Republican organization in every precinct within his District. He shall have such other duties as may be prescribed by the State Executive Committee.

b. The Vice-Chairman shall be Chief Assistant to the District Chairman and shall act as Chairman in the absence of the Chairman; shall maintain liaison with the County Vice-Chairmen throughout the District (where applicable) and shall have such other duties as may be prescribed by the District Committee.

c. The Secretary shall keep all minutes and records, and shall maintain a roster of all officers of the Counties within the District.

5. Vacancies and Removals

a. In case of death, resignation, discontinuance of residency within the District, or removal of any officer of the Congressional District Committee, the resulting vacancy shall be filled by the remaining members of the Committee.

b. Any officer of the Congressional District Committee may be removed by a two-thirds vote of the Congressional District Committee after being notified of the charges against him signed by not less than one-third of the members of the Committee, and allowing him thirty (30) days to appear and defend himself; provided further that said cause for removal shall be confined to gross inefficiency, party disloyalty, or failure to act in compliance with the District or State Plans of Organization. Such removal may be appealed within twenty (20) days, to the State Central Committee and their decision shall be final.

DISTRICT FINANCE COMMITTEE

1. The District Finance Chairman shall serve as Chairman of the Congressional District Finance Committee, which shall be composed of the Finance Chairmen of all the Counties within the District and the Congressional District Chairman. Other officers as may be deemed necessary may be elected by and from the members of the Committee. This Committee shall cooperate with the State Finance Committee and with the County Finance Committees in all fund-raising efforts.

ARTICLE XI

1. Biennial State Conventions

A State Convention shall be called in every General Election year by the Chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee after giving sixty (60) days written notice of the time and place for holding same to all members of the State Executive Committee and to all County Chairmen. Delegates and alternates elected at the County Conventions, unless successfully challenged, shall sit as delegates and alternates at the State Convention.

2. Elections

a. In every General Election year, the State Convention shall elect a State Chairman and a Vice-Chairman (one of whom shall be a woman), who shall serve for a term of two years or until their successors are elected.

b. In every Presidential Election year, the Convention shall further elect a National Committeeman and a National Committeewoman to serve for a term of four years or until their successors are elected; nominate two Presidential Electors-at-large; and elect delegates and alternates to the National Convention, in addition to those specified under ARTICLE VIII, 2 (c), in the number stipulated by the State Chairman as determined by the National Rules. The State Chairman, National Committeeman, National Committeewoman, incumbent Republican Governor, and Republican members of Congress shall be nominees. Persons seeking to be delegates and alternates shall notify the State Chairman of their intentions at least two weeks prior to the State Convention. The State Chairman shall then furnish the list of prospective delegates and alternates to all members of the State Executive Committee at least one week prior to the Convention.

ARTICLE XII

STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

1. Membership

The State Executive Committee shall be composed of the following:

- a. The Congressional District Chairman, the Congressional District Vice-Chairman, and those persons elected by the District Conventions, under ARTICLE VIII, 2 (b) of this plan.
- b. The State Chairman, Vice-Chairman, National Committeeman, National Committeewoman, Secretary, Assistant Secretary, Treasurer, Finance Chairman, and General Counsel.
- c. The Immediate Past State Chairman and Vice-Chairman, the Permanent Chairman and Secretary of the Preceding State Convention.
- d. The Chairman, National Committeeman and National Committeewoman of the Young Republican Federation. The President, President-Elect and Past President of the Republican Women's Federation.
- e. All current Republican members of the National Congress, the State Legislature, and State Board of Elections.
- f. The County Chairmen from those Counties which gave a majority vote to the Republican candidate for President or Governor in the preceding election.
- g. The County Vice-Chairmen from those Counties which gave a majority vote to the Republican candidates for President and Governor in the preceding election.

2. Powers and Duties of Committee

The State Executive Committee shall elect a Secretary and an Assistant Secretary (one of whom shall be a member of the Young Republican Federation), a Treasurer, a Finance Chairman, and a General Counsel, who shall serve for a term of two years or until their successors are elected. The Committee shall formulate and provide for the execution of such plans and measures as it may deem conducive to the best interests of the Republican Party. It shall appoint an Auditing Committee of at least three members to conduct a yearly audit; approve such audit; adopt a budget; and shall have active management of all affairs of the Party within the State. It may delegate such duties as it deems proper to the State Central Committee.

3. Committee Meetings

The State Executive Committee shall meet at least once a year; upon call of the Chairman, at such times as the State Chairman shall determine, after giving fifteen (15) days written notice to all Committee members; or upon petition of one-third of the members of the Committee. One-third of the members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. There shall be no proxy voting.

4. Duties of Officers

a. The State Chairman, with the advice and consent of the Central Committee, shall have general supervision of the affairs of the party within the State. He shall preside at all meetings of the State Executive Committee and shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by the State Executive Committee. He shall be responsible for the campaigns of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor until such time as a permanent campaign manager may be appointed. The State Chairman may delegate authority to the District Chairmen, to act in his behalf on any matter.

b. The Vice-Chairman shall be the Chief Assistant to the Chairman; and shall act as Chairman in the absence of the Chairman. The Vice-Chairman shall maintain liaison with the County Vice-Chairmen, through the District Vice-Chairmen (where applicable). The Vice-Chairman shall have such other duties as may be prescribed by the State Executive Committee.

c. The National Committeeman and National Committeewoman shall maintain liaison with the National Republican Party.

d. The Secretary shall keep minutes of all meetings. The Assistant Secretary shall assist the Secretary in the above duties and shall act as Secretary in the absence of the Secretary.

e. The Treasurer shall be custodian of all funds of the State Executive Committee and shall keep a strict account of all receipts and disbursements. The Treasurer shall be bonded in an amount fixed by the State Central Committee—the premium to be paid from party funds.

f. The General Counsel shall advise the Executive Committee on all legal matters and shall act as Parliamentarian at all meetings of the Committee.

5. Vacancies and Removals

a. In case of death, resignation, discontinuance of residency within the state, or removal of any officer of the State Executive Committee, the resulting vacancy shall be filled by the State Executive Committee. In case of death, resignation, discontinuance of residency within the District or removal of any member representing a Congressional District, the vacancy shall be filled by the remaining members of the Congressional District in which such vacancy occurs.

b. Any officer or member may be removed by a two-thirds vote of the Committee after being furnished with notice of the charges against him signed by not less than one-third of the members of the Committee and allowing him thirty (30) days to appear and defend himself; provided further that said cause for removal shall be confined to gross inefficiency, party disloyalty, or failure to act in compliance with this Plan of Organization. The decision of the State Executive Committee shall be final.

ARTICLE XIII

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE

1. Membership

The State Central Committee shall be composed of the following:

- a. The Congressional District Chairmen; the Congressional District Vice-Chairmen shall act in the absence of the Chairmen.
- b. The Chairman, Vice-Chairman, National Committeeman, National Committeewoman, Secretary, Assistant Secretary, Treasurer, General Counsel, and Finance Chairman of the State Executive Committee.
- c. The Chairman of the Young Republican Federation and the President of the Republican Women's Federation.
- d. The Republican Leader of the State Senate and the Republican Leader of the State House of Representatives.

2. Powers and Duties

The State Central Committee shall have the power to appoint a Campaign Committee, a Publicity Committee, and such other Committees as it may deem necessary for the proper conduct of the affairs of the party; to manage the affairs of the party between meetings of the State Executive Committee; to formulate fiscal policy, establish quotas, prepare a budget, to set the dates for the precinct meetings, and County, Congressional District, and State Conventions during the months of January, February, March; and to do all other things pertaining to party affairs which it may be authorized to do so by the State Executive Committee. It shall be responsible for initiating all campaigns for the U. S. Senate and Council of State and coordinating them as determined feasible. The State Central Committee shall keep accurate accounts of its proceedings and shall make annual reports to the State Executive Committee.

The Committee shall employ as full time Executive Secretary a person of highest character and political competence to prosecute on a day by day basis the mission of the Committee. The Committee shall provide on a full time basis in the Capital city of North Carolina, adequate offices for the Executive Secretary and such staff as the Committee shall provide for him, which offices shall be known as Headquarters, North Carolina Republican Party. The Central Committee is charged with, in addition to all other duties, the mission of creating an effective Republican organization in every political precinct in North Carolina.

3. Meetings

The State Central Committee shall meet at least three times a year upon call of the Chairman upon ten (10) days notice to all members; or upon petition of one-third of the members of the Committee. One-third of the members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. There shall be no proxy voting.

4. Duties of Officers

The officers of the State Executive Committee shall act as officers of the State Central Committee, with corresponding duties.

STATE FINANCE COMMITTEE

1. Membership

The Finance Committee shall consist of the State Finance Chairman, the Congressional District Finance Chairmen, and the State Chairman. The State Finance Chairman shall serve as Chairman of the State Finance Committee. Other officers as may be deemed necessary may be elected by and from the members of the Committee.

2. Powers and Duties

It shall be the duty of the State Finance Committee to develop ways and means to properly finance the General Election campaigns and other business and affairs of the Republican Party. The Committee shall manage a United Fund Raising Effort in cooperation with the State Central Committee only in those counties with the approval of the County Executive Committee; and cooperate with District and County organizations for effective fund-raising campaigns. Said Committee shall not, directly or indirectly, raise or collect funds for the benefit of any candidates for Primary elections. All persons making contributions to the State Finance Committee shall be furnished with a receipt therefor. Contributions going directly to the National Committee or to any candidate shall not be acknowledged by the State Treasurer or recorded as a regular contribution to the Republican Party of North Carolina.

Permanent record of all contributors shall be maintained by the State Chairman and State Treasurer, and such records shall be available upon request, to all County and District Chairmen.

3. Duties of Officers

The Finance Chairman shall preside at all meetings of the Committee and shall be the chief liaison between the Finance Committee and the State Central Committee. Other officers shall have such duties as may be prescribed by the Committee.

ARTICLE XV

GENERAL CONVENTION PROCEDURE

1. Biennial Conventions

The County, Congressional District, and State Conventions shall be called to order by their respective Chairmen or, in the absence of the Chairman, by the Vice-Chairman or Secretary, in order stated, who shall have the power to appoint the necessary Convention Committees at, or before, the convening of the Convention.

2. Voting Procedure

No delegate, alternate, or other member of a Convention shall cast any vote by proxy; provided, however, that any delegate or delegates present shall have the right to cast the entire vote of the precinct in County Conventions, and of the County in District and State Conventions; EXCEPT the registered Republican or Republicans, present at a County Convention from an unorganized precinct, which has not had its credentials accepted, shall have the right to vote one vote each, not to exceed the total vote that the precinct would be entitled if organized and its credentials accepted.

3. Special Conventions

The State Central Committee, at any time in the interest of the Republican Party, may direct the State Chairman or the Congressional District Chairmen to issue call for special Senatorial, Judicial, Solicitorial or Legislative organizational meetings, and special County and Congressional District Conventions, in any or all of the Counties and Districts of the State. The procedure for calling regular biennial meetings and Conventions shall apply to the calling of special meetings and Conventions so far as applicable and not inconsistent with this Plan of Organization.

ARTICLE XVI

OFFICIAL RECORDS

1. Minutes of Official Actions

Minutes shall be kept by all Committees and Conventions of official actions taken and a copy shall be filed with the Chairman of the appropriate Committee or Convention.

2. Financial Accounts

The Chairman, Treasurer, and Finance Chairman of the County, District and State Committees shall keep faithful and accurate records of any and all monies received by them for the use of said Committees and shall make faithful and accurate report thereof when so requested.

ARTICLE XVII

APPOINTMENTS

1. Notification

It shall be the duty of the State Chairman to transmit to each County Chairman, notice of all known vacancies in appointive positions in his County, in order that eligible Republicans from that County may be considered and recommended for such positions. The State Chairman shall further transmit notice of all known vacancies on a District or State Level to those persons having jurisdiction in such appointments.

2. County Appointments

When a vacancy occurs in a Governmental office in any properly organized County, such vacancy shall be filled by recommendation of the State Chairman, only upon majority vote of the Executive Committee of the County involved, at a meeting called for that purpose.

3. District Appointments

When a vacancy occurs in a Governmental office on a District level, such vacancy shall be filled by recommendation of the State Chairman, only upon majority vote of the National Committeeman and National Committeewoman, and each member of the State Executive Committee from the District involved, at a meeting called for that purpose.

4. State Appointments

When a vacancy occurs in a Governmental office on a State level, such vacancy shall be filled by recommendation of the State Chairman, only upon majority vote of the State Executive Committee at a meeting called for that purpose.

ARTICLE XVIII

FORFEITURE OF OFFICIAL PRIVILEGES

1. Any officer or member of a Precinct Committee, County Executive Committee, Congressional District Committee, State Executive Committee, or State Central Committee who, for any reason, is removed or resigns from said position shall forfeit all rights and privileges in any way connected with that position.

ARTICLE XIX

APPLICABILITY AND EFFECTIVENESS OF THIS PLAN

1. Rules as to Towns and Cities

This Plan of Organization is not intended to extend to, or establish organizations for the Republican Party of the various towns and cities of the State of North Carolina as separate units from the precinct and county organizations. Qualified and registered Republican voters of the towns and cities of the State may organize and promulgate their own rules not inconsistent with these rules and the organizations herein established.

2. Rules as to Counties and Districts

The Precinct and County Committees and County Conventions, and the District Committees and Conventions are authorized to promulgate such additional rules and establish such additional party officers or committees for their respective organizations, not inconsistent with these rules, as shall be deemed necessary.

3. Controversies

Controversies in any County or District with respect to the organizations set up therein under this Plan, shall be referred to the State Chairman, National Committeeman, and National Committeewoman for arbitration, and their decision shall be final.

4. Parliamentary Authority

Robert's Rules of Order Revised shall govern all proceedings except when inconsistent with this State Plan of Organization.

5. Effective Date of this Plan

This Plan of Organization shall become effective, and repeal and supercede all other rules, immediately upon its adoption at the State Convention in Charlotte, North Carolina on March 12, 1966. This, however, shall not invalidate any action taken under the previous rules prior to the above date.

RULES AND STANDING COMMITTEES OF THE SENATE

Order of Business

Rule 1. Convening hour. The President shall take the chair at the hour fixed by the Senate upon adjournment on the preceding legislative day, and shall call the members to order. In case the Senate adjourned on the preceding legislative day without having fixed the hour of reconvening, the Senate shall reconvene on the next legislative day at 12:00 o'clock noon.

Rule 2. Opening the session. The President shall, upon order being obtained, have the sessions of the Senate opened with prayer.

Rule 3. Convening in absence of President. In the absence of the President, the President pro tempore shall reconvene the Senate and preside, and during such time shall be vested with all powers of the President except that of casting a vote in case of tie when he shall have voted as a Senator. And in the event of the absence of the President and President pro tempore at any time fixed for the reconvening of the Senate, the Principal Clerk of the Senate, or in his absence also, some member of the Senate Committee on Rules, shall call the Senate to order and designate some member to act as President.

Rule 4. Quorum. (a) A quorum consists of a majority of all the qualified members of the Senate.

(b) When a lesser number than a quorum convene, the Senators present may send the doorkeeper or any other person, for any or all absent Senators, as a majority of the Senators present determine.

Rule 5. Approval of Journal. After the prayer, and upon appearance of a quorum, the President shall cause the Journal of the preceding day to be read and approved, unless the Chairman of the Committee on Journal or some member of the Senate by motion sustained by a majority of the members present, have the reading thereof dispensed with and the same approved as written.

Rule 6. Order of Business. After approval of the Journal, the order of business shall be as follows:

- (1) Reports of standing committees.
- (2) Reports of select committees.
- (3) Introduction of bills, petitions, and resolutions.
- (4) Messages from the House of Representatives.
- (5) Unfinished business of preceding day.
- (6) Special Orders.
- (7) General Orders—First, local bills on third reading roll call, then local bills on second reading roll call. After that the viva voce second reading local calendar in numerical order, taking up the Senate bills in first order. After disposition of the local calendar, the public calendar of bills will be considered in the same order, that is:

- (a) Third reading roll call bills.
- (b) Second reading roll call bills.

(c) Second reading bills to be considered viva voce, with Senate bills taking precedence in order over House bills.

But Messages from the Governor and House of Representatives and communications and reports from State officers and reports from the Committee on Enrolled Bills may be received and acted on under any order of business.

Conduct of Debate

Rule 7. President to maintain order. The President shall have general direction of the Hall of the Senate, and in case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the galleries or lobbies, he shall have the power to order the same cleared.

Rule 8. Substitution for president. The President shall have the right to call on any member to perform the duties of the Chair, but substitution shall not extend beyond one day.

Rule 9. Points of order. (a) The President shall preserve order and decorum and proceed with the business of the Senate according to the rules adopted. He shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Senate by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once unless by leave of the Senate. A two-thirds vote of the members present is necessary to sustain any appeal from the ruling of the Chair.

(b) In the event the Senate Rules do not provide for, or cover any point of order raised by any Senator, the rules of the United States House of Representatives shall govern.

(c) When a Senator is called to order he shall take his seat until the President determines whether he was in order or not; if decided to be out of order, he shall not proceed without the permission of the Senate; and every question of order shall be decided by the President, subject to an appeal to the Senate by any Senator; and if a Senator is called to order for words spoken, the words excepted to shall be immediately taken down in writing, that the President or Senate may be better able to judge of the matter.

Rule 10. Debating and voting by Lieutenant Governor. The Lieutenant Governor, as President of the Senate, being a Constitutional Officer shall not have the right to debate any question or to address the Senate upon any proposition unless by permission of the majority of members present, and shall have the right to vote only when there is a tie vote upon any question or election.

Rule 11. Obtaining recognition. (a) when any Senator is about to speak in debate or deliver any matter to the Senate, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address the President. No member shall speak until recognized by the President, and when two or more members rise at the same time, the President shall name the member to speak.

(b) A Senator who has the floor may yield the floor to another Senator only for the purpose of allowing another Senator to state a question. Only the Chair may award the floor to any Senator for the purposes of allowing that Senator to engage in general debate.

Rule 12. Recognition for extending courtesies. Courtesies of the floor and galleries shall be extended only by the President on his own motion or upon the written request of a member of the Senate to former members of the General Assembly or to visiting distinguished visitors.

Members may designate Honorary Pages by a statement delivered to the Principal Clerk who will have a certificate issued therefor.

The President may upon written request at intervals between various orders of business extend courtesies to schools or other special large groups visiting in the galleries while they are present, and the President shall, at such times as he deems appropriate, express to those visitors in the galleries the pleasure of the Senate for their presence.

Rule 13. Limitations on individual debate. (a) No Senator shall speak or debate more than three times nor longer than forty-five minutes on the same day on the same subject without leave of the Senate.

(b) By permission of the President any member of Senate may address the Senate from the lectern located on the floor before the dais for the purpose of explaining a bill or resolution, stating a point of personal privilege or for the purpose of debate.

Rule 14. Priority of business. All questions relating to priority of business shall be decided without debate.

Rule 15. Reading of papers. When the reading of a paper, other than a petition, is called for, and any Senator objects to the reading, the question shall be determined by the Senate without debate.

Rule 16. General decorum. (a) Senators and visitors shall uncover their heads upon entering the Senate Chamber while the Senate is in session and shall continue uncovered during their continuance in the Chamber.

(b) No remark reflecting personally upon the action of any Senator shall be in order in debate unless preceded by a motion or resolution of censure.

(c) When the President is putting a question, or a division by counting is in progress, no Senator shall walk out of or across the Chamber, nor when a Senator is speaking, pass between him and the President.

(d) When a motion to adjourn or for recess is affirmatively determined, no member or officer shall leave his place until adjournment or recess is declared by the President.

(e) Smoking shall not be allowed on the floor or galleries of the Senate during Sessions.

Motions

Rule 17. Motions generally. All motions shall be reduced to writing, if desired by the President or a Senator, delivered at the table, and read by the President or Reading Clerk before the same are debated; but any motion may be withdrawn by the introducer at any time before decision or amendment.

Rule 18. Motions—Order of precedence. When a question is before the Senate no motion shall be received except those herein specified, which motions shall have precedence as follows, viz.:

- (1) To adjourn.
- (2) To lay on the table.
- (3) For the previous question.
- (4) To postpone indefinitely.
- (5) To postpone to a certain day.
- (6) To commit to a standing committee.
- (7) To commit to a select committee.
- (8) To amend.
- (9) To substitute.

Rule 19. Motions to adjourn and to lay on the table. The motions to adjourn and to lay on the table shall be decided without debate, and the motion to adjourn shall always be in order when made by a Senator entitled to the floor.

Rule 20. Motions to postpone to certain day and to commit. The respective motions to postpone to a certain day, or to commit, shall preclude debate on the main question.

Rule 21. Action when previous question pending. When a motion for the previous question is made and is pending, debate shall cease. After a motion for the previous question is made, pending a second thereto, any member may give notice that he desires to offer an amendment to the bill or other matter under consideration; and after the previous question is seconded such member shall be entitled to offer his amendment in pursuance of such notice.

Rule 22. Motion for previous question. The previous question shall be as follows: "Shall the main question be now put?" and until it is decided shall preclude all amendments and debate. If this question is decided in the affirmative, the "main question" shall be on the passage of the bill, resolution, or other matter under consideration; but when amendments are pending, the question shall be taken upon such amendments in their inverse order, without further debate or amendment: Provided, that no one shall move the previous question except the member submitting the report on the bill or other matter under consideration, and the member introducing the bill or other matter under consideration or the member in charge of the measure, who shall be designated by the chairman of the committee reporting the same to the Senate at the time the bill or other matter under consideration is reported to the Senate or taken up for consideration.

Rule 23. Motion to reconsider. When a question has been once put and decided, any Senator who voted in the majority may move to reconsideration thereof: but no motion for the reconsideration of any vote shall be in order after the bill, resolution, message, report, amendment, or motion upon which the vote was taken has gone out of the possession of the Senate; nor shall any motion for reconsideration be in order unless made on the same day or in the next following legislative day on which the vote proposed to be reconsidered took place, unless the motion is made by the Committee on Enrolled Bills for verbal or grammatical errors in the bills, when the motion may be made at any time, Provided that when the next legislative day has by motion of the Senate, been restricted as to matters which may be considered, a motion to reconsider shall be in order on the next succeeding day upon which regular business is conducted. No question shall be reconsidered more than once.

Voting

Rule 24. Putting question; division. All questions for a vote shall be put as follows: "Those in favor say 'Aye', and after the affirmative vote is expressed—"Opposed 'No'." After which the President will announce the result. If a division on any vote is desired, it must be called for immediately before the result of the voting is announced on any question, and upon such call, the President shall require the members to stand and be counted for and against any proposition under consideration.

Rule 25. Voting by ayes and noes. The ayes and noes may be called for on any question before the vote is taken, and if the call is sustained by one-fifth of the Senators present, the roll of the Senate shall be called and the ayes and noes taken, and the same shall be entered upon the Journal. If a Senator desires the ayes and noes recorded on any question, he shall address the Chair and obtain recognition and say, "Upon that vote or question I call for the ayes and noes." Whereupon the President shall say, "Is the call sustained?" If one-fifth of the members present then stand the roll is called and the ayes and noes recorded. If less than one-fifth present stands, the Chair announces, "An insufficient number up" and a viva voce vote is then taken.

Rule 26. Dividing question. If any question contains several distinct propositions, it shall be divided by the President, at the request of any Senator, provided each subdivision, if left to itself, forms a substantive proposition.

Rule 27. Duty to vote. Every Senator who is within the bar of the Senate when the question is stated by the chair shall vote thereon, unless he is excused by the Senate or unless he is directly interested in the question; and the bar of the Senate shall include the entire Senate chamber.

Rule 28. Excused from voting. Any Senator requesting to be excused from voting may make, either immediately before or after the vote has been called for and before the result has been announced, a brief statement of the reasons for making such request, and the question shall then be taken without debate.

Rule 29. Explanation of vote. Any Senator may explain his vote on any bill pending by obtaining permission of the President before the vote is put: Provided, that not more than three minutes shall be consumed in such explanation.

Committees

Rule 30. Appointment of Committees. The President of the Senate, unless he has by law disqualified himself from that office, shall have the exclusive right and authority to appoint all Committees, regular or special, but he may delegate said authority in any instance, as he may choose.

Rule 31. List of standing committees. The following committees shall be named by the President of the Senate:

1. Agriculture
2. Appropriations
3. Banking
4. Congressional Redistricting
5. Correctional Institutions
6. Conservation and Development
7. Constitution
8. Counties, Cities and Towns
9. Courts and Judicial Districts
10. Education

12. Finance
13. Higher Education
14. Highway Safety
15. Insurance
16. Interstate and Federal Relations
17. Journal, Enrolling, and Printing
18. Judiciary No. 1
19. Judiciary No. 2
20. Libraries (Joint)
21. Local Government
22. Manufacturing, Labor and Commerce
23. Mental Health
24. Propositions and Grievances
25. Public Health
26. Public Roads
27. Public Utilities

- 28. Public Welfare
- 29. Retirement, Employment Security
- 30. Rules
- 31. Salaries and Fees
- 32. State Government
- 33. University Trustees
- 34. Veterans and Military Affairs
- 35. Wildlife

Rule 32. Notice of committee meetings. Public notice of all committee meetings shall be given in the Senate. The required notice may be waived as to any meeting by the attendance at that meeting of all of the members of the committee, or by personal waiver.

Rule 33. Membership of committees; quorum. (a) Membership on standing committees shall consist of not more than sixteen Senators, including the Chairman and Vice Chairman who shall be designated by the President, Provided the committee membership on the Committee on Education, the Committee on Appropriations, the Committee on Finance, the Committee on Agriculture, the Committee on Roads, and the Committee on University Trustees shall not be limited as to membership but shall be left to the discretion of the President. No Senator shall hold membership on more than twelve standing committees unless the Rules Committee provides otherwise. A quorum of any committee shall consist of a majority of the committee.

(b) Procedure in the committees shall be governed by the rules of the Senate, so far as the same may be applicable to such procedure; except that no roll call vote may be required in committee.

Rule 34. Joint committees. The Committee on Trustees of the Greater University and the Committee on Journal, Enrolling and Printing shall act as the joint committees for the Senate.

Rule 35. Voting in joint sessions. When any Senate Committee sits jointly with the House Committee, the Senate Committee reserves the right to vote separately from the House Committee.

Rule 36. Final action to be in open session. Notwithstanding the inherent right of any committee or subcommittee to hold executive sessions, no committee or subcommittee shall take any final action on any measure or thing before it except in open session.

Handling of Bills

Rule 37. Construction of rules. All provisions of these rules applying to bills shall apply also to resolutions, unless the context requires otherwise.

Rule 38. Introduction of bills. (a) Form of bills. Bills submitted for introduction shall be in the form prescribed by the Joint Committee on Printing. When a bill which is introduced is not in the prescribed form, the Principal Clerk shall cause the bill to be retyped in the prescribed form, and the retyped copy shall become the official copy of the bill for all purposes. The original bill shall then be returned to the introducer of the bill and shall not become a part of the records or documents of the Senate.

(b) When a Public Bill is introduced, twenty duplicate copies thereof shall accompany the bill, or more copies upon order of the Principal Clerk, and twenty duplicate copies shall accompany a local bill.

(c) Public bills. Whenever a public bill is introduced, the Reading Clerk shall stamp one of the duplicate copies with the number stamped upon the original bill. The Principal Clerk shall deliver the duplicate copy of the bill to the agency designated by the Joint Committee on Printing and shall cause 600 copies thereof to be reproduced. Upon delivery of the reproduced copies the Principal Clerk shall cause the Chief Page to have one copy thereof put upon the desk of each member, and a copy in each member's office and shall retain the other copies in his office. A sufficient number of the copies for the use of the committee to which the bill is referred shall be delivered by the Chief Page to the Chairman or Clerk of that Committee. If the bill is passed, the remaining copies shall be delivered by the Chief Page to the Principal Clerk for the use of the House. The cost of reproducing the bills shall be paid from the contingent fund of the Senate.

(d) Local bills. Additional copies of local bills shall be reproduced only at the direction of the Joint Committee on Printing. When that Committee directs that a local bill shall be printed, the procedure shall be the same as for public bills.

Rule 39. Presenting papers to Senate. Every bill, resolution, petition, or memorial presented to the Senate shall contain on the outside cover the title of the document and the name of the Senate or Senators presenting it. All bills, resolutions, petitions, and memorials shall be delivered to the Principal Clerk who shall hand them to the President to be referred. The President shall announce the titles and references of the documents, and this information shall be entered on the Journal.

Rule 40. Deadline on introduction of certain bills. All bills prepared to be introduced by departments, agencies or institutions of the State must be introduced in the Senate not later than April 10 of the session. All local bills must be introduced not later than April 1 of the session. A bill may be introduced by consent at any time during the session.

Rule 41. References of appropriations and finance bills. All bills introduced in the Senate providing for appropriations from the State, or any subdivision thereof, shall, before being considered by the Senate be referred to the committee on Appropriations, and bills referred to other committees carrying any such provisions shall be re-referred to the Senate as being bills to be considered by the Appropriations Committee before proper action may be taken by the Senate. All bills introduced in the Senate providing for bond issues, levying taxes, or in any manner affecting the taxing power of the State or any subdivision thereof, shall before being considered by the Senate, be referred to the Committee on Finance, and bills referred to other committees carrying any such provisions shall be re-referred to the Senate as being bills to be considered by the Finance Committee before proper action may be taken by the Senate.

Rule 42. First reading; reference to committee. All bills shall be read by their titles, which reading shall constitute the first reading of the bills, and unless otherwise disposed of shall be referred to the proper committee.

Rule 43. Bills to receive three readings. Every bill shall receive three readings previous to its being passed, and the President shall give notice at each whether it be the first, second, or third. After the first reading, unless a motion is made by some Senator, the President shall refer the bill to an appropriate committee. No bill shall be amended until it has been twice read.

Rule 44. Reports of Committees. Every Senator presenting a report of a committee shall endorse the report with the name of the committee and, in case of a minority report, with the names of the members making the report. Every report of the committee upon a bill or resolution which is not considered at the time of making the report, or laid on the table by a vote of the Senate, shall stand upon the general orders with the bill or resolution; and the report of the committee shall show that a majority of the committee were present and voted.

Rule 45. Unfavorable report by committee. (a) All bills reported unfavorably by the committee to which they were referred, and having no minority report, shall lie upon the table, but may be taken from the table, and placed upon the calendar by a two-thirds vote of those present and voting.

(b) When a bill is reported by a committee with an unfavorable report, but accompanied by a minority report, the minority report shall be placed on the calendar and considered the following day, and the question before the Senate shall be "The adoption of the Minority Report" and if failing to be adopted by a majority vote, the bill shall be placed upon the unfavorable calendar. Before a minority report can be considered by the Senate, it must be signed by at least three (3) members of the committee who were present and who voted on the bill when the bill was considered in the committee.

Rule 46. Recall of bill from committee. When a bill has been introduced and referred to a committee, if after ten days the committee has failed to report thereon, then the author of the bill may, after three day's public notice given in the Senate, on motion supported by a vote of two-thirds of the Senators present and voting, recall the bill from the committee to the floor of the Senate for consideration and such action thereon as a majority of the Senators present may direct.

Rule 47. Calendar; order to be followed. The President and the Principal Clerk of the Senate shall see that all bills are acted upon by the Senate in the order in which they stand upon the calendar, unless otherwise ordered as hereinafter provided. The published calendar shall include all bills reported favorably from committees, or reported with a minority report attached, or placed on the calendar on motion. Provided, that the published Local Calendar may carry the number of each bill, the county or counties referred to, and an abbreviated statement of the title of the bill.

Rule 48. Considering bills out of regular order. Except as provided in Rule 49, any bill or other matter may be taken up out of order upon order of the President or upon motion sustained by a majority of the membership present and voting.

Rule 49. Third reading requirements. No bill on its third reading shall be acted upon out of the regular order in which it stands on the Calendar, and no bill shall be acted upon on its third reading the same day on which it passed its second reading unless so ordered by two-thirds of the Senators present.

Rule 50. Special orders. Any bill or other matter may be made a special order for a particular day or hour by a vote of the majority of the Senators voting, and if it shall not be completed on that day, it shall be returned to its place on the Calendar, unless it is made a special order for another day; and when a special order is under consideration it shall take precedence over any special order or subsequent order for the day, but such subsequent order may be taken up immediately after the previous special order has been disposed of.

Rule 51. Procedure when necessary number of Senators not present. If, on taking the question on a bill, it appears that a constitutional quorum is not present, or if the bill requires a vote of certain proportion of all the Senators to pass it, and it appears that such number is not present, the bill shall be again read and the question taken thereon; if the bill fails a second time for the want of the necessary number being present and voting, the bill shall not be finally lost, but shall be returned to the calendar in its proper order.

Rule 52. Effect of defeated bill. (a) After a bill has been tabled or has failed to pass on any of its readings, the contents of such bill or the principal provisions of its subject matter shall not be embodied in any other measure. Upon the point of order being raised and sustained by the Chair, such measure shall be laid upon the table, and shall not be taken therefrom except by a vote of two-thirds of the qualified membership of the Senate: Provided, no local bill shall be held by the Chair as embodying the provisions, or being identical with any State wide measure which has been laid upon the table or failed to pass any of its readings.

(b) Bills postponed indefinitely. When a bill has been postponed indefinitely by the Senate, the bill shall lie upon the table, and shall not be taken therefrom except by a vote of two-thirds of the Senators present.

Rule 53. Taking bill from table. No bill which has been laid upon the table shall be taken therefrom except by a vote of two-thirds of the Senators present.

Rule 54. Amending titles of bills. When a bill is materially modified or the scope of its application extended or decreased, or if the county or counties to which it applies is changed, the title of the bill shall be changed by the Senator introducing the bill or by the committee having it in charge, or by the Principal Clerk, so as to indicate the full purport of the bill as amended and the county or counties to which it applies.

Rule 55. Conference committees. Whenever the Senate declines or refuses to concur in amendments put by the House to a bill originating in the Senate, or refuses to adopt a substitute adopted by the House for a bill originating in the Senate, a conference committee shall be appointed upon motion made, consisting of the number named in the motion; and the bill under consideration shall thereupon go to and be considered by the joint conferees on the part of the Senate and House. In considering matters in difference between the Senate and House committed to the conferees only such matters as are in difference between the two houses shall be considered by the conferees, and the conference report shall deal only with such matters. The conference report shall not be amended. Except as herein set out, the rules of the United States House of Representatives shall govern the appointment, conduct, and reports of the conferees.

Rule 56. Engrossment of bills. A Senate bill when amended shall, unless otherwise ordered, be engrossed under the direction of the Principal Clerk and sent to the House with the next Senate message following engrossment: Provided, that when a bill is typewritten and has no interlineations therein, and has passed the Senate without amendment, it shall be sent to the House without engrossment, unless otherwise ordered.

Rule 57. Certification of passage of bills. The Principal Clerk shall certify the passage of bills by the Senate, with the date thereof, together with the fact whether passed by vote of three-fifths or two-thirds of the Senate, whenever such vote may be required by the Constitution or laws of the State.

Rule 58. Transmittal of bills to House. No bill shall be sent from the Senate on the day of its passage except on the last day of the session, unless otherwise ordered by a vote of two-thirds of the Senators present.

Legislative Officers and Employees

Rule 59. Doorkeepers, pages, and laborers. The President shall appoint doorkeepers and pages, and such laborers as may be necessary, and shall assign to them their duties during sessions, and when not in session they shall be under the direction of the Principal Clerk and Sergeant-at-Arms, to perform such duties as are necessary and proper to the conduct of the Senate.

Rule 60. Duties of pages. The pages of the Senate shall be responsible to and under the direction of the President at all times when the Senate is in session, and shall not exceed twenty in number, which page so appointed shall be at least 13 years of age. They shall report to the Principal Clerk at other times to be assigned such duties as he may direct and shall be under his supervision.

Rule 61. Principal Clerk responsible for engrossing office. The office of the Engrossing Clerk is discontinued, and the duties of that officer as heretofore performed by the Engrossing Clerk shall devolve upon the Principal Clerk, who is charged with the responsibility therefor.

Rule 62. Committee Clerks. (a) The President of the Senate and the Principal Clerk shall appoint twenty-five clerks who shall be stenographers to serve as Committee Clerks. The President of the Senate and the Principal Clerk may appoint additional clerks upon the recommendation of the Rules Committee.

(b) All Committee Clerks, when not in attendance upon the direct duties connected with the committee to which they are assigned, shall report to the Principal Clerk of the Senate and, in order to expedite the work of the Senate, shall perform such clerical or stenographic work as may be assigned to them.

Rule 63. Principal Clerk to prepare Journal. The Principal Clerk shall cause the Journal of the Senate to be typewritten in duplicate, original and carbon, the original to be deposited in the office of the Secretary of State as the record, and the other (carbon) copy to be delivered to the State Printer.

Rule 64. Principal Clerk to order supplies. All necessary supplies and stationery for the Senate, its various offices and committees of the Senate shall be purchased upon requisition of the Principal Clerk with the approval of the President of the Senate.

General Rules

Rule 65. President to sign papers. All acts, addresses and resolutions, and all warrants and subpoenas issued by order of the Senate shall be signed by the President.

Rule 66. Privileges of floor. No person except members of the Senate, members of the House of Representatives, Clerks, Pages, Interns and Employees of the General Assembly designated by the President, Judges of the Supreme and Superior Courts, the Governor and Council of State, former members of the General Assembly, and persons particularly invited and extended the privileges of the floor by the President shall be admitted to the floor of the Senate during its Session, provided: No registered lobbyist shall be admitted to the floor of the Senate or Senate Chamber while the Senate is in Session.

Rule 67. Admittance of Press. The President may assign such space or place on the floor of the Senate to representatives of news media desiring to report the proceedings of the Senate in accordance with the regulations filed with the Rules Committee by the President of the Senate. A copy of said regulations shall be filed with the Principal Clerk of the Senate and made available to any member of the Senate or news media upon request.

Rule 68. Absence without leave. No Senator or officer of the Senate shall depart the service of the Senate without leave, or receive pay as a Senator or officer for the time he is absent without leave.

Rule 69. Placing matter on Senator's desks. No papers, writings, pamphlets, or printed matter shall be placed on the desks of the Senators or distributed in the Senate Chamber without approval of the Principal Clerk.

Rule 70. Assignment of Offices. The Chairman of the Rules Committee, subject to the approval of the Committee, is authorized to make assignments from session to session of committee rooms and adjacent offices to designated committees and chairmen and shall do so promptly upon appointment in order to facilitate the organization of the Senate, and shall make assignments of individual offices, subject to the approval of the Committee. In making such assignments of individual offices, the said Chairman shall give preferential consideration to the respective members according to the total length of service which each member has rendered in the General Assembly.

Rule 71. Alterations, suspension or rescission of rules. No rule of the Senate shall be altered, suspended, or rescinded except on a two-thirds vote of the Senators present.

I. Order of Business

Rule 1. Convening Hour. The House shall convene each legislative day at the hour fixed by the House on the preceding legislative day; in the event the House adjourns on the preceding legislative day without having fixed an hour for reconvening, the House shall reconvene on the next legislative day at twelve o'clock noon.

Rule 2. Opening the Session. At the convening hour on each legislative day the Speaker shall call the members to order, and shall have the session opened with prayer.

Rule 3. Quorum. (a) A quorum consists of a majority of the qualified members of the House.

(b) On the point of no quorum's being raised, the doors shall be closed and the Clerk shall call the roll of the House, after which the names of the absentees shall again be called over. Fifteen members, including the Speaker, are authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, and may order that absentees for whom no sufficient excuses are made shall be taken into custody as they appear, or wherever they may be found by special messenger appointed for that purpose.

Rule 4. Approval of Journal. The Committee on the Journal shall examine daily the Journal of the House before the hour of convening to determine if the proceedings of the previous day have been correctly recorded.

Immediately following the opening prayer and upon appearance of a quorum, the Speaker shall call for the report of the Committee on the Journal as to whether or not the proceedings of the previous day have been correctly recorded; the Speaker shall then cause the Journal to be approved. Without objection, the Journal shall stand approved.

Rule 5. Order of Business of the Day. After the approval of the Journal of the preceding day, the House shall proceed to business in the following order:

- (1) The receiving of petitions, memorials and papers addressed to the General Assembly or to the House.
- (2) Reports of standing committees.
- (3) Reports of select committees.
- (4) Introduction of Resolutions.
- (5) Introduction of Bills.
- (6) The unfinished business of the preceding day.
- (7) Bills, resolutions, petitions, memorials, messages, and other papers on the Calendar in their exact numerical order, unless displaced by the order of the day; but messages, and motions to elect officers shall always be in order.
- (8) Reading of Notices and Announcements.

II. Conduct of Debate

Rule 6. Duties and Powers of the Speaker. (a) The Speaker shall have general direction of the Hall. He may name any member to perform the duties of the Chair, but substitution shall not extend beyond one day, except in case of sickness or by leave of the House.

(b) In the event the Speaker, by reason of physical or mental incapacity, is unable to perform the duties of the Chair, the Chairman of the Rules Committee shall be Speaker pro tempore, and shall perform all of the duties of the Speaker until such time as the Speaker may assume the Chair.

Rule 7. Obtaining Floor. (a) When any member desires recognition for any purpose, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address the Speaker. No member shall proceed until recognized by the Speaker.

(b) When a member desires to interrupt a member having the floor, he shall first obtain recognition by the Speaker and permission of the member occupying the floor, and when so recognized and such permission is obtained, he may propound a question to the member occupying the floor; but he shall not propound a series of interrogatories or otherwise interrupt the member having the floor; and the Speaker shall, without the point of order being raised, enforce this rule.

Rule 8. Questions of Personal Privilege. At any time, upon recognition by the Speaker, any member may rise to speak to a question of personal privilege, and upon objection to his proceeding, the Speaker shall determine if the question is one of privilege.

Rule 9. Points of Order. (a) The Speaker shall decide questions of order and may speak to points of order in preference to other members arising from their seats for that purpose. Any member may appeal from the ruling of the Chair on questions of order; on such appeal no member may speak more than once, unless by leave of the House. A two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) vote of the members present shall be necessary to sustain any appeal from the ruling of the Chair.

(b) When the Speaker calls a member to order, the member shall take his seat. A member called to order may clear a matter of fact, or explain, but shall not proceed in debate so long as the decision stands. If the member appeals from the ruling of the Chair and the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he may proceed; if otherwise, he shall not; and if the case, in the judgment of the House require it, he shall be liable to censure by the House.

Rule 10. Limitations on Debate. No member shall speak more than twice on the main question, nor longer than thirty minutes for the first speech and fifteen minutes for the second speech, unless allowed to do so by the affirmative vote of a majority of the members present; nor shall he speak more than once upon an amendment or motion to commit or postpone, and then not longer than ten minutes. But the House may, by consent of a majority of the members present, suspend the operation of this rule during any debate on any particular question before the House, or the Committee on Rules may bring in a special rule that shall be applicable to the debate on any bill.

Rule 11. Reading of papers. When there is a call for the reading of a paper which has been read in the House, and there is objection to such reading, the question shall be determined by a majority vote of the members of the House present.

Rule 12. General Decorum. (a) The Speaker shall preserve order and decorum.

(b) Decency of speech shall be observed and personal reflection carefully avoided.

(c) When the Speaker is putting any question, or addressing the House, no person shall speak, stand up, walk out of or cross the House, nor when a member is speaking, entertain private discourse, stand up, or pass between the member and the Chair.

(d) Smoking or the consumption of food or beverages shall not be permitted on the floor of the House while the House is in session.

(e) Smoking or the consumption of food or beverages shall not be permitted in the galleries at any time.

III. Motions

Rule 13. Motions Generally. (a) Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker or any two members request it.

(b) When a motion is made, it shall be stated by the Speaker, or, if written, it shall be handed to the Chair and read aloud by the Speaker or Clerk before debate.

(c) After a motion has been stated by the Speaker or read by the Speaker or Clerk, it shall be in the possession of the House; but it may be withdrawn before a decision or amendment, except in case of a motion to reconsider, which motion, when made by a member shall be in possession of the House and shall not be withdrawn without leave of the House.

Rule 14. Motions, Order of Precedence. When there are motions before the House, the order of precedence is as follows:

Previous question

To adjourn

To lay on the table

To postpone indefinitely

To postpone to a day certain

To commit

To amend an amendment

To amend

To substitute

To pass the bill

No motion to lay on the table, to postpone indefinitely, to postpone to a day certain, to commit or to amend, being decided, shall be again allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

Rule 15. Motion to Adjourn. (a) A motion to adjourn shall be seconded before the motion is put to the vote of the House.

(b) A motion to adjourn shall be decided without debate, and shall always be in order, except when the House is voting or some member is speaking; but a motion to adjourn shall not follow a motion to adjourn until debate or some other business of the House has intervened.

Rule 16. Motion to Table. (a) A motion to table shall be seconded before the motion is put to the vote of the House, and is always in order except when a motion to adjourn is before the House.

(b) A motion to table shall be decided without debate.

(c) A motion to table a bill shall constitute a motion to table the bill and all amendments thereto.

(d) A motion to table an amendment sent up from the floor shall not be construed as a motion to table the principal bill or any other amendment which has been offered thereto, and if such motion is carried, only the amendment shall lie upon the table.

(e) When a question has been tabled, the same shall not be acted upon again during the session except by two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) vote.

Rule 17. Motion to Postpone Indefinitely. A motion to postpone indefinitely is always in order except when a motion to adjourn or to lay on the table is before the House; however, after one motion to postpone indefinitely has been decided, another motion to postpone indefinitely shall not be allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition. When a question has been postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be acted on again during the session, except upon a two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) vote.

Rule 18. Motion to Reconsider. (a) When a motion has been once made and decided in the affirmative or negative, it is in order for any member of the majority to move for the reconsideration thereof, on the same or succeeding legislative day, unless it may have subsequently passed the Senate; Provided, that unless the vote by which the motion was originally decided was taken by a call of the ayes and noes, any member may move to reconsider.

(b) A motion to reconsider shall be determined by a majority vote, except a motion to reconsider a motion tabling a motion to reconsider, which shall require a two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) vote.

IV. Previous Question

Rule 19. Previous Question. The previous question may be called only by the members submitting the report on the bill or other matter under consideration, by the member introducing the bill or other matter under consideration, or by the member in charge of the measure, who shall be designated by the chairman of the committee reporting the same to the House at the time the bill or other matter under consideration is reported to the House or taken up for consideration.

Rule 20. Form and Effect of Previous Question. (a) The previous question shall be as follows: "Shall the main question now be put?" When the call for the previous question has been decided in the affirmative by a majority vote of the House, the "main question" is on the passage of the bill, resolution or other matter under consideration, including all pending amendments. If amendments are pending, the question shall be taken upon such amendments in inverse order.

(b) The call for the previous question shall preclude all motions, amendments and debate, except the motion to adjourn made prior to the determination of the previous question. Should the motion to adjourn be made prior to the determination of the previous question, the House shall vote first on the motion to adjourn and then, if the motion to adjourn fails, the members shall vote on the call for the previous question.

(c) If the previous question is decided in the negative, the main question remains under debate.

V. Voting

Rule 21. Stating Questions. (a) The Speaker shall rise to put a question.

(b) The question shall be put in this form, namely, "Those in favor (as the question may be) will say 'Aye'," and after the affirmation voice has been expressed, "Those opposed will say 'No'."

(c) Any member may call for a question to be divided into two or more propositions to be voted on separately, and the Speaker shall determine whether the question admits of such a division.

Rule 22. Determining Question. Unless otherwise provided by the Constitution of North Carolina, all questions shall be determined by the members present and voting.

Rule 23. Voting by Division. Any member may call for a division of the members upon the question before the result of the vote has been announced. Upon a call for a division, the Speaker shall cause the number voting in the affirmative and in the negative to be determined. Upon a division and count of the House on any question, no member out of his seat shall be counted.

Rule 24. Roll Call Vote. (a) Before a question is put, any member may call for the ayes and noes. If the call is sustained by one-fifth ($1/5$) of the members present, the question shall be decided by the ayes and noes upon a roll call vote, taken alphabetically.

(b) Every member who is in the hall of the House when the question is put shall give his vote upon a call of the ayes and noes, unless the House for special reasons shall excuse him, and no application to be excused from voting or to explain a vote shall be entertained unless made before the call of the roll.

Rule 25. Voting by Absentees. (a) No member shall vote on any question when he was not present when the question was put by the Speaker, except by the consent of the House.

(b) If any member is necessarily absent on temporary business of the House when a vote is taken upon any question, upon entering the House he shall be permitted, on request, to vote, provided that the result shall not be affected thereby.

(c) When a member who is present is paired with an absent member, he shall, when his name is called on a roll call vote, announce the pair, which shall be recorded by the Principal Clerk.

Rule 26. Voting by Speaker. In all elections the Speaker may vote. In all other instances he may exercise his right to vote, or he may reserve this right until there is a tie, but in no instance may he vote twice on the same question.

VI. Committees

Rule 27. Committees Generally. (a) All committees shall be appointed by the Speaker, unless otherwise specially ordered by the House.

(b) Any member may excuse himself from serving on any committee if he is a member of two standing committees.

(c) The Chairman and five other members of any committee shall constitute a quorum of that committee for the transaction of business.

(d) In any joint meeting of the Senate and House committees, the House Committee may in its discretion reserve the right to vote separately.

Rule 28. Appointment of Standing Committees. (a) At the commencement of the session the Speaker shall appoint a standing committee on each of the following subjects, namely:

Agriculture.

Appropriations.

Banks and Banking.

Commercial Fisheries and Oyster Industry.

Commissions and Institutions for the Blind.

Congressional Districts.

Conservation and Development.

Constitutional Amendments.

Corporations.
Counties, Cities and Towns.
Courts and Judicial Districts.
Education.
Elections and Election Laws.
Employment Security.
Enrolled Bills and Expenditures of the House.
Federal and Interstate Cooperation.
Finance.
Health.
Higher Education.
Highway Safety.
Institutions for the Deaf.
Insurance.
Irrigation and Drainage.
Journal.
Judiciary No. 1.
Judiciary No. 2.
Justices of the Peace.
Library (Joint).
Local Government.
Manufacturers and Labor.
Mental Health.
Military and Veteran's Affairs.
Penal Institutions.
Printing.
Propositions and Grievances.
Public Buildings and Grounds.
Public Utilities.
Public Welfare.
Roads.
Rules.
Salaries and Fees.
Senatorial Districts.
State Government.
State Personnel.
Trustees of the University.
Water Resources and Control.
Wildlife Resources.

(b) The first member announced on each committee shall be chairman, and where the Speaker so desires he may designate a co-chairman and one or more vice-chairmen.

Rule 29. Standing Committee Meetings. (a) Standing committees and sub-committees of standing committees shall be furnished with suitable meeting places.

(b) Subject to the provisions of sub-sections (c) and (d) of this Rule, standing committees and subcommittees thereof shall permit other members of the General Assembly, the press, and the general public to attend all sessions of said committees or subcommittees.

(c) The chairman or other presiding officer shall have general direction of the meeting place of the committee or subcommittee and, in case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct therein, or if the peace, good order, and proper conduct of the legislative business is hindered by any individual or individuals, the chairman or presiding officer shall have power to exclude from the session any individual or individuals so hindering the legislative business or, if necessary, to order the meeting place cleared of all persons not members of the committee or subcommittee.

(d) Upon the affirmative vote of a majority of the members of any standing committee or subcommittee, executive sessions may be held, but in no event shall final action be taken in executive sessions.

(e) Procedure in the committees shall be governed by the rules of the House, so far as the same may be applicable to such procedure.

Rule 30. Committee Hearings. The Chairmen of all committees shall notify, or cause to be notified, the first named introducer on such bills as are set for hearing before their respective committees as to the date, time and place of such hearing.

Rule 31. Committee of the Whole House. (a) A Committee of the Whole House shall not be formed, except by suspension of the rules, if there be objections by any member.

(b) After passage of a motion to form a Committee of the Whole House, the Speaker shall appoint a chairman to preside in committee, and the Speaker shall leave the Chair.

(c) The rules of procedure in the House shall be observed in the Committee of the Whole House, so far as they may be applicable, except the rule limiting the time of speaking and the previous question.

(d) In the Committee of the Whole House a motion that the committee rise shall always be in order, except when a member is speaking, and shall be decided without debate.

(e) When a bill is submitted to the Committee of the Whole House, it shall be read and debated by sections, leaving the preamble to be last considered. The body of the bill shall not be defaced or interlined, but all amendments, noting the page and line, shall be duly entered by the Clerk on a separate paper as the same shall be agreed to by the committee, and so reported to the House. After report, the bill shall again be subject to be debated and amended by sections before a question on its passage be taken.

VII. Handling of Bills

Rule 32. Reference to Committee. Each bill not introduced on the report of a committee shall immediately upon its introduction be referred by the Speaker to such committee as he deems appropriate.

Rule 33. Introduction of Bills and Resolutions. (a) Every bill shall be introduced in regular order of business, except upon permission of the Speaker or on the report of a committee.

(b) Any member introducing a bill or resolution shall briefly endorse thereon the substance of the same.

Rule 34. Papers Addressed to the House. Petitions, memorials and other papers addressed to the House shall be presented by the Speaker; a brief statement of the contents thereof may be verbally made by the introducer before reference to a committee, but such papers shall not be debated or decided on the day of their first being read, unless the House shall direct otherwise.

Rule 35. Introduction of Bills, Copies Required. (a) Whenever any resolution or bill is introduced, a carbon copy thereof shall be attached thereto, and the Principal Clerk shall cause said carbon copy to be numbered as the original resolution or bill is numbered, and shall cause the same to be available at all times to the member introducing the same.

(b) Whenever a public bill is introduced, it shall be in such form and have such copies accompanying same as designated by the Speaker, and any bill submitted without the required number of copies shall be immediately returned to the introducer. The Clerk shall stamp the copies with the number stamped upon the original bill.

Rule 36. Duplicating of Bills. The Principal Clerk shall cause such bills as are introduced to be duplicated in such numbers as may be specified by the Speaker. On the morning following the delivery of the copies, the Chief Clerk shall cause the Chief Page to have one copy put upon the desk of each member, one copy put in the office of each member, and shall retain the other copies in his office. A sufficient number of copies for the use of the committee to which the bill is referred shall be delivered to the chairman or clerk of that committee by the Chief Page. If the bill is passed by the House, the Chief Clerk shall deliver the remaining copies to the Principal Clerk of the Senate for the use of the Senate.

(b) The cost of duplicating shall be paid from the contingent fund of the House of Representatives.

Rule 37. Report by Committee. All bills and resolutions shall be reported from the committee to which referred, with such recommendations as the committee may desire to make.

(a) Favorable Report. When a committee reports a bill with the recommendation that it be passed, the bill shall be placed on the favorable calendar.

(b) Report Without Prejudice. When a committee reports a bill without prejudice, the bill shall be placed on the favorable calendar.

(c) Unfavorable Report. When a committee reports a bill with the recommendation that it be not passed, and no minority report accompanies it, the bill shall be placed on the unfavorable calendar.

(d) Minority Report. When a bill is reported by a committee with a recommendation that it be not passed, but it is accompanied by a minority report signed by at least one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) of the members of the committee who were present and voting when the bill was considered in committee, the question before the House shall be: "The adoption of the minority report." If the minority report is adopted by majority vote, the bill shall be placed on the favorable calendar for consideration. If the minority report fails of adoption by a majority vote, the bill shall be placed on the unfavorable calendar.

Rule 38. Removing Bill from Unfavorable Calendar. A bill may be removed from the unfavorable calendar upon motion carried by a two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) vote. A motion to remove a bill from the unfavorable calendar is not debatable; but the movant may, before making the motion, make a brief and concise statement, not more than five minutes in length, of the reasons for the motion.

Rule 39. Reports on Appropriation and Revenue Bills. All committees, other than the Committee on Appropriations, when favorably reporting any bill which carries an appropriation from the State, shall indicate same in the report, and said bill shall be referred to the Committee on Appropriations for a further report before being acted upon by the House. All committees, other than the Committee on Finance, when favorably reporting any bill which in any way or manner raises revenue or levies a tax or authorizes the issue of bonds or notes, whether public, public-local, or private, shall indicate same in the report, and said bill shall be referred to the Committee on Finance for a further report before being acted upon by the House.

Rule 40. Recall of Bill from Committee. When a bill has been introduced and referred to a committee, if after ten days the committee has failed to report thereon, then the introducer of the bill or some member designated by him may, after three days' public notice given in the House, on motion supported by a vote of two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) of the members present and voting, recall the same from the committee to the floor of the House for consideration and such action thereon as a majority of the members present may direct.

Rule 41. Calendars. The Clerk of the House shall keep a separate calendar of the public, local, and private bills, and shall number them in the order in which they are introduced, and all bills shall be disposed of in the order they stand upon the Calendar; but the Committee on Rules may at any time arrange the order of precedence in which bills may be considered.

Rule 42. Readings of Bills. (a) Every bill shall receive three readings in the House prior to its passage. The introduction of the bill shall constitute its first reading, and the Speaker shall give notice at each subsequent reading whether it be the second or third reading.

(b) No bill shall be read more than once on the same day without the concurrence of two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) of the members present and voting.

Rule 43. Effect of Defeated Bill. (a) Subject to the provisions of subsection (b) of this Rule, after a bill has been tabled or has failed to pass on any of its readings, the contents of such bill or the principal provisions of its subject matter shall not be embodied in any other measure. Upon the point of order being raised and sustained by the Chair, such measure shall be laid upon the table, and shall not be taken therefrom except by a two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) vote.

(b) No local bill shall be held by the Chair to embody the provisions of or to be identical with any statewide measure which has been laid upon the table, or failed to pass any of its readings.

Rule 44. Amendments and Riders. No amendment or rider to a bill before the House shall be in order unless such rider or amendment is germane to the bill under consideration.

Rule 45. Conference Committees. (a) Whenever the House shall decline or refuse to concur in amendments put by the Senate to a bill originating in the House, or shall refuse to adopt a substitute adopted by the Senate for a bill originating in the House, a conference committee shall be appointed upon motion made, consisting of the number named in the motion; and the bill under consideration shall thereupon go to and be considered by the joint conferees on the part of the House and Senate.

(b) Only such matters as are in difference between the two houses shall be considered by the conferees, and the conference report shall deal only with such matters. The conference report shall not be amended.

(c) Except as herein set out, the rules of the House of Representatives of Congress shall govern the appointment, conduct, and reports of the conferees.

VIII. Legislative Officers and Employees

Rule 46. Elected Officers. The House shall elect a Principal Clerk, a Reading Clerk, and a Sergeant-at-Arms. The Principal Clerk shall continue in office until another is elected.

Rule 47. Assistants to Principal Clerk and Sergeant-at-Arms. The Principal Clerk and the Sergeant-at-Arms may appoint, with the approval of the Speaker, such assistants as may be necessary to the efficient discharge of the duties of their various offices. One or more of such assistants may be assigned by the Speaker from the Principal Clerk's office to the office of the Attorney General for the purpose of drafting bills.

Rule 48. Speaker's Clerk, Chaplain and Pages. (a) The Speaker may appoint a Clerk to the Speaker, a Chaplain of the House, and he may also appoint fifteen pages to wait upon the sessions of the House; when the pressure of business may require, the Speaker may appoint five additional pages.

(b) When the House is not in session, the pages shall be under the supervision of the Principal Clerk.

Rule 49. Committee Clerks. (a) The Chairman of each of the following committees may, with the approval of the Speaker, appoint a clerk to his committee: Agriculture; Appropriations; Banks and Banking; Congressional Districts; Commercial Fisheries and Oyster Industry; Conservation and Development; Constitutional Amendments; Corporations; Counties, Cities and Towns; Courts and Judicial Districts; Education; Elections and Election Laws; Employment Security; Federal and Interstate Cooperation; Finance; Health; Higher Education; Highway Safety; Insurance; Judiciary No. 1; Judiciary No. 2; Local Government; Manufacturers and Labor; Mental Health; Penal Institutions; Propositions and Grievances; Public Utilities; Public Welfare; Roads; Rules; Salaries and Fees; State Government; State Personnel; Trustees of the University; Water Resources and Control; and Wildlife Resources.

(b) Whenever the Speaker deems it advisable, he may assign a clerk to act for two or more committees.

(c) The leader of the minority party may, with the approval of the Speaker, be assigned a clerk.

(d) By and with the consent and approval of the Chairman of any of the above committees, the clerk of said committee may be assigned to special duty with other committees under the supervision of the Principal Clerk of the House.

Rule 50. Compensation of Clerks. No clerk, laborer, or other person employed or appointed under Rules 47, 48, and 49 hereof shall receive during such employment, appointment, or service any compensation from any department of the State Government, or from any other source, and there shall not be voted, paid or awarded any additional pay, bonus or gratuity to any of them, but they shall receive only the pay now provided by law for such duties and services.

IX. Privileges of the Hall

Rule 51. Admittance to Floor. No person except members, officers and employees of the General Assembly, Judges of the Supreme and Superior Courts, State officers and former members of the General Assembly who are not registered under the provisions of Article 9 of Chapter 120 of the General Statutes of North Carolina shall be allowed on the floor of the House during its session, unless permitted by the Speaker.

Rule 52. Admittance of Press. Reporters wishing to take down debates may be admitted by the Speaker, who shall assign such places to them on the floor or elsewhere, to effect this object, as shall not interfere with the convenience of the House.

Rule 53. Extending Courtesies. Courtesies of the floor, galleries or lobby shall not be extended by the Speaker on behalf of any member except upon the Speaker's motion and by written request.

Rule 54. Order in Galleries and Lobby. In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the galleries or lobby, the Speaker or other presiding officer is empowered to order the same to be cleared.

X. General Rules

Rule 55. Attendance of Members. No member or officer of the House shall absent himself from the service of the House without leave, unless from sickness or disability.

Rule 56. Documents to be Signed by the Speaker. All Acts, addresses, and Resolutions and all warrants and subpoenas issued by order of the House shall be signed by the Speaker or Presiding Officer.

Rule 57. Placement of Material on Members' Desks. Persons other than members of the General Assembly, officers or staff thereof shall not place or cause to be placed any material on members' desks without obtaining approval of the Speaker or the Principal Clerk. Any printed material so placed shall bear the name of the originator.

Rule 58. Rules, Rescission and Alteration. (a) No standing rule or order shall be rescinded or altered without one day's notice given on the motion thereof, and to sustain such motion two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) of the House shall be required.

(b) Except as otherwise provided herein, the House upon two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) vote of the members present and voting may temporarily suspend any rule.

DAVIDSON

Davidson County was formed in 1822 from Rowan. Was named in honor of General William Lee Davidson, a soldier of the Revolution, who was killed at the Battle of Cowan's Ford. When General Greene retreated across North Carolina before Cornwallis in 1781, he stationed some troops under General Davidson at Cowan's Ford over the Catawba River to delay the British Army. The British attacked the Americans, killed General Davidson, and forced the passage. The United States has erected a monument in his honor on Guilford Battleground.

PENDER

Pender County was formed in 1875 from New Hanover. Was named in honor of General William D. Pender of Edgecombe County, a brave Confederate soldier who was killed at the battle of Gettysburg. The last order ever given by the famous "Stonewall" Jackson on the battlefield was to General Pender: "You must hold your ground, General Pender, you must hold your ground," he cried as he was carried off the field to die. General Pender held his ground.

WAKE

Wake County was formed in 1771 from Johnston, Cumberland, and Orange. Was named in honor of Governor Tryon's wife, whose maiden name was Margaret Wake. Some historians say that the county was named for "Ester Wake," the popular sister of Tryon's wife, but there is no reason to suppose that any such person ever existed. She is surely a creature of the imagination.
